THE BETTER WAY.

One certain way to stop Furniture Imports into the Saorstat is for Traders to bring their customers to our Showrooms and let them see the latest examples of "OD" Furniture. Those of the public who are brought here are always impressed, and usually express surprise that such beautiful Furniture has actually been made in Dublin, and that it can be sold so reasonably.

Traders can quote exceptionally keen prices to their customers for goods selected in our Showrooms because they bear no overhead charges or other expenses, consequently the gain to the public is mighty obvious.

Do the "correct thing"—ask your House Furnisher to bring you in here. And when you come you will be glad you came.

GARDEN, FARM, BEES, ETC.

CHIONOXDA LUCILLAE.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Garden Correspondent says:—Chionoxda Lucillae, the Glory of the Snow, in the moister position at the foot of the rockery is, of course, indispensable, for what rock gardener could be without a little colony of this intensely blue gem, so often endorsing its name, chion-snow, and doxa-glory, by peeping up through a white mantle, especially with bulbs to be had at a penny each, with the first cost the only cost, for in our experience they go on for ever, that is under rockery protection, for as border subjects, with much digging and delving, the lovely things are apt to be worried out of existence. It is a comparatively modern introduction from the Island of Crete, and well we recollect the sensation it made when first seen in Irish gardens.

POULTRY, CAGE BIRDS, DAIRY.

CHOICE OF BREEDS FOR CONFINEMENT.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Poultry Correspondent says:—Those who keep their fowls on the intensive or semi-intensive system should keep birds of an active disposition that will not become over-fat. Leghorns suit this description, but the black or brown variety should be kept, as white fowls become very dirty. We prefer one of the sitting breeds that are not very broodily inclined, such as Rhodes or Barnevelders. Minorcas were always the ideal backyarders' fowls if a good strain of layers could be obtained. And here we might say that strain is even more important than breed.

Whatever breed the decision rests on, care should be taken that the strain is a good one, for there are bad and indifferent layers in every breed. When a breed or strain of fowls has been found suited, keep to it, but make a trial of several till this is reached.

Unsatisfactory dealing by any Advertiser in this column should be immediately reported to the Manager of the "Irish Times." 10/12/'29

THE PARISH OF NEWCASTLE.

INDUCTION OF NEW RECTOR.

The Rev. Malcolm Moore-Graham, M.A., was inducted as Rector of Newcastle, Co. Wicklow, yesterday evening. There was a very large congregation, and the clergy present included the Rectors of Newcastle, Greystones, Glenealy, Newtown, etc. The ceremony was carried out by the Archdeacon of Glendalough, assisted by Mr. Robinson, Registrar of the Church of Ireland.

After the singing of the hymn, "Lord of the Church," the Special Lesson, Acts xvii. was read by the Rev. W. Rainsford, Rector of Glenealy.

Addressing the Rector and the congregation, the Archdeacon said that they met that day with one object in view—to institute one with the cure of souls in the Parish of Newcastle. He pointed out that the parish was an extremely ancient and interesting one, St. Patrick himself having landed there in the year 432. The church dated back to the seventeenth century, and the parish was the summer residence of the Viceroy of Ireland for very many years. It was also a famous garrison town many centuries ago.

The laity of to-day, he said, had fixed a very high standard for their clergy, and he wished to emphasise the necessity for the clergy to visit their parishioners as often as possible and thus become more intimate with them generally, as the efficiency of every parish resulted from the amount of sympathy which existed between the Rector and the laity.

He asked the congregation to assist the Rector by regularity of attendance at their place of worship, and never under any circumstances to be apathetic, as he considered that that was the worst conceivable complaint from which a parish could suffer. No relationship was so blessed as that which existed between a pastor and his flock. He prayed that the new Rector would have many years of successful ministry, and that a spirit of sympathy would always exist between him and his parishioners.

After the ceremony the Archdeacon pronounced the Benediction.

DUBLIN DISTILLERS COMPANY.

DIFFICULTIES OF THE WHISKEY TRADE.

VIGOROUS POLICY OF THE BOARD.

The meeting of the Dublin Distillers Company, Limited, was held in the Engineers's Hall, Dublin, yesterday. Mr. Henry J. Molony, K.C., Chairman, presided, and the other directors in attendance were:—Messrs. Martin Coles Harman, H. R. S. Aldom, and J. W. Levingston, managing director. Mr. Joseph Devlin, M.P., was prevented by illness from being present.

Moving the adoption of the report and statement of accounts, the Chairman said that the loss in the current year had been met by paying the debenture interests, amounting to £7,650, out of general reserve, and the trading loss out of special reserve. The total reserve now stood at £39,567. The total loss for the year was £21,047.

Total stocks of whiskey, casks, etc., at a conservative basis, were valued at £362,080, approximately £6,000 less than last year, when their stocks of bottled whiskey had fallen to a low ebb; but this year they had in hand a much larger stock of bottled and cased whiskey to enable them the more readily to meet the demand of their markets. Expenditure for trade charged over the year had been exceptionally heavy.

INCREASED SALES.

In the home markets the general decline in consumption had not ceased, but they had explored conditions abroad with the view to developing export trade. To that end they had spent a very considerable sum in a publicity campaign, and also in exploring foreign markets. The result of that campaign was not yet effective, but they had put the whole expense against the revenue for the year. The difficulties they had to contend with, by reason of the number of distilleries in process of liquidation and their stocks available at non-competitive prices, were being cured by time, and the amount of stocks of D.W.D. whiskey released from bond for customers during the year showed an increase of 25 per cent. In face of these and many other difficulties, their sales had increased during the year by 18 per cent.—a claim that, he thought, could not be made by any other distillery. The increase in sales for the twelve months up to the 31st March last was actually 46 per cent., but in the last three months of the year the rate of progress fell away to the great disappointment of the directors.

They had carefully examined the whole situation, and had taken steps to remedy it, and they looked forward to an immediate resumption of an increase, because they had an article to sell which could not be excelled, and which was guaranteed in age and quality in their own bottlings. The directors had satisfied themselves that there were openings abroad, and that the prospects in certain quarters were sufficient to justify them in persisting in the efforts in which they were engaged. They were facing the future with courage and a vigorous determination to succeed.

CHANGE IN CHAIRMANSHIP.

Mr. M. C. Harman seconded the resolution, and said that he was no longer Chairman of the company, as he had come to the conclusion that the chairmanship should be in the hands of a man who was in Dublin. They were all pleased that Mr. Moloney had consented to take the chair. They all felt disappointed at the results achieved during the year, but the only attitude to adopt was that taken by the Chairman—an attitude of frankness, facing the situation and telling all the difficulties. He was delighted that the Chairman had intimated that the directors would meet the shareholders again in six months' time in order that they might be more closely in touch with conditions. The results were very disappointing to him, as representing big shareholders in London, but, at the same time, they had to admit that in the Dublin Distillers Company they had men who were throwing their hearts and souls into the business in a way that defied criticism. The whiskey trade had undoubtedly undergone a tremendous change in recent years, and the profits were not derived by the shareholders, but by Governments, who took enormous taxes, and made twenty times as much as the shareholders. However, it was possible to face up to these conditions, and the Chairman had given them an idea how matters were to be faced up to. The situation called for the utmost economy, and the Board were alive to that fact. Any person in their employment showing initiative would be encouraged, and they had recently taken a man into the business who had very big experience, and was being given every opportunity to show what he could do.

A discussion followed, in which shareholders expressed disappointment at the showing of the year's business, and urged that an advisory committee of shareholders should be called upon to assist the Board. An amendment to this effect was moved. The chairman pointed out that the directors were willing and anxious that the shareholders should approach them at any time with suggestions as to the conduct of the business in which they were all so keenly interested.

The amendment was put to the meeting, and though a majority of those present favoured its adoption, the Chairman said that a poll would be needed. The proposer of the amendment withdrew his motion, as the proxies held by the Board in their favour would defeat the amendment. The amendment was then moved by another shareholder, put by the Chairman, and declared lost amidst protests by some of those present.

He then put the original motion that the report and statement of accounts be adopted, and this was carried without further discussion.

Mr. Joseph Devlin, M.P., retiring director, was unanimously re-elected to the Board on the motion of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. Harman, and the meeting added an expression of hope that Mr. Devlin would quickly recover from his illness to give his valued services to the Board.

Messrs. Craig Gardner and Company were re-elected auditors, and the meeting ended.

INFANT AID IN DUBLIN.

It was reported at the monthly meeting of the Infant Aid Society, Dublin, held on Wednesday—Dr. R. J. White in the chair—that 2,363 visits were paid during the month, 82 garments were distributed, 48,702 pints of milk were distributed free, and 5,207 pints were sold at a reduced rate.

HISTORIC MANSION BURGLED.

HAUL OF SILVER.

Dumpton Hall, a historic mansion, near Broadstairs, was broken into by burglars on Thursday night and a quantity of silver and other articles was stolen.

Sir Charles Neish, Registrar of the Privy Council, and Lady Neish, had taken the mansion for the summer, and, with Colonel Neish and six servants, were in residence when the burglary took place.

The burglars succeeded in getting away with a number of silver articles, such as candlesticks, a travelling clock, and a silver flask, which was a present to Sir Charles from Lady Neish. They broke open several cabinets, but the contents did not tempt them. They found some coins in one of the cabinets, but apparently because they were German marks they left them lying on a Chesterfield. On the billiard-room table an instrument was found which evidently had been used in effecting an entrance through the diningroom window.

Lady Neish told a Press Association reporter that, as she had not been well lately, the light was burning in her room. She was awake most of the night with her maid, but neither of them heard anything unusual.

"I think it is probable that the man or men were disturbed by hearing my maid and myself talking," said Lady Neish. "They must have spent some time here, as they helped themselves to sherry and biscuits and left a trail of crumbs behind them.

"The visitors ignored all the silver plate, but took a quantity of cigars and cigarettes which Sir Charles had left on the kitchen mantelpiece to dry, as they had become damp."

Dumpton Hall is in a somewhat lonely position, being surrounded by three and a half acres of grounds, thickly wooded in places.

MIMIC WARFARE IN WILTSHIRE.

BRILLIANT WORK BY TANKS AND AIRMEN.

A brilliant performance by tanks marked yesterday's battle between "Eastland" and "Westland" forces in the Wiltshire mimic warfare.

Medium and light tanks, operating with the Westland forces, made a sortie, passed clean through one of the flanks of the defending army, and captured an ammunition column, two batteries of guns, a company of infantry and some cavalry, before being brought to a stand-still by the 83rd Field Brigade R.A. It was a thrilling movement, equalled only by a battle between some Eastland tanks and Westland armoured fighting vehicles, which resulted in the rout of the latter and the annihilation of a battalion of Westland infantry.

By this time the opposing forces had become so intermixed that the Director of Operations deemed it an appropriate moment to call a truce, and the combatants returned to camp to rest in readiness for another battle during the week-end.

The Air Force rendered valuable assistance to both armies, although at times they were badly handicapped by poor visibility. Eastland airmen reported having dropped two and a quarter tons of bombs on the Westland main column.

SMALLPOX IN THE HOP FIELDS.

TWO MORE CASES CERTIFIED.

The number of smallpox cases in the Kent hopfields has now risen to ten. Eight cases were reported on Thursday and two more were certified yesterday.

Dr. S. M. Galbraith, medical officer for South-West Kent, told a reporter last night that he was having a very busy time in the hop fields in consequence of the outbreak.

"These cases have been brought to Kent from Bethnal Green," he said, "and we feel that the London County Council ought to help us out. It is as much their problem as it is ours. There are over a thousand people from London down here who will have to be watched, and it is a great strain on us to carry out the work. The Salvation Army representatives who are here are doing wonderfully well. They are helping us in every way."

Dr. Galbraith added that it would be much better for all concerned if the L.C.C. would agree to co-operate with the local authority, so that the work of isolation could be systematised. "These people," he went on, "want to get back to London hospitals as soon as the disease shows itself, but it would be much better if we could isolate them here first, and then send them back to London later."

Dr. Vynne Borland, M.O.H. for Bethnall Green, said that the question of assistance from the L.C.C. was a matter of policy. Great problems were involved, he said, and he understood that the whole matter was under consideration.

The possibility of Mr. Henry Ford's combining business and pleasure in a trip embracing a visit to England was learned on inquiry of the motor manufacturers' entourage to-day. The primary object of the trip, apart from relaxation, is stated to be a review of the German, Belgian and Dutch Ford plants, but Mr. Ford has so far refused to gratify the curiosity of the Press, who would like to know what truth there is in the rumours of a proposed increase of output and the establishment of a factory in this country.

The reason why Mr. Ford took twelve hours to drive from Cherbourg to Paris in one of his own "Lincoln" cars became known to-day, when it transpired that he lingered by the wayside to watch agricultural France at work. LORD EUSTACE PERCY AND REFERENDUM.

"I CAN NO LONGER SUPPORT IT."

Lord Eustace Percy, M.P. for Hastings, in a letter to the Chairman of the Hastings Conservative Association, says:—"The Conservative Party has proposed to treat import duties on foodstuffs in a special way, to give the electorate some special opportunity to vote upon them by referendum or otherwise. But this does not mean that such duties are more dangerous than import duties on manufactured goods, or schemes for the more direct regulation of trade in foodstuffs.

"It simply means that if such duties are to be made the basis of agreements with our Dominions, the more solemnly they are ratified the better. It means, too, that a political party which is asking the country to accept a very big and very novel policy may reasonably undertake, to begin with, to submit certain specially important measures to special ratification by the people.

IMPOSITION OF DUTIES.

"As you know, I have hitherto supported the idea of a referendum on these grounds, but I have now come to the conclusion that I can no longer support it. I have come to this conclusion because of a consideration which seems to me to out-weigh all others.

"It seems to me that the only way I can present a clear issue to my constituents at Hastings is by refusing to be bound by detailing pledges one way or the other. I do not regard import duties on foreign foodstuffs as a panacea for our ills, and I should be most careful about voting such duties. I shall certainly refuse to pledge myself to impose any particular duty. On the other hand, I must claim freedom to vote for the imposition of any duties on foodstuffs as on manufactrued articles which may, in my judgment, be necessary."

Lord Eustace Percy was President of the Board of Education in the last Consevative Government from 1924-29. He has represented Hastings since 1921.

DUBLIN SKIN AND CANCER HOSPITAL.

The monthly meeting of the City of Dublin Skin and Cancer Hospital, Hume street, Dublin, was held at Hume street last Thursday, Mr. M. J. A. Purtill presiding.

Messrs. M. J. O'Connor and J. T. Wood Latimer were chosen Visiting Governors for the month.

The reports of the House and Finance Committee were submitted, and cheques passed for the necessary expenditure.

The report of the Medical Superintendent (Dr. Andrew Charles, F.R.C.S.) showed an attendance of 75 intern patients, 683 extern patients, 358 for light treatment, and 62 for Erlangen treatment.

The Matron desires to thank the following, who sent gifts of fruit, flowers, periodicals, and tin-foil: — Mr. Connolly, Mrs. Kenny, Mrs. Hughes, Miss Johnson, the staff of Messrs. Phillips Lamps, Ltd.; Miss Doyle, Miss Jesse, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. W. H. Knapp, and Miss Johnstone

The Committee urgently appeal for donations and subscriptions to enable them to extend the benefits of the hospital, which is entirely without endowments, and which, during the past ten years, has treated over 4,000 intern and over 14,000 extern patients, most of the extern patients being treated free. Public support alone will allow the benefits of the hospital to be further extended to poor patients.

The hospital is provided with the most modern appliances for the treatment of cancer and skin diseases; all forms of light treatments are available, and no other hospital in the British Isles in equipped with a more modern or complete plant.

The hospital at present is in need of a large sum for the purchase of radium to enable it to follow up the new curative process. Each milligramme of radium costs £12, and a minimum of 140 milligrammes (costing £1,700) is required to enable every variety of cancer to be treated. As, however, radium is imperishable, any money spent on it will serve as a permanent endowment.

The public are requested not to throw away empty toothpaste or other lead tubes, but to send them to the hospital, where they will be disposed of for the benefit of poor cancer patients. Subscriptions should be addressed to the secretary.

EUGENIC REPORT.

SIR ARTHUR KEITH'S VIEWS.

Sir Arthur Keith, speaking last night at a meeting at Hinton St. Mary, Dorset, in connection with the conference there of International Eugenic Organisations, said the eugenic reform was of the highest importance to every civilised country. "If eugenists have their way," he said, "and ultimately I have no doubt they will, obtain the ear of statesmen—then a new phase in the evolution of mankind will be initiated.

"If we find that the way we are living is leading us straight to physical and mental bankruptcy, then we can no longer afford to be mere pawns on the chess board of evolution. We must somehow take a hand in the game.

"If eugenists have their way, human history enters a new or eugenic phase. None of us are blind to the great issues which eugenists are forcing upon the attention of the public of Europe and America.

"The possibilities of eugenic reform depend on the extent to which human nature can be rationalised. There are signs which lead me to think that the times are favourable.

"No. human community is stable. It is changing in many directions. The Eugenist desires to control the directions."

BROMLEY ELECTION SEQUEL.

CROSS-SUMMONSES DISMISSED.

An incident at a meeting held by Mr. V. C. Redwood, the United Empire Party candidate, at the Bromley by-election, had a sequel at Bromley Police Court yesterday. Henry Keeting, a steward at the meeting, was summoned by Mrs. Amelia Burrell, of Acacia road, St. John's Wood, for an alleged assault, while there was a cross-summons taken out by Mr. Redwood's agent, under the Corrupt Practices Act, alleging that Mrs. Burrell acted in a disorderly manner for the purpose of stopping the meeting.

Mrs. Burrell's case was that, on rising to ask a question, she was seized by the steward, who gripped her right arm with both hands, causing her great pain, and began to hustle her out of the room.

In the cross-summons, Mr. Redwood, giving evidence, said that it was difficult to get his remarks over at the meeting owing to the constant interruption from three persons, of whom Mrs. Burrell was one.

The Bench dismissed both summonses, the Chairman (Alderman James) stating that they had arrived at the conclusion that Mrs. Burrell did not act in a disorderly manner for the purpose of preventing the transaction of the business for which the meeting was called, and were also satisfied that no undue violence was offered or used in the removal of Mrs. Burrell from the meeting.

ULSTER BANKRUPTCY CASE.

STORY OF MISSING BOOK.

The affairs of the Palm Hall Skating Rink, Tamar street, Belfast, were investigated in the Ulster Bankruptcy Court yesterday before the Lord Chief Justice, when William Crawford, senior, 75 Upper Newtownards road, a bankrupt, who had carried on the business, was examined. Mr. J. M'Gonigal, K.C., and Mr. J. D. Chambers (instructed by Messrs. Galway and Hawthorne) appeared for the petitioning creditors. Crawford was not represented.

FURNITURE REMOVED.

The bankrupt, in reply to Mr. M'Gonigal, stated that he was adjudicated on July 5 last, and early on that morning his furniture was removed from his house in Belfast to an address in Bangor, where it was at present. He had informed Mr. Fisher, the court messenger, about the furniture, which was owned by his wife. Dealing with the skating rink, witness said that his son had no interest in the rink, which was carried on in a former garage for omnibuses. Witness had sold his 'buses to the Corporation, and, having an option on the garage, he decided to start a skating rink.

In addition, witness had speed boats at Bangor and Donaghadee, but these were held under hire-purchase agreement. These boats had been taken over by Messrs. Baird and Weir, agents for the owners, because the instalments were not kept up. Witness could not state definitely the date on which they were seized, but he received the receipts up to the date of the bankruptcy, and Messrs. Baird and Weir had taken them since.

THREE BANKING ACCOUNTS.

Witness further stated that he had three banking accounts, and a Mr. Thomas Ferguson was surety for his rent. The takings of the rink were handed to Mr. Ferguson each evening and passed on to his daughter, who gave them to witness. These takings were noted in a book which was initialled by Mr. Ferguson. Witness said his wife had no money, and had none hidden away now. "I wish she had," said witness.

Mr. M'Gonigal—The creditors wish the same.

Crawford said that he was not aware that on the days the skating rink was sealed up by the messenger it was broken into, and the book which had been initialled by Mr. Ferguson had been taken away.

Mr. M'Gonigal questioned witness at length about the book, and he finally replied that he heard Mr. Ferguson had it at one time.

Mr. Crawford, jun., also examined, said he made no claim to the rink, but the gramaphone instruments in it were on hire-purchase agreement. These agreements were held by a gramaphone company which was in bankruptcy. (Laughter.)

The matter was adjourned for a fortnight.

POOR RELIEF.

NEW UNEMPLOYMENT ACTS EFFECT.

The total number of persons in receipt of poor relief in England and Wales on the last Saturday of June was 928,000, equivalent to 234 per 10,000 of the estimated population. The corresponding total at the end of June, 1914, was 618,000.

In the first week of the quarter there was a decrease of 90,719 in the number of persons in receipt of relief, following large decreases recorded during March in the preceding quarter, and attributed mainly to the alteration by the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1930, of the rules governing the distribution of benefits to unemployed persons. Each week in the quarter showed a decrease except the two weeks during the Easter holiday period and the week following Whitsun week. The figures at the end of June showed a decrease of 119,000, or 11.4 per cent., as compared with those at the end of March.

The total number of persons in receipt of domiciliary relief on the last Saturday in June was 721,000, as compared with 823,000 at the end of March. The corresponding total at the end of June, 1923, was 820,000

SCHNEIDER TROPHY RULES.

CONFERENCE IN PARIS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Friday.

The difficulty which has arisen in connection with the arrangements for next year's Schneider Trophy race was discussed by the Governing Committee of the International Aeronautics Federation to-day in two sessions, lasting altogether five hours.

Statements were made by the Italian and French representatives delegated to attend the meeting, and also by Colonel O'Gorman, of the Royal Aero Club, who, as a vice-president, is normally a member of the committee.

Finally it was decided to refer the whole question to the Sports Committee of the International Aeronautic Federation. This committee will not, however, be in a position to meet until November, owing to the unavoidable absence of certain of its members.

VICTORY FOR BRITISH CASE.

It is understood that to-day's meeting at no time had under consideration the possibility that the race might be held anywhere but in English waters, in spite of certain statements that were made some time ago in the heat of the controversy, and that the matter resolved itself simply into an academic question of rules.

The discussion may be regarded as a victory for the British case, as the committee at first showed considerable reluctance to hand over the jurisdiction to another independent body.

The attitude of the Royal Aero Club is that there is no body which has the power to modify the conditions of the race, and it feels bound to insist upon a substantial deposit by intending competitors as a safeguard against scratching.

BOOTLE DOCK MYSTERY.

INQUEST ON HEADLESS BODY.

Whether the mutilated body taken from the Gladstone Dock, Bootle, on Thursday is that of Joseph Cornelius Lothian, a Liverpool dock labourer, who has been missing since December 1, two days after his marriage, was the chief question before Mr. S. Brighouse, the South-West Lancashire Coroner, at the inquest yesterday.

Evidence was given that a car was taken from the dock the day before. The body was found in it, but that had been clearly identified as belonging to George Frederick Harniss, a shipping engineer's son, of Hull, on whom an inquest has been held by the Liverpool Coroner.

Robert Jacobs, brother-in-law of Lothian, said that he had seen five bodies at Liverpool and Birkenhead since December, but this body bore the closest resemblance to Lothian. Two years ago Lothian underwent an operation on the left leg and there was a scar. Mr. Brighouse said that he would adjourn the inquest for the doctor to ascertain whether there was a scar on the leg of the body, which was headless and armless.

GIRLS' STRIKE AT COVENTRY.

UNION RECOMMENDATIONS TO BE CONSIDERED.

The hundred and twenty-five girls who are on strike from the Rover Works, Coventry, yesterday afternoon considered the recommendations put before them by the officials of the Transport and General Workers' Union. Mr. A. Dalgleish, the national officer of the union, stated, after the meeting, that the girls felt that they should have an opportunity of discussing the recommendations further, and negotiations were accordingly adjourned until this morning. If the terms are approved seventy men who are also involved in the strike will resume work.

COURT HELD IN BEDROOM.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE AT NEWCASTLE.

Because the exertion of climbing upstairs to the court might have serious consequences to an accused man, the Newcastle magistrates held the court in the matron's bedroom at Newcastle Police Court yesterday.

The defendant, an elderly man, was Richard Weightman, living at Mansfield street, and he was charged with embezzling £2 13s. from the Lord Mayor and Corporation while in their employment.

The prosecuting solicitor said that further charges amounted to £87. A police surgeon said that Weightman was suffering from angina pectoris, and sudden exertion might be serious. Weightman was remanded on bail after formal evidence.

MISSIONARY'S WEDDING CANCELLED.

SCHOOL TEACHER CHANGES HER MIND.

With the arrival at Madras on Thursday of Miss Evelyn Triggs, a young English school teacher, a four years' romance was shattered. She made the journey to India with the intention of marrying the Rev. G. W. Bowker, of Stockport, at present a missionary in Madras.

On landing, however, she told him that the wedding would have to be cancelled, as she had changed her mind on the voyage. The arrangements for the wedding, which was to have taken place yesterday, had to be cancelled, and Mr. Bowker sent a cablegram to Mr. and Mrs. J. Bowker, his parents, who live at Stockport, informing them of his fiancée's dramatic decision.

Mr. Bowker, senior, interviewed yesterday, said: "I refuse to believe the telegram is true." He said that he had received a cablegram from his son, but did not wish to give the actual words of the message. It is understood that Miss Triggs is now attempting to obtain a post as a teacher in Madras.

VITRIOL-THROWING AT DOG-RACES.

One of the women was Mrs. Fanny Simmonds (32), of Cambridge street, Edgware road. She was removed to Nelson Hospital, Merton, and is in a critical condition. The other woman was Mrs. Helen Poons (29), of Devonshire street, Holborn. She was taken to hospital, but was not detained.

Detectives are searching for a man in connection with the affair.

North-West, South-East and South-West Ireland.—Moderate or fresh south-easterly wind; cloudy; some rain; moderate temperature.

North-East Ireland.—Light or moderate south-east wind; fair at first, probably rain later; moderate temperature.

Sea Passages.—Irish Sea and St. George's Channel.—Wind south-east, light to moderate or fresh; cloudy; rain later; local coast fog early; sea slight, perhaps becoming moderate.

TRINITY COLLEGE NOTES.

THE ROADMENDERS.

MATRIMONY AND TRAVEL.

(From a Correspondent.)

On Monday an army of road menders invaded the College, and took possession of Botany Bay and the New Square, imparting an atmosphere of bustle and confusion to the academic calm of these localities. Heaps of stones and barrels of tar litter the barren wilderness of the "Bay," and a steam-roller, probably the first that ever made its way into that quarter, has excited much interest among idle and inquisitive students. Some cobble-stones that hindered the work of repair have been removed, but not enough to alarm traditionalists, who regard them as sacred to the footsteps of Burke and Goldsmith, and, therefore, to be preserved, no matter how uncomfortable they may be. It is rumoured, however, that the Authorities have designs on the cobble-stones in the Front Square. Any attempt to remove or cover them would certainly be met with indignant protests. It is said that this reform was attempted some years ago, but had to be abandoned owing to the vigorous opposition of a couple of Senior Fellows. If the reform were carried out, it would probably cause a decrease in the annual influx of American tourists, who would much prefer to sprain an ankle on a romantic old cobblestone than to walk in safety on prosaic asphalt.

The Buffet re-opened on Monday, and is already being well patronised. The long tables are no longer covered with cloths. Possibly the laundry proved too expensive, owing to the antics of 100 per cent. Freshmen, whose sense of humour often prompts them to propel buns across the dining-room. The innovation is certainly welcome; for properly stained wood is preferable to improperly stained tablecloths.

There seems to be a decided vogue for marriage among Trinity alumni at present. On Tuesday the Rev. A. Sterling Bluett, M.A., was married to Miss Maud Cherry at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Both bride and bridegroom are Trinity graduates. Mrs. Bluett is a Moderator in History, and for some years has helped to guide and guard the destinies of the bright young things at Trinity Hall, in her capacity as Vice-Warden of that institution.

A PROFESSOR'S MARRIAGE.

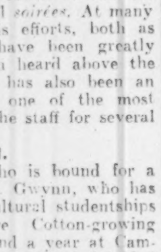
On Wednesday Dr. W. J. E. Jessop was married to Miss Kathleen Condell in Monkstown. Dr. Jessop had a distinguished career in College, which included a Scholarship and numerous honours in Experimental Science, the Begley Studentship, the Royal Dublin Society's Scholarship and the Haughton Clinical Surgical Prize and Medal. Having qualified, he was for some time Assistant to the Professor of Bacteriology, and now holds the post of Professor of Physiology in the Royal College of Surgeons. Dr. Jessop was also President of the Philosophical Society last year. In addition to all this, he has for some years been a very efficient Treasurer of the T.C.D. Publishing Company. This is a most arduous office: for it entails, not only the fighting of financial battles with irritable printers, but also the keeping of a file of all the subscribers to the magazine, who are apt to write indignant letters from odd corners of the globe demanding to know why they have not received their copies.

Dr. W. E. Jessop.

Mr. J. S. R. Cole has just been appointed to the post of classical master in the Royal College of Mauritius, and will leave these shores in about a month's time. Mr. Cole's academic honours in College include Scholarship and Moderatorship in Classics. He has been secretary of the "Phil" and of the Choral Society. At the Choral Society concerts he has sung bass solos on numerous occasions. He has also frequently lifted up his voice in the cause of charity, and not a few Dublin hostesses have relied on him for the success of their musical soirées. At many College Society dinners his efforts, both as soloist and accompanist, have been greatly appreciated, though seldom heard above the convivial din. Mr. Cole has also been an editor of "T.C.D.," and one of the most painstaking humorists on the staff for several years.

COTTON.

Another Trinity man who is bound for a far-flung isle is Mr. A. M. Gwynn, who has obtained one of the agricultural studentships granted by the Empire Cotton-growing Association. He will spend a year at Cambridge, and then will proceed to Trinidad for another years of scientific training, after which he will be equipped for the task of cultivating cotton anywhere in the Empire. Mr. Gwynn is one of those men who show their scientific flair in early youth by sticking pins into butterflies, and later proceed to the minute study of humble plants which ignorant people regard as weeds. He is generally to be seen in Donegal tweeds, a khaki shirt and a haversack, setting off for a botanical ramble over the mountains or a speleological expedition to Connemara. He has belonged to many societies in Trinity, and is one of the few people who know anything about the Chess Club; for at one time he was a member of this exclusive body, which some people suspect of being a secret society. He was Correspondence Secretary of the Historical last year, and a member of that committee of the Biological Association which made a vain, but valiant, attempt to allow women into this anti-feminist stronghold.



Mr. A. M. Gwynn.

NEW LONDON COMEDY.

"HER FIRST AFFAIR."

From Our Correspondent.
LONDON, Friday.

At the Kingsway Theatre last night a manager new to London, Mr. Joseph Cunningham, produced a pleasing little comedy in "Her First Affair," by Mr. Merrill Roger and Mr. Frederick Jackson.

The story turns on the rather extreme opinions of a successful writer, Carey Maxon, in the direction of free love. His ideas rather shock some of his intimates, and they set out to give a lesson. This takes the form of a young woman throwing herself at his head and pretending that she is in love with him and prepared to follow out his ideas. Carey, faced with what he thinks is the result of his own teaching, is positively terror-stricken, and his efforts to extricate himself from a most unpleasant situation are watched with amusement by his wife and friends. The young man is highly relieved and quite cured of his idiosyncrasy when his wife and the girl tell their story, and explain that the young woman who has apparently been making such a set at him is herself engaged to a very nice man.

The acting was quite good, and Mr. Henry Hewitt as Carey gave an extremely able presentment of the novelist. Miss Marjorie Binner as the forward young woman was also well placed, and made the most of her many opportunities. Miss Zillah Bateman and Mr. Jack Hobbs as the wife and young lover gave valuable assistance.

The comedy had an almost enthusiastic reception.

KINGSTOWN ENTERTAINMENTS.

The Civic Theatre, Kingstown, will enter on a new session on September 22nd, when Esmé Biddle will present the Celebrity Players in "A Woman of No Importance" in the Town Hall. The Civic Theatre is one of the admirable enterprises of the Kingstown Publicity Committee, which will present an interesting programme of public amusements at the East Pier and in the People's Park to-morrow. A water gala and band performance will take place in the afternoon. At night there will be a band recital and a display of fireworks.

Belgian Organists in Ireland.

Ireland seems to have a peculiar attraction for Belgian organists, and about a dozen are located at the Roman Catholic Cathedrals and schools throughout the country. The number is about to be increased by the addition of M. Charles Seeldrayers, who has just left Antwerp to take up a post at Westport, Co. Mayo. A Belgian newspaper suggests that the best organists migrate to Ireland because Irish audiences are so appreciative.

A more convincing reason would be the fact that most of those now in Ireland have been trained at the Inter-Diocesan School at Malines, and are consequenlty experts in Roman Catholic Church music. There are now Belgian organists in Belfast, Dundalk, Longford, Newry, Sligo and Newbridge, as well as the Professor of Music at Clongowes Wood College. There were also Belgian organists at Limerick, Galway and Ennis; but of these two have returned to Belgium and one has died. Irish organists do not seem to be available for the positions.

"Lord Robert."

This week brings a 66th anniversary to Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, still best known to many as Lord Robert Cecil, who, after a long and brilliant parliamentary career, seemed to find his real life's work in the cause of international peace, for which he has laboured so powerfully and persuasively as to gain the title of Apostle of the League of Nations. One of the aptest descriptions of him came from a learned young lady who, after hearing him for the first time at a League of Nations gathering, declared:—"He is Paulinus, the disciple of Augustine, who converted Britain to Christianity. You remember Green's account of him: 'His tall, stooping form, slender aquiline nose, and black hair falling round a thin, worn face?' Add burning eyes and a burning faith, and Lord Robert seems to me a complete re-incarnation." The comparison is the more remarkable since Andrew Lang had a theory that the Cecil family derived from ancient Rome.

Viscount Cecil.

A Long Pedigree.

To anyone puffed out with pride of race, or too conscious of long descent, I commend the Tuatera or Sphenodon. By the side of this little reptile, that traces its ancestry back untold millions of years, the Orsini, Colonna or Borgese become mere parvenus, off-spring of the day before. The Rhynchocephalia, or beaked lizards, from which this hoary relic of a long dead age is descended, attained their maximum development in the early Triassic. The ramifications of its family tree are traceable through the geological record back to the Permian. It even sported a parietal eye at a remote period of the family history. Yet the Sphenodon is not proud, and all and sundry may contemplate this object lesson in reptilian humility, placidly unconscious of the gaping crowd in its cage in the Monkey House. The New Zealand Government, fully aware of its merits, has taken steps to secure it a sanctuary, where, preserved from all modern dangers, its descendants may outlast a few epochs more.

A Sylvan Theatre.

While wandering through the delightful glades of Kilruddery a few days ago, I came across a charming survival of the past, in the form of an open-air theatre. This sylvan theatre is enclosed on three sides by a bay hedge, the fourth being open for the entry of players and spectators. The sides are regularly terraced for the accommodation of the audience, while the stage is of emerald lawn, and the setting, under the shade of a venerable oak, is most picturesque.

Sir Walter Scott was greatly impressed by this theatre, which inspired one of the incidents in "St. Ronan's Well." In one of the footnotes in that book the novelist states:—

"At Killruddery, the noble seat of Lord Meath, in the County of Wicklow, there is a situation for private theatrical exhibitions in the open air, planted out with the evergreens which arise there in most luxurious magnificence. It has a wild and romantic effect, reminding one of the scene in which Bottom rehearsed his pageant, with a green plot for a stage, and a hawthorn brake for attiring room."

The "Angles."

I often have wondered what was the origin of those walks of grass at Kilruddery, which, radiating from centres like the spokes of a wheel, are enclosed by lofty walls of beech, lime or yew.

Some people say that they were used by the monks for solitary meditation in the good old days, when Kilruddery was attached to the Abbey of St. Thomas the Martyr in Dublin, while others believe that they are of a later date.

These walks, or "angles," as they are locally termed, are peculiar to the estate, and a source of perplexity to visitors of an inquiring mind.

Ireland for the Anglers.

The Sports Section of the Irish Tourist Association are assiduously pressing the claims of Irish waters upon English anglers, no doubt with some practical result; for the English fisherman will not stint expense on his favourite sport.

Westmeath, in particular, is being boomed as an angling centre. Loughs Ennel and Owel, two of the loveliest of the local waters, hold large trout bearing a specially light silvery colour, said to be due to the limestone in the bed of those lakes; and in many other of the lakes between the Boyne and the Shannon there may be had good baskets of brown trout of from 2lb. upwards.

As a salmon and trout lake Lough Fern is highly extolled, although it is well to recall Mr. Stephen Gwynn's caution that "it ought to be clearly understood that catching a salmon on a free water needs luck. If you get ten in a month on Lough Fern, you do well. But you might get three or four in a day; it is done by somebody every year."

The best salmon river in the North of Ireland is probably the Lennon, which flows into and out of Lough Fern, while the trout-fisher finds splendid facilities in Donegal. The trout are admittedly on the small side, but what they lack in that direction is amply compensated for by numbers. Here, again, Mr. Gwynn is worth quoting: "I once found myself on a lough in Donegal with five children, and the eldest caught a trout. Then I realised that peace was destroyed unless each of them, down to the youngest, caught a trout also. Well, we accomplished it."

What G. B. S. Remembers.

The other day I saw an interesting postcard from Mr. Bernard Shaw. It was written to Mr. Monks, the father of the Dublin City Treasurer, who was a boy with G.B.S. in Synge street 68 years ago, when Mr. Monks was twelve and Mr. Shaw six years old.

In the course of his long message, written in that very small writing for which he is noted, G.B.S. mentions by name several of the people who resided in the street when he lived there 68 years ago. "Is the mad tailor still alive? Him whose daughter I told would go to Hell because she was a Catholic. I was known there as 'Shaw the Protestant.'" As a mere feat of memory this is remarkable, indicating that Shaw's connection with his native city has never been entirely broken.

He ends his postcard message: "So you are Monks! Still alive, but no longer twice my age." Mr. Monks is now 80 years old, and has been living in retirement for several years.

"Refaned" America.

The Bureau of Standards at Washington has begun to interfere in things other than industrial, and has been giving attention to the language of the wash-tub. The Bureau disapproves not of the vessel itself, but of the words associated with it. "Use," we are told, "should be made of the more elegant term 'refreshment' to indicate laundry processes which restore garments to the wholesome cleanliness so important to hygiene." It will be noted that "clothes" are not mentioned, only "garments."

Some confusion might be caused in Ireland if such improved language should become general. For instance, the inquiry: "Have you finished your refreshment yet, Mrs. Murphy?" might lead to the reply: "I haven't seen any so far, ma'am, but I could do wonders with this wash after a bottle of Guinness." This "refaned" language is unlikely to be adopted here; yet it is interesting to know that someone in the United States is looking after its language.

Simple Stings.

A friend tells me that she was recently stung by a wasp in a most unusual place. She was eating a piece of jam sandwich, when suddenly she felt a sharp twinge of pain in her tongue, and discovered to her sorrow that she had bitten a wasp, that had promptly stung her in retaliation. In a few moments her tongue had become so swollen that it filled her mouth, and had it not been for the prompt attention of a doctor she might have suffocated. That was an uncommon case, but at this time of the year many people are stung by wasps, and it is helpful to know that ordinary household ammonia dabbed on the affected area will act as a soothing agent. Great care should be taken to ensure that the sting is removed from the flesh; if a wasp leaves its weapon behind, the best way to get it out is to draw the sharp edge of a knife carefully over the flesh in a slanting direction. It is not wise to pick at the sting as one would at a thorn, because the effort to dig out the sting will serve but to spread the poison.

The Dangerous Age.

I am told that on account of the very wet summer wasps are much scarcer than formerly. Their nests have been flooded out by the rain, and the eggs have not hatched for want of heat. However, from now until the frost kills them off wasps will become quite a nuisance in houses, and it is well to be careful when drawing or arranging curtains that no half-dead wasp has crept into a fold of the material. It is interesting to know that the sting of a dead wasp is still "alive."

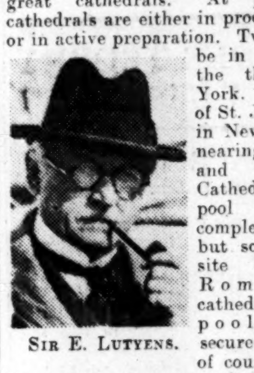
Cuckoo Clocks.

Cuckoo clocks are not so popular to-day as they were a generation or so back; but, nevertheless, Germany is preparing to celebrate this year the two-hundredth anniversary of their invention. The first cuckoo clock was made by one Franz Anton Ketterer, in Shoenwald, in 1730. The clock became popular very quickly, the appeal made by their quaintness and novelty being reinforced by their excellent time-keeping qualities and good workmanship.

The mechanism of the cuckoo clock is extremely ingenious. The thrust of a wire bends the body of the bird forward, the wings and tail are raised and the beak opened. Simultaneously two small bellows are raised and lowered. The notes are produced by diminutive wooden organ-pipes, one tuned a fifth above the other, to which the bellows are attached. Almost every home in the Black Forest has one of these clocks, and they are extremely common in all parts of the Continent, as they once were here.

Great Cathedrals.

There is every possibility that this will be remembered in the future as an age of great cathedrals. At present three cathedrals are either in process of erection or in active preparation. Two of these will be in Liverpool and the third in New York. The Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York is now nearing completion, and the Anglican Cathedral in Liverpool was partially completed this year; but so far only the site of the new Roman Catholic cathedral in Liverpool has been secured. Dublin will, of course, proceed to the erection of a new cathedral in Merrion square in due course; so there will be four cathedrals completed before 1950.



Sir E. Lutyens.

An interesting feature of these cathedrals is that both New York and Liverpool Roman Catholic cathedrals are to be "second only to St. Peter's" in size, but which of them will actually be second is still doubtful. Of the Liverpool cathedrals, the Roman Catholic building is designed by a Protestant, Sir E. Lutyens, and the Anglican by a Roman Catholic, the late Sir G. Scott.

Prairie Dogs.

I was greatly amused by a marmot, or prairie dog, at the "Zoo" recently. It had climbed the front of its cage and was clinging to the wire, looking, for all the world, like a bloated little alderman in a fur coat, the while it surveyed the visitors with a liquorish eye, intent upon dainties. The expanse of fat, furry stomach was irrestible, and with my little finger I gently tickled the plump waistcoat. The effect was instantaneous. The little creature shrieked with indignation, as it rapidly lowered its rotund carcase to the bottom of the cage. I tickling the while. Terra firma reached, it sat up and scolded vigorously, until placated with a few peanuts. Upon its home prairies the good nature of the small rodent is shamefully abused. Prairie owls and rattlesnakes find free board and lodging in its burrows. Coyotes stalk and devour it, while, on account of the danger to horses from its burrows, man persecutes it unmercifully. It spite of all, the prairie dog continues to flourish, and it would be a lonely prairie, indeed, without a community of these cheery little beasts.

Seals.

In view of the recent complaints about the damage done to fishing, it may be of interest to relate that while on a visit to Clogher Head, Co. Louth, recently, I saw a seal swimming about one hundred yards from the shore. He swam gaily round for a long time, and was not in the least perturbed when several boys got in for a dip not far from him. A local fisherman told me that seals were frequently seen on the coasts of Down and Louth. It seems that they breed on the inaccessible rocks which abound along the coast, and can often be seen drying themselves on them on sunny days. Many people try to shoot them, as they do serious damage to the local fishing. The fishermen attribute the presence of the seals to the nearness of Dundalk Bay, which is a favourite spawning ground of fish. At times porpoises and sharks may be seen in this bay.

On a recent visit to Killiney several porpoises made an unwelcome appearance quite close to the shore, to the consternation of a large party of women, who quickly made a dash for land.

Musical Sailors.

Motoring through a Southern seaport the other evening, I saw a crowd standing on the quay intently listening to a deck concert given by the crew of a German steamer. One of the Germans played the mandoline, while his fair-haired companions sang the stirring old folk songs of the Fatherland. The music sounded very sweet in the still September evening. I noticed that the crews of some British and Irish steamers berthed alongside the German boat were lounging listlessly about the deck. These German sailors certainly know how to get the best out of life after the arduous labours of the day are over.

QUIDNUNC.

OBITUARY.

CANON NEWBOLT.

Canon Newbolt, who for forty years was a Canon of St. Paul's Cathedral, died yesterday afternoon at his house in Amen Court, London, E.C. He was aged 86 last month, and had been seriously ill for some time.

Canon Newbolt's life work centred in St. Paul's Cathedral. As Senior Canon he was actively engaged in its work, and he often expressed his ambition that St. Paul's should be the centre of the religious life of the City rather than a place of exhibition.

Canon William Charles Edmund Newbolt was born on August 14, 1844, and was educated at Uppingham and Pembroke College, Oxford. He became Honorary Canon of Ely, and was Principal of Ely Theological College from 1887 to 1890. In 1890 he was appointed Canon of St. Paul's

Canon Newbolt had written various religious works, the best known being "The Sacrament of the Altar," "Speculum Sacerdotum," "The Fruit of the Spirit," and "Years That Are Past."

Some months ago Canon Newbolt had a fall, and was prevented from preaching in the Cathedral, but his interest in its affairs remained as lively as ever to the end. He retained a vivid recollection of the Crimean War. While he was living at Somerton, Somerset, his birthplace, the 6th Inniskilling Dragoons attended Service at his father's church on their way to the front.

Fat pigs realised 68s. per cwt. at CALLAN pig market, as compared with 64s. in the adjoining towns.

THE BULLFINCH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—It is incorrect to speak of the bullfinch (as "Quidnunc" does to-day) as a bird "excluded from the ægis of the Wild Birds Protection Act." It should be well known that under that Act it is a punishable offence for anyone, except an owner or occupier of land (on his own land), to kill or capture any bullfinch between the 1st of March and the 31st of July. In addition to this protection, the Act confirms the already existing County Orders under which, in County Dublin as well as in Counties Galway and Mayo, the killing or taking of the bullfinch is prohibited for a longer period, not ending until the 1st of December. The snaring of bullfinches for caging purposes in County Dublin is, therefore, only legal during the three months of December, January and February.

The exclusion of this bird from the "First Schedule" to the Act does not deprive him of any protection, except against owners and occupiers of land. These may, if they see him eating the buds of their fruit trees, take steps to protect the crop. It is, however, certain that many good gardeners will, even at such times, refrain from injuring the bird, knowing the amount of good he does later in the year by eating the seeds of some of our worst weeds; for he almost lives on those of the dock in autumn.—Yours, etc.,

"C. B. M."

Dublin, September 12th, 1930.

PLEASURE-SEEKERS FOG-BOUND.

SEQUEL TO MOONLIGHT CRUISE.

Five hundred pleasure seekers who went on a moonlight cruise from Derry to Moville last Thursday night had an unusual and rather unpleasant experience.

The cruise was organised by the City of Derry Boating Club, and took place on the Anchor Line steamer Seamore, which was packed on the occasion.

The Seamore left Derry shortly after seven o'clock, and a pleasant trip on Lough Foyle to Moville was enjoyed. Over an hour was spent ashore at Moville, and at 10.30 p.m. the return journey to Derry began. After a while a fog began to settle on the lough, but the Seamore was able to continue her journey. The fog, however, became gradually more and more dense until, at length, not only was the moon completely obscured, but it became impossible to discern the beacons marking the course of the lough for shipping.

The Seamore's captain was accordingly reluctantly compelled to drop anchor near Culmore, three miles from Derry.

The passengers indulged in singing, dancing and games. As the hours passed some of the party grew tired and sleepy, but the brighter and more youthful spirits refused to give in, and kept the fun going throughout the early hours of the morning, up till 6.30. The fog had been gradually lifting, and by that time it was sufficiently clear to enable the Seamore to weigh anchor and proceed to Derry. She arrived at the quay at 7.30 a.m., having been due at midnight.

MISS JOAN MARGARET MACDONALD.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF HER ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement of Miss Joan Margaret Macdonald, second daughter of Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, was announced last night in the following statement issued from 10 Downing street:—

"The engagement is announced between Alastair Mackinnon, M.B., C.M., son of the late Dr. John MacKinnon, of Somerset East, South Africa and Broadford, Skye, and Mrs. MacKinnon, 6 Fingal place, Edinburgh, and Joan Margaret, second daughter of the Right Hon. J. Ramsay Macdonald, M.P."

Miss Joan Macdonald is twenty-two years of age, and is a medical student at Edinburgh University. She is a keen sportswoman, and rowed No. 2 in the Edinburgh University women's boat which defeated Bristol University women's crew a few months ago.

Dr. MacKinnon graduated last July at Edinburgh, and Miss Macdonald is a fourth-year medical student at the same university. It was while they were doing surgical work as students at the Royal Infirmary at Edinburgh that they met in one of the wards. Dr. MacKinnon is a year older than his fiancée; both are keen lovers of sport.

Some months ago Dr. MacKinnon visited London and met the Prime Minister and other members of the family.

At present Miss Macdonald is the guest of her fiancé's mother at Edinburgh. Last Wednesday she was a bridesmaid at the wedding of Dr. MacKinnon's sister, Miss Mary Rhona MacKinnon, to Mr. Hector A. McNab, of Glasgow, at St. Cuthbert's Parish Church, Edinburgh. Dr. MacKinnon gave his sister away.

It is understood that no date has been fixed for the marriage.

SISTER'S GRIEF FOR COMPANION.

DIES THREE WEEKS AFTERWARDS.

After living together all their lives two sisters have died at Windsor within three weeks of each other. They were the Misses Caroline and Henriette Cameron, who carried on business on Castle Hill as purveyors of home-made chocolates and sweets.

Both sisters were formerly in the service of Princess Christian, the third daughter of Queen Victoria, and after her death they set up in business at Windsor, and had nearly all the members of the Royal Family as their customers.

The Queen always visited their shop when she went shopping in Windsor, while Princess Mary was also a frequent visitor. Eton College boys also patronised the shop in large numbers. The sisters were extremely attached to one another. Caroline, aged 79, died three weeks ago, and after grieving over her loss Henriette, aged 83, died suddenly this week. She was buried at Windsor Cemetery in the same grave as her sister to-day.

ITALIAN NATIONAL HOLIDAY.

INTENDED CHANGE OF DATE.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
ROME, Friday.

The intended change in the date of the national holiday from that of the anniversary of the fall of the Papacy on September 20, 1870, to that of the establishment of the Vatican City on February 11 last year has created an excellent impression in Vatican circles, and the Pope himself has expressed his pleasure at the courteous gesture on the part of the Italian Government.

It is stated that when the law making the change is passed the long-expected visit of Signor Mussolini to the Vatican will take place.

HOUSING THE POOR.

ASPECTS OF PROBLEM IN BELFAST

NEED OF TOWN-PLANNING LEGISLATION.

A memorandum, prepared by Mr. R. G. Forbes, Superintendent of the Housing for the County Borough of Belfast, dealing with the housing problem, states that the important factor to be borne in mind for any future housing by the Corporation is not altogether the ability of a man to pay rent, but his family's need of house room.

SUBSIDY HOUSES.

"Holding the view very strongly," writes Mr. Forbes, "that enough money has been spent on the subsidy type of houses, and that any future expenditure in connection with housing should be applied to meet the needs of the poorest section of the community, I would once again advise the Committee not to prejudice the possibility of schemes for such work being considered by the Corporation.

"Proper housing," the Superintendent states, "is the most important asset to public health and education.

"It may be argued that the advantages of public health and education schemes cannot be reduced to terms of currency. Neither can we estimate the savings effected or the national advantages gained by proper housing.

"The benefits obtained by thousands of children reared in 'sun traps' instead of 'death traps' must be placed as a set-off against re-housing, even at uneconomic rents; and, if the aim of education is the development character, it is likely to be more fully realised in the children living on our housing estates than in those whose misfortune it is to dwell in slums.

A SURPLUS.

"Up till now the policy of the Committee has been to concentrate on the development of the housing estates acquired, and to assist to produce, as quickly as possible, houses to overtake the shortage. During the years 1919-1923, a period when the building of houses for the working classes was not attractive to private enterprise, 1,855 houses were erected by the Corporation, and from 1923 to the present date 707 were completed. Since 1923 the attractive subsidies and grants offered by the Government and the Corporation have been an inducement to private enterprise, and a very large number of kitchen and small type parlour houses have been erected, particularly during the last two years. I am of opinion that by the expiry date of the present subsidy—the 31st March, 1931—if the building of subsidy houses continue at its present rate there will be a surplus of this type of house, which is suitable for a certain class of the community only.

THE SLUMS.

"I feel it my duty, therefore, strongly to advise the Committee not to involve the Corporation in any further expenditure in the acquisition of sites, or the erection of houses popularly known as the subsidy type. I have no hesitation, however, in stating that there will still be at the expiry date of the subsidy thousands of familes in Belfast as far off from proper housing as they were prior to the inception of the housing scheme in 1919. I refer to that class of the community, the lowest paid wage-earners, who are forced to live in the slums and in the district, which were developed between the years 1860 and 1885.

"During this period, one of enormous development in industrial life in Belfast as elsewhere throughout the Kingdom, thousands of houses were built on badly laid out estates, creating hopelessly overcrowding conditions. Similar conditions exist in all large industrial cities. The vast majority of these houses cannot by any stretch of the imagination be said to provide the amenities which are called for in modern houses, amenities which their immediate betters in the social scale have demanded and received in the houses erected under the various Housing Acts 1919-1930.

THE LOWEST PAID CLASS.

"In my opinion, at any rate, the lowest paid wage-earning class has received no benefit from the subsidies and grants given under the Housing Acts, 1919-30. It may be argued that this class will indirectly benefit by the continuation of building under the present subsidy conditions and the creation of a surplus of houses of the subsidy type. I am not in agreement with this argument.

"I agree that a surplus of houses of the subsidy type would produce a depression in rents in all kitchen and small parlour type houses, but I do not agree that there will be a sufficient surplus to have any material effect in rehousing the lowest paid wage-earners, nor that a reduction in rent is sufficient to induce more than a very small percentage to take advantage of the surplus, even if landlords were willing to let to this class. From my experience I argue that a great percentage will remain in their insanitary houses and apply any reduction to the purchase of other necessities.

OVERCROWDED AREAS.

"From time to time I have read with interest the announcement of the Government regarding the large number of houses erected since the war with the aid of subsidies and grants, but it would be interesting to place side by side with these the figures showing the number of slum housese closed over the same period.

"Many of the members will recall the very large surplus of small kitchen and parlour houses which existed in Belfast following the building boom which took place during the period 1895-1900. Unquestionably, no advantage was taken of this surplus by the people to leave the slums and overcrowded areas. The only effect was the diminution of landlords' incomes, the consequent result of which was fewer repairs and hastened decay of houses, particularly of the older type.

"It is an unfortunate fact, but one which must be faced, that, generally speaking, larger families exist among the very poor than in any other class of the community. We cannot build down to the incomes of this class yet.

In conclusion, Mr. Forbes points out that town planning legislation for Northern Ireland will shortly be introduced, and the powers which this legislation are likely to confer will be of very great assistance in securing that the future housing of the city will be on well-ordered lines.

The whole subject will, doubtless, be discussed by the Corporation at an early date.

SOUTH AFRICA'S MANDATE.

VIEW OF GENERAL HERTZOG.

LEAGUE ASSEMBLY AND THE SAAR.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
GENEVA, Friday.

Addressing the League Assembly here this morning, General Hertzog, the South African Prime Minister, pointed out that this was the first occasion on which South Africa had been represented at the Assembly meetings by a Cabinet Minister from the Union. Commenting approvingly on the fact that the League relied for the accomplishment of its task on the compelling force and influence of moral worth rather than on coercive sanctions, he said that under the fostering influence of the League's moral power international security against wars of aggression could not, in the long run, fail to find a permanent basis in the bosom of the nations as real and effective as the personal security against individual violence obtaining in every civilised community.

Referring to the mandate for South-West Africa held by South Africa, he strongly deprecated discussions of abstract questions concerning mandates such as took place in the Sixth Committee of the Assembly. Much discussion might, he said, very seriously interfere not only with close and harmonious co-operation, but with the efficient administration of mandated territories.

SOUTH AFRICA'S ATTITUDE.

"As for the Union of South Africa, as far as I am entitled to speak on its behalf as a mandatory," declared General Hertzog, "I wish to give the Assembly a definite assurance that it never has claimed, and never will lay claim to any right or power contrary to the terms of its mandate, and that in the exercise of its functions as a mandatory it has always striven to act not only in the best interests of those whose well-being has been entrusted to it, but also in the spirit of faithful co-operation with the League, in strict conformity with the terms of its mandate."

It was observed in South Africa, he said, that while the League was busy securing the path of peace, the nations were equally busy straining after power and hegemony. Europe, as seen by South Africa, had but little borne witness to the will to peace, and South Africa in consequence often felt but little inspired by a feeling of confidence in the maintenance of that peace.

General Hertzog concluded by expressing full agreement with Mr. Henderson in respect of the proposed amendments to the Covenant of the League. Subject to agreement being reached respecting disarmament, he was prepared, on behalf of his Government, to support the proposal. He also desired to express approval of the course indicated by the British Foreign Secretary as regards the general Act.

SAAR QUESTION.

RESOLUTION OF LEAGUE COUNCIL.

The Council of the League at its public meeting this afternoon adopted a resolution in favour of the suppression of the forces protecting the railways in the Saar territory within a maximum of three months.

Dealing with the evacuation of the French troops from the Saar, Dr. Curtius expressed satisfaction at the solution of the matter.

M. Briand recalled that the French Government was only concerned in securing freedom of transport and transit in the territory. With regard to the calling in of reinforcements in the event of disturbances, M. Briand stated that he shared in the conviction expressed by Dr. Curtius that such an eventuality would not arise.

The satisfactory settlement of a sore matter has created a good impression in all circles here.

THE PERMANENT COURT.

The Council further adopted a series of resolutions regarding the amendments to the Statute of the Permanent Court of International Justice, providing for an increase of four in the number of Judges of the Court—who would thus be fifteen in future—and fixing their salaries and pensions.

The election of the fifteen Judges by the Council and Assembly will take place on September 17.

The Council decided to invite Soviet Russia to participate in the forthcoming Conference for the limitation of the manufacture of narcotic drugs, seeing that Russia has now become a manufacturing country.

This concluded the work of the sitting.

INTERPRETATION OF SPEECHES.

AN INNOVATION.

An interesting innovation in this year's Assembly is the installation on trial of a system of simultaneous translation of French speeches into English, and vice versa, while the speeches are actually being delivered. The system has worked successfully at the meetings of the International Labour Organisation, but this is the first occasion on which it has been tried at the Assembly.

The translator, seated at a desk beneath the rostrum, speaks into a microphone, shaped similarly to a dentist's gas mask, and keeps pace with the orator, except that he is always a few words behind. The microphone is linked up with chairs of the delegates, who are provided with headphones and also with an indicator, by which they can switch on to French or English as required.

As may be gathered, the translators require considerable practice before they are able to perform what appears to be a remarkably difficult task. The trials at the Assembly have proved very successful so far. Mr. Henderson listened to M. Briand's speech by this means, and subsequently expressed his pleasure and surprise at the effectiveness of the system. It is hoped next year to extend the device to the Press Galleries of the Assembly.

MR. HENDERSON'S SPEECH.

GERMAN PRESS APPROVAL.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
BERLIN, Friday.

The energetic plea for disarmament, made by Mr. Henderson, the British Foreign Minister, at the League of Nations Assembly yesterday, finds hearty endorsement in German official circles and in the Press here. The speech is regarded as fully supporting the German standpoint on this question. The newspapers refer to his speech as sensational and as a great event of the League meeting. They also consider it a sharp rebuff for the policy of M. Briand, the French Foreign Minister.

Never before, the newspapers declare, has a representative of a great Power, belonging to the victorious nations in the war, so urgently demanded the fulfilment of the promise of disarmament.

Mr. Henderson's speech has, it is added, cleared the air, and the old contrast between security and disarmament has been dragged out of the artificial European fog of French origin into the glaring light of sound Anglo-Saxon common-sense.

SIGNOR GRANDI.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
PARIS, Friday.

Interest is being shown in Paris in the slow motion progress of Signor Grandi on his journey to Rome. He left Geneva on September 9, and was reported to have lunched at Chambéry yesterday. His movements on September 10 have not been chronicled, and there is some speculation as to whom he may have met and what conversations he may have had on that date.

CROATIANS AND SERBIA.

GENEVA, Friday.

The Croat deputy, Ante Pavelitch, to-day addressed to Sir Eric Drummond, Secretary-General to the League of Nations, appeals from the Croat workers abroad, protesting against what they described as the Serbian dictatorial militarist régime in Croatia, and demanding the establishment of an independent Croatian State.

RADIO AND THE MOB.

GENERAL DAWES TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE.

The American Ambassador, General Charles Dawes, who to-day inaugurates the centenary celebrations of the Liverpool-Manchester Railway, speaking last night at a banquet given by the Lord Mayor of Liverpool (Mr. Lawrence D. Holt), said that the changes which modern machinery had brought about in the lives of the people could not but have an effect on many problems. The methods of demagogues were violent affirmation, raising prejudices and the worst instincts in the crowd. All nations with democratic Governments were in danger from demagogues.

He regarded the radio invention as one of the best means of maintaining law and order and good government. For some unexplainable reason when persons listened through the wireless to the speeches of demagogues their instincts were not roused in the same way as they were when in a crowd.

The best demonstration of this was the Democratic Convention held in New York, when the speeches caused the crowd present to howl in a perfect frenzy, whilst a much larger crowd of twenty-five to thirty thousand people listening to those same speeches through loud speakers were as silent as death. In other words, the crowd outside over the radio listened as individuals and not as a crowd, and their mob instincts were not roused. In these days that meant a great deal. It meant that in the future people would depend, largely, through the radio in the quiet of their homes, on political arguments submitted to them.

DIVISION OF COUNTY LEITRIM.

PROPOSED SCHEME.

From Our Own Correspondent.
CARRICK-ON-SHANNON, Friday.

Recently, when it was suggested that the Free State Local Government Department contemplated splitting up County Leitrim and dividing it into other adjoining counties, much indignation was aroused among the public bodies in the county, and, at the time, members of the Dail denied the report.

I now learn from a semi-official source that the idea of abolishing Leitrim County as an entity still is being considered by officials of the Free State Local Government Department, and that, as a result of recent inspections, the arrangements now finding most favour in their discussions as most likely to dispose of the objections to the earlier scheme is to split up Leitrim thus:—

The former Mohill rural district to be added to Co. Longford; Carrick-on-Shannon No. 1 rural district to Co. Roscommon; Ballinamore rural district to County Cavan, and Manorhamilton and Kinlough rural districts to Co. Sligo.

KURDISH REBELS' LAST STAND.

DESPERATE FIGHT ON MOUNT ARARAT.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
ANGORA, Friday.

It is reported from the frontier that the Kurdish rebels who were on the east and south slopes of Mount Ararat have been wiped out.

The Turkish troops are in possession of the strategic posts on Mount Ararat, and only one band of rebels is holding out on the rocky north slope, but these are also surrounded.

The band is putting up a desperate fight, but their numbers are being gradually reduced.

FIERCE GIPSY BATTLE.

FOUR MEN BADLY INJURED.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
CORDOBA, Friday.

A regular battle raged here late this afternoon between rival bands of gipsies, who fought each other with knives, revolvers, stones and bludgeons—in fact, with anything they could lay their hands upon.

Four of the combatants were seriously injured, one receiving as many as fifty knife stabs in his body.

The police were able eventually to restore order, and arrest several of the ringleaders.

NEW FRENCH AIR RECORD.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
LE BOURGET, Friday.

The aviator, Fauvel, has succeeded in obtaining for France a new world record for light aeroplanes, by a flight on the Le Bourget-Vauciennes circuit of about 65½ miles. His aeroplane, which weighed 200 kilogrammes—4 cwts.—flew round the circuit ten times, in 17 hours 33 minutes 55 seconds, having covered a distance of 1,049 kilometres (655 miles). The flight was made in bad weather. The former "record" was held by the Hungarian, Artad Lampish.

DRAINAGE SCHEME.

The estimated total cost of carrying out the proposed drainage scheme at Sugarstown and Kilfane, THOMASTOWN, under the Arterial Drainage Act, 1925, is £2,370, of which the Free State Government will provide 50 per cent. and the Kilkenny County Council 19½ per cent.

NEWRY'S INDEBTEDNESS.

At an inquiry which was held yesterday in regard to applications for loans of £5,000 under the Small Dwellings Acquisition Act and £3,000 under the Subsidy Housing Acts, Northern Ireland, by the NEWRY Urban Council, it was stated that the total indebtedness of the town amounted to £157,643.

SKATING "RECORD."

Mr. Harry Scott, Belfast, broke the world's "record" yesterday morning for roller-skating at the Agincourt Rink, Ormeau road, BELFAST, when he concluded an effort at ten o'clock which had lasted for fifty-one hours. He is thirty-four years of age, and during the fifty-one hours was fed on milk, beef tea, and occasionally a little brandy.

RESIGNATION.

Mr. J. Beatty, Agricultural Instructor and Secretary to CAVAN County Committee of Agriculture, has resigned to take up the position of Junior Inspector under the Department. Mr. J. J. Hogan, Agricultural College, Ballyhaise, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Beatty, the position being temporary for six months.

DERRY RELIEF SCHEME.

The Northern Ministry of Labour has sanctioned a relief scheme submitted by the DERRY Corporation for the construction of the Altnahegish dam and the provision and laying of a connecting pipe between the dam and the mechanical filters. The scheme, which is in connection with the Banagher water supply for Derry City, will provide 234 weeks' work for 250 men, and will commence in November.

DERRY SHIPPING.

At the meeting of the LONDONDERRY Port and Harbour Commissioners yesterday it was reported that there arrived at the port during August six trans-Atlantic passenger steamers (59,385); forty regular cross-Channel steamers (19,898); three foreign trade (5,386); forty-two coal laden (5,746), and fourteen other vessels (1,440), making a total of 105 with a tonnage of 91,855, as against 106 with a tonnage of 102,215 in August, 1929. The Chairman (Mr. R. H. Smyth, D.L.) said that the decrease was due to the fact that a trans-Atlantic steamer less had arrived last month.

TURMERIC IN PEPPER.

Alexander Armstrong, Ballinamallard, CO. FERMANAGH, was charged before Major Dickie, R.M., yesterday with selling adulterated pepper, and the analyst's certificate showed that the pepper contained 20 per cent. turmeric. Mr. Burke, Solicitor for defendant, said that the pepper had been bought guaranteed pure. Major Dickie said that there had been a great number of these cases all over the country, and in some there had been a discrepancy in the analysts' certificates. In this case the Probation of Offenders Act would apply, and defendant would be discharged on payment of court costs.

DANCE INCIDENT.

District Justice O'Donoghue, at FERBANE (King's County) Court, fined two young men, Michael O'Connor, of Clonascra, and Kieran Darcy, of Clonascra, 2s. 6d. each, and ordered them to pay 10s. each compensation for malicious damage to the workshop and dwelling-house of John Coughlan. Coughlan, who is a carpenter, said that he gave the workshop for a dance to Patrick O'Connor, a brother of the defendant. As the dance was in progress stones were thrown on the roof of the house, and windows were broken in the workshop and dwelling. Witness found defendants gathering stones, but he was afraid to challenge them. The Justice said that defendants did this because they were not, perhaps, invited to the dance. They were cowardly brutes and looked it, and he would send them to jail if it occurred again.

TAHITI'S MAILS.

The steamer Tahiti, which sank in the Pacific Ocean during a gale, had on board a consignment of New Zealand mails for Northern Ireland. The mail bags, after a protracted journey, arrived in BELFAST yesterday morning, one of them being water-logged. When the Tahiti was sinking, it appears, the mails were transferred to another steamer at the same time as the passengers. During the transference one of the bags—from Auckland to Belfast—fell into the sea. It was retrieved, and the consignment eventually arrived at the Belfast Post Office via Heysham yesterday morning. The letters in the bag which fell into the sea were badly damaged, and had to be patched up by the Belfast Post Office staff. They were delivered in the city and district during the day with a printed apology for the damage.

MULLINGAR WATER SUPPLY.

At the meeting of MULLINGAR Mental Hospital Committee yesterday—Mr. P. Dooner presiding—a letter was read from the Free State Minister for Local Government, enclosing a copy of a letter which had been addressed to the Westmeath County Board of Health, sanctioning a loan of £8,000 from the Local Loans Fund for the purpose of defraying expenditure in connection with the proposed improvement of Mullingar water supply. The letter stated:—"It is understood that the Joint Committee of Management of the Mullingar Mental Hospital have under consideration a water supply for the hospital. As the extension and improvement of the Mullingar water supply should provide an ample water supply to the town, it is suggested that the Board of Health might confer with the Committee of the Mullingar Mental Hospital with a view to arranging for a joint scheme, under which an adequate supply of water would be secured for the Mental Hospital." Mr. McGurl said that this matter was before the Joint Committee on a former occasion and they could not agree as to terms. They then decided to provide their own water supply independent of Mullingar. On the motion of Mr. McGurl, it was decided to adhere to the decision already arrived at, and the letter was marked "read."

CAVAN LIBRARIAN.

Mr. Gerald Edward Guise-Brown, of Rathgar, Dublin, has been appointed County Librarian for CAVAN.

APPOINTMENT.

Alderman W. H. Alexander has been unanimously appointed Chairman of the Technical Sub-Committee of the BELFAST Education Committee. The Alderman also is vice-chairman of the main committee.

MISSING KILN OF STOUT.

In the LIMERICK district Court yesterday, before Justice Flood, Mortimer Lynch, who was convicted of the larceny of a kiln of stout, valued at £8, from the Great Southern Railways' goods stores, was, having regard to his previous good character, given a suspensory sentence of three months and directed to give bail of £10.

FARMER'S THROAT CUT.

"Death from wounds, self-inflicted while temporarily insane," was the verdict returned at the inquest which was held at AUGHNACLOY yesterday on the body of William James Sleith (75), unmarried, a farmer, of Dernabane, who was found dead in bed with his throat cut, and a blood-stained razor lying near by. Dr. Pringle said that the deceased man's mental condition was unsatisfactory lately.

FATAL FALL.

Dr. James Graham, the Coroner for BELFAST, returned a verdict of "accidental death," at yesterday's inquest on the body of Alexander Kennedy (44), of Fitzwilliam street, Belfast, who died in the Royal Victoria Hospital on Friday last as the result of a fractured skull and meningitis. The Coroner said that he was satisfied that the deceased man had been injured by falling down the stairs, and had not received his injuries outside.

MISSING DEFENDANT.

Daniel Cahalane, farmer, residing at Ballybawn, Ballydehob, Co. CORK, who was remanded on a charge of cattle-stealing at a special court in Bantry to the District Court, which was held last Thursday, failed to appear. Mr. Healy, solicitor, who appeared for the State, applied for a warrant for his arrest, which was granted. Mr. Healy also applied to have the recognisances of the sureties estreated, and the case was adjourned pending the service of the necessary notices.

FATAL INJURIES.

John McNeece (30), of DERRYMAGONE, Co. Armagh, who was employed on the night shift at the firm of Messrs. Anthony Cowdy and Sons, Ltd., bleachers, finishers and dyers, Greenhall, Co. Armagh, accidentally fell into a tank of boiling bleaching liquid, known as "boiling dip." A fellow-worker, John O'Hara, succeeded in pulling him out, and Captain Cowdy motored him to Armagh Infirmary, where he succumbed to his injuries yesterday morning.

ACQUITTED.

"We are all agreed that she leaves the court without a stain on her character," said Mr. H. Toppin, R.M., in the BELFAST Custody Court yesterday in refusing informations in a case in which Madge Morrison, a domestic servant, was charged with breaking and entering the dwelling-house of Thomas Keenan, Lansdowne road, last Thursday. The girl having given evidence collapsed in the witness-box when Mr. Toppin announced his decision. She was assisted out of court by two policemen.

BURGLARY CHARGE.

Evidence of the police discovering two men inside and one outside the residence of Miss Edith M'Cann, 3 College Park East, Belfast, at 4 a.m. on September 4 was given in the City Custody Court yesterday, when Robert Bloomer, Thomas Walker, and Edgar George Downing, of no fixed address, were remanded in custody for a week on a charge of burglary. There was an additional charge against Robert Bloomer of breaking and entering the dwellinghouse of James Kilpatrick, Theenagran, Crumlin road, and stealing property to the value of about £50, in connection with which he was also remanded.

STRIKE SEQUEL.

In the LIMERICK City District Court yesterday, there was a sequel to the strike of boy painters employed at the locomotive works of the Great Southern Railways, when ten of the strikers were charged before Justice Flood with intimidating and assaulting Martin Moore and Ernest Sherwood. The evidence showed that on leaving the railway works on September 8 they were assaulted by the accused men. Six of the defendants were fined £1 and bound to the peace for three months in £5 and two sureties of £5 each; and four of the defendants also were directed to give bails for three months for their good behaviour.

DROWNED IN THE BOYNE.

Denis Tumulty (45), an unmarried man, living at Oulster lane, DROGHEDA, was drowned in the River Boyne last Thursday night when attempting to board the steamer Meathside, one of the Irish Fresh Meat Company's steamers, which has been lying moored in Drogheda Harbour. Tumulty was crossing from the quayside to the boat by means of the mooring ropes, when he slipped, and, losing his hold of one of the ropes, was left hanging by the other one over the water. A man named McGinn, who was in the vicinity at the time, seeing Tumulty's precarious position, went for help. When he returned with other men Tumulty had disappeared, having been, apparently, unable to hold on any longer. The men procured a boat and searched the water, but it was not until two hours later that the body was recovered.

MILKING BY ELECTRICITY.

At the monthly meeting of the Joint Committee of Management of MULLINGAR Mental Hospital yesterday, Mr. P. Dooner presiding, when the question of the proposed introduction to the institution of electrical machines for milking came up on the agenda, the Chairman said that there was a letter from Mr. E. C. D. Colgan, County Councillor, asking to have it adjourned to next meeting as he was unable to attend that day. Mr. D. Dunne (Longford)—I propose that we do not get it. I may say that since last meeting I travelled to Roscrea and saw the machine working. It did its work well. I am opposing it in the interests of the ratepayers. The machine will cost us £300. Mr. R. Belton seconded. After discussion, Mr. Dunne withdrew his motion, and the further consideration of the matter was adjourned to the next meeting.

MARSHAL JOFFRE'S HEALTH.

WIFE DENIES ALARMIST REPORTS.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
LOUVECIENNES (NEAR PARIS), Friday.

The wife of Marshal Joffre denies the alarmist reports regarding the state of her husband's health.

"You must forget," she said, "that the Marshal is now 75 years old, and is no longer able to assist at all the receptions to which he is invited. To-morrow we are leaving for Evian, and from there we propose going on to the Savoy and the Midi."

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK IN GREECE.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
ATHENS, Friday.

An earthquake shock was felt at Isthmia, a district of Corinth, to-day. The shock was felt in Athens. No damage is reported.

At a special meeting of the NORTH TIPPERARY Co. Council last Thursday, the sealed order from the Free State Local Government Department making it imperative on the Council to appoint Mr. T. C. Courtney, Dalkey, as County Surveyor at the salary of £775, plus 6d. per mile travelling expenses, came up for discussion. The Council passed a resolution appointing Mr. Courtney at a salary of £700, rising by £20 per annum to £800, plus travelling expenses. They entered a strong protest against having to do so, and, as representatives of the ratepayers of North Tipperary, requested the Ministry to see that the travelling expenses incurred did not exceed £150 per annum.

CANADIAN GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

LORD WILLINGDON'S BIRTHDAY.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
OTTAWA, Friday.

On the occasion of his 64th birthday, the Governor-General, Viscount Willingdon, to-day receives messages of congratulation and good-will from friends and admirers from many parts of the world, including India, where he was Governor of Bombay, and Governor of the Madras Presidency.

Lord Willingdon has been Governor-General of Canada since August 5th, 1926. The people of Canada are whole-heartedly joining in the felicitations showered on him.

ARTIFICIAL CURVES.

Whenever an accident occurs at Brooklands—fortunately a rare occurrence (says The Autocar)—there is inevitably a protest against the dangers of the sport; but before one condemns it is necessary to know the truth of the case. The fatal accident which occurred on Saturday last took place, not on the open track, but on an artificial sand-banked bend. There was no question of any lack of practice, the competitor having negotiated the same curve at least twenty times that very morning. The important question is whether these artificial curves, so constructed, are essentially dangerous. It is generally admitted that a bend formed by three projecting sandbanks of equal height is much harder to judge than an actual road curve. Moreover, in this case, though it was possible for a competitor who approached the first, or left-hand, curve at too high a speed to overshoot the corner by breaking a string of flags, no provision for escape was made for the second right-hand curve. The competitor who misjudged it had no alternative but to charge the bank. It should surely be laid down that each bend should, where humanely possible, be provided with a relief road; and, secondly, that where sandbanks are employed to form a curve, they should be disposed so as to mark a channel of equal width right through the bend, instead of forming what is, in effect, a bottleneck which allows the first portion of the curve to be taken at a much greater speed than the second half will permit.

The Cheap Car.

In this age of stabilised or increased charges one commodity furnishes a notable exception. The cost of British motor cars is falling as steadily as the barometer fell during the month of August. Any citizen who paid £500 for a motor car three or four years ago, and has kept it in good condition, will be lucky if he can get £100 for it to-day. Second-hand cars are "a drug in the market" because that market is being filled with a stream of continuously improved models at continuously cheaper prices. Several causes in combination have produced this result. One is the very notable enterprise and energy of the British manufacturers, who are beating America in her own game of mass production. Another is that change in the people's social outlook which is transforming the motor car from one of the luxuries of life into one of its necessaries. Another cause, no doubt, is the growth of the hire-purchase system; and yet another is the instinct which impels every man, once initiated as a motorist, to desire a better and bigger car. There is no sign that the limit of cheapness has been reached or is even in sight. It is announced that next month's Motor Show at Olympia will be made memorable by new triumphs of design, economy and skill. Cheap cars will become cheaper and, at the same time, will offer a better appearance and a better performance. Already some of the largest manufacturers have announced "cuts," ranging from £5 to £70, in their popular models.

It seems, then, that the ideal of "motoring for the million," which so lately as ten years ago was fantastic, is about to be fulfilled. Such fulfilment will bring a vast increase of human happiness. Some of life's ugliest cares and most irksome problems vanish, or at least are mitigated, for the man who is master of his locomotion. The beneficent change has been visible at work during the last ten years when—if we may assume a rough average—the cheapest motor car has represented an income of £500 a year. Hundreds of families, once in populous city pent, have discovered the delights of the open air, have been able to move their homes into the countryside, have found new joys in the annual holiday. Within another year or two, perhaps, the cheapest motor car will represent an annual income of £300; and this expansion of the motoring army will have far-reaching effects on the national life. In England it will abate some of the worst features of industrialism. Dingy squares will be deserted for green fields, and "garden cities" will tempt thousands of clerks and foremen who now live within the shadow of their offices and factories. Moreover, the example of such people will stir a healthy discontent in the working classes of the industrial slums. Where the cheapest motor car ends the motor omnibus begins, and no artisan, save the very poorest, is now doomed inexorably to the life of mean streets. In Dublin the motor car and the omnibus have induced already a health-giving development of the suburban districts.

Other aspects of the cheap motor car's triumph are less engaging. The severe economist will regard the hire-purchase system as a temptation to extravagance. The moralist will fear, perhaps, that the cheap motor car adds a new distraction to an age of flurry and fuss—that it must stimulate the craze for amusement, and that, with its advent, the last defences of the old-fashioned home will be shattered. Such apprehensions do not leave us unmoved, but, for the moment at least, one urgent and dominating problem expels them. In its discovery of the countryside the motor car threatens to put the country's roads out of action. Even now the peril of the roads is grave, and with every new day a longer catalogue of accidents is announced. If this is the situation now, what will it be when a motor car becomes a normal appurtenance of £300 a year? In the first place, a huge number of new cars will be added to the roads; and, in the next place, the majority of their drivers will be raw and inexperienced. The growth of motor traffic—perhaps, the most disconcerting phenomenon of our time—has taken society and the legislatures completely by surprise. No existing traffic Act can cope with it, and no future Act, based on the principles of existing legislation, is likely to be more successful. The problem demands, and sooner or later must receive, the most drastic treatment. Two essentials of any real solution must be a wholesale reconstruction of roads and the infliction of the severest penalties, including long terms of imprisonment, for ignorant or reckless driving.

Sea-borne Trade.

In its annual shipping review the United States Department of Commerce paints a gloomy picture of the condition of sea-borne trade throughout the world. On the last date for which figures are available the number of gross tons of idle shipping in the principal maritime centres of the world was 2,055,000 greater than it was on the corresponding date of last year. Naturally, Great Britain, with her enormous fleet of merchant ships, heads the list with an increase of 823,000 tons, or 145 per cent., on the amount of idle tonnage. For the first time since the war German ships to the extent of 214,000 tons have been laid up, and a serious depression is reported from almost every port. Freight rates, which provide a rough criterion of the condition of the shipping trade, again have fallen. The index figure for full cargo rates, reckoned for six representative commodities over twelve trade routes, stood at 85 for the first quarter and at 83 for the second quarter of the current year. The corresponding figure for 1921 was 102, and for the second quarter of 1929 it was 98. Previously the lowest index figure was 86 for the second quarter of 1926. The depression in shipping is universal. Its incidence is less in the United States than in any other maritime country on account of the activities of the Shipping Board; and it is greatest, of course, in the British Empire. Nevertheless, more ships are being built. The number of tons under construction at present is greater by 211,000 than the number twelve months ago. The United States takes the lead in this respect, but next year, when the new liners for the White Star and Cunard Lines are under way, Britain probably will come to the fore again. One of the most interesting features of the shipbuilding situation is the growing preponderance of motor vessels. Last year 50 per cent. of the ships under construction were motor-driven; the percentage now has risen to 63. Although Britain is more than holding her own in the building of motor ships—Belfast leads the world—the gradual disappearance of the older type of vessel bodes ill for British industry. There was a time when British coal was almost indispensable for the world's shipping. Steam coal from South Wales had no equal, and its sale at a large profit to foreign countries enabled cheap supplies to be available for the home market. Thus production costs in Britain were maintained at a comparatively low level; the prosperity of the coal industry for more than a generation governed the progress of British trade. Those days are gone. The coal age has given way to the age of oil, and Britain is suffering the depression of a transition period. Most other coal-producing countries are in a similar plight, and years must pass before their economic systems can recover.

A School for Mariners.

On another page we give particulars of the Marine Preparatory School which will be opened at Arklow on September 22nd. The scheme, which is wholly admirable and deserves every support, is due largely to the enterprise of Mr. H. Painting, the Principal of the County Wicklow Joint Technical Committee. Some two or three years ago a commission, appointed by the Government, recommended Arklow and Galway as suitable centres for the training of sailors, and thus Mr. Painting's suggestion found authority ready to listen. Under the auspicious ægis, therefore, of the County Wicklow Joint Technical Committee, the Ministry of Education and the Marine Section of the Department of Industry and Commerce, some sixteen boys soon will assemble to learn the trade of the sea. Their training will not be partial or short-sighted. Not only will they continue the general education that they have received at their national schools, but they will be taught the rudiments of all branches of seamanship—mathematics, navigation, signals and handicraft. The end in view is the acquisition of a mate's certificate, and after two years at Arklow the boys will proceed to sea for four or six years, when they will return for the Board of Trade examination. Mr. Painting made a tour of English nautical schools and he pays a high tribute to the advice which he obtained. Especially does he refer to the help given to him by Lieutenant Heather, of the Maisie Graham, which visited Dublin last year. Too long Irish boys whose love of adventure called them seawards have lacked a proper novitiate. They have been obliged to lounge about docks and obtain employment in a haphazard manner, with little hope of preferment. The school at Arklow will be a great step in the required direction, and we congratulate everybody concerned

Bees and Rheumatism.

wrote Blake; but, according to Dr. Kretschy, of the Immenin Institute, Berlin, it is other things as well. It is balm to the rheumatic and health to sufferers from nervous and vascular diseases. This statement was made in all seriousness by the learned doctor before the International Apis Conference at the Crystal Palace, and, since it was endorsed by so great an authority as Dr. Maximilian Grunsfeld, head physician of the Hydropathic Institute, Vienna, it must command our respectful attention. Fortunately, rheumatic patients will not be invited to endure the wrath of an infuriated hive; for in this crude form the poison merely hurts, but does not heal. Dr. Kretschy has discovered a preparation which is said now to be available to all doctors, and with it rheumatism will be attacked with brave hopes of success. The theory that a bee's sting is a remedy for rheumatic troubles is of great antiquity, but hitherto cures, possibly owing to the cowardice of the afflicted, have been infrequent, if indeed a single authentic case is known. If Dr. Kretschy's invention should justify the hopes that are entertained of it, mankind will owe another debt to this most unselfish of insects. The bee, in addition to honey, has given us much. Without its unflagging labours—the life of a worker-bee is the life of its wings—we should not be able to enjoy mead, the Fourth Georgic, or the works of such delightful prose-writers as Tickner Edwards. Now it promises to add to these gifts a remedy for one of the direst complaints to which middle-age is heir. The occasion seems to demand something from the pen of a ready writer, and we offer the idea to the Poet Laureate; for the subject is one which Rome's greatest poet did not scorn.

LONDON LETTER

UNEMPLOYMENT.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
FRIDAY NIGHT.

On the return of Mr. Ramsay Macdonald from Scotland there is quite an outbreak of activity in Government circles, and the Prime Minister has spent most of his time holding consultations with members of the Cabinet and other leading political officials. It is expected that the result of this activity will be apparent before long, because Mr. Macdonald is anxious to formulate his schemes to deal with unemployment at the earliest possible moment. The resumption of increases in unemployment figures, after a small decrease for one week only, has been a shock to the Government; for it was hoped that the limit had been reached. Such is not the case, however, and experts predict that the increases will continue for many weeks to come. It is manifest that the Government must experience a very trying time during the next few weeks; for, apart from its domestic troubles, which are not trifling, it will have to deal with wider questions, such as the Imperial Conference and the Round Table Conference. It is expected in Whitehall that Cabinet meetings and consultations will continue until the end of the month.

The Cost of Safety.

It is probable that the British taxpayer will have much to say concerning the announcement from Whitehall this afternoon that twelve new Government posts are to be created at salaries of £1,000 per annum. The successful applicants for these positions are to be Chairmen of the Traffic Commissions in the twelve provincial areas, created under the Road Traffic Act, and every one of them will be provided with a staff. Every Chairman will have the company of two other Commissioners with a salary, and still more officials will be required to examine vehicles and to carry out other duties. It is rather singular that this announcement should be made immediately after the Association of Chambers of Commerce had issued a demand for a complete overhaul of the national and local expenditure of the country.

Exchange Loss in French Rentes.

The Evening Standard says that, despite representations by the British Government, France is preparing to repay the 5 p.c. Rentes, subscribed in 1915, in francs, and this will mean a loss to the British investors of £24,000,000. Over £32,000,000 was subscribed in this country. The loss arises out of the revaluation of the franc. Every British investor paid 27½ francs to purchase £1. Late in 1928 the franc was fixed at 124.21 to the £. The date foreshadowed for repayment of twenty-five per cent. of the loan by the French Ministry of Finance is January next. France at present is rich in gold reserves, but she has the legal right to pay in francs. If she repays at the issue price—27½ francs—the British investor will have lost approximately seventy-five per cent. of his money. In March last Mr. Snowden's attention was called to this possibility, and recently representations were made to the French Government. They have been ignored, however, by M. Tardieu, the French Premier, and his colleagues

The Coal Trade.

A delegation representing the British coal trade is to leave this country to-morrow on a visit to Sweden, Norway and Denmark in order to study the position of our export market in those countries and to consider such steps as may be found possible to secure an improvement. The delegation will be headed by Mr. E. Shinwell, Secretary for Mines, and he is to be accompanied by Mr. H. W. Cole, the Assistant Under-Secretary for Mines. Mr. A. W. Archer, Mr. J. R. D. Bell, Sir Alfred Cope, Mr. Ridley Warham and Captain M. J. Wemyss will represent the coalowners; and Mr Lindsay Carlow, Sir Walter Raine, M.P., and Mr. R. M. Stewart will represent the coal exporters. The delegation is to visit Stockholm, Bergen, Oslo, Gothenburg and Copenhagen and to confer, among other important interests, with the Scandinavian Coal Exporters' Federation. It will have a difficult task; for, in addition to the conferences, it is proposed that it shall make a complete investigation into competitive prices, quality of competitor's product, as compared with British forward sales, and possibilities of guaranteeing calorific values within the space of a week. The present situation is the result of the general strike in 1925; for, since that time, the Polish exporters have been gaining ground in Scandinavia, mainly at the expense of the British coal industry. Our exports have dropped by over a million tons since 1925, while those of Poland have increased by nearly five million tons.

Sir Eric Geddes.

The statement issued by Sir Eric Geddes yesterday on behalf of the Dunlop Rubber Company has attracted very great attention, and it is considered generally that he has given sound advice. There is a feeling to-day that, while the rubber market may be in the doldrums at present, it is almost certain to recover when there is a revival in trade. It is possible that greater importance was attached to the announcement of Sir Eric Geddes, owing to the reputation which he gained during the War, when he occupied several of the foremost positions in the State. He retired from political life while he had still a great reputation, and it is said that he now is extremely reluctant to step into the limelight at any time unless he deems such a move to be absolutely necessary.

Photography.

The Exhibition of the Royal Photographic Society was opened to-day. Captain Philip P. Quayle has produced a series of pictures to show what happens when a shot-gun muzzle is blocked up with bits of clay. These are the first pictures of the kind ever made, and of exceptional interest to sportsmen. Extraordinary speed is needed to take such pictures, and the exposure for one of them was one-millionth of a second.

A new camera is shown which has been specially designed for taking snapshots from an aeroplane. The ordinary hand camera is not suitable, because it is not sufficiently rigid, but the new kind is "aimed" like a pistol and has a very large lens. New York from the air is shown in a fine series of panoramic views. One of these impressive pictures shows the tall skyscrapers, banked by fog and smoke, while another shows the steamer Muenchen blazing furiously in New York Harbour. Mr. Geoffrey E. Peachey has taken a complete set of photographs of Hadrian's Wall which are of special interest, because portions of this Roman barrier are in danger of destruction. One of the pictures shows ruts made in the road by Roman chariot wheels, and they are exactly four feet eight and a-half inches apart—the same as modern railway lines.

An Early Winter.

Dr. Baur, a noted German expert on the weather, prophesies that we shall have an early winter this year, though it may not be a severe one. That it will begin early is the only certain thing, and further observations and calculations are necessary before its character can be decided. The fact that enormous masses of ice have been concentrating in the Polar regions for months and soon will be creeping down the centre of Europe, where there has been a low pressure for a long time past, does not sound promising.

GREAT EXCITEMENT AT NEWPORT.

CONDITIONS OF THE CONTEST.

THE first race for the America's Cup will start at, approximately, 4.40 p.m., Greenwich summer time, to-day, says Reuter's Newport, Rhode Island, Correspondent.

Shamrock and Enterprise were out for a short time yesterday afternoon.

Sir Thomas Lipton stated: "I feel strongly that this time we have a fairly good chance."

Mr. Harold Vanderbilt, one of the syndicate that own the defending yacht Enterprise, said: "We are looking forward to a close, clean and hard-fought series of races."

There is much speculation on the chances of the rival yachts, and the betting by Americans yesterday was said to be fifty-fifty.

Below we print a table showing the dimensions and sail area of the rival craft, and our Yachting Correspondent in a special article tells of the conditions in which the race will be run.

FROM THE PRESS ASSOCIATION SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND, Friday.

Great Britain and the United States, whose vessels have met both in war and in sporting rivalry on the sea during the past hundred and fifty years, meet on the ocean once again to-morrow (Saturday).

Shamrock V., the beautiful yacht upon which Sir Thomas Lipton has staked his final hope for the achievement of his life-long ambition to take the America's Cup back to Great Britain, and Enterprise, the United States defender, swung easily at their moorings here to-night, groomed and ready for the great race, which will start just before noon, twelve miles south-east of Newport.

Sir Thomas Lipton has a better chance of carrying off the symbol of the world's yachting supremacy this year than he has ever had before. The conditions under which Shamrock V. and Enterprise will race during the next week will favour neither vessel.

THE YACHTS COMPARED.

For the first time since the Cup went to America the ratings of the two yachts will be approximately equal, as the following comparative tables show:—

	SHAMROCK V.	ENTERPRISE.
Overall length..	119.98 ft.	120.40 ft.
Waterline length	81.43 ft.	80.00 ft.

A FAVOURABLE VIEW.

American opinion generally is, of course, in favour of Enterprise, but one man, whose opinion and experience is respected by all the best yachtsmen here, holds a different view. That man is Bill Champion, who has sailed every type of yacht about the water off Newport for nearly half a century. Of late years he has settled down to a profitable launch-hiring business in the harbour, but his views are treated with the greatest respect. Champion's considered verdict is that Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht will be successful, and that Great Britain will take the America's Cup after seventy-nine years of waiting.

"Shamrock," says Champion, "is the faster boat of the two in light or moderate weather. They are both great yachts, but Shamrock is the one I like. If I were to be given my pick of the two, I would take Shamrock. She is trimmer and smarter, and I don't think she will suffer from lack of the many mechanical devices Mr. Vanderbilt has in Enterprise."

AMERICAN BETTING DOWN.

Although American yachtsmen are betting 3 to 2 in favour of Enterprise, Sir Thomas Lipton himself is more confident of victory than at any time since he first came to the United States with the first Shamrock a generation ago in search of "the old mug."

Interviewed by the Press Association Special Correspondent here to-day, Sir Thomas said:—"I feel strongly that this time we have a fairly good chance, as the conditions are now in every way as equal as they can be. My motto, after thirty years' chasing the elusive trophy, still remains: 'May the best boat win,' and perhaps I might add, 'May the best boat be the Shamrock.'"

MR. VANDERBILT'S MESSAGE.

Mr. Harold Vanderbilt asked the Press Association Correspondent to convey the following message to the British public:—"It seems fitting, on the eve of the international yacht races, to state that the afterguards and crews of both yachts are tuned to the highest pitch and are ready for the starting gun. The friendliest relations exist between us and our adversaries, who are the finest sportsmen we know, and we are looking forward to a close, keen and hard-fought series of races."

WHAT CRITICS THINK.

Mr. Vanderbilt is naturally hopeful as to Enterprise's chances, and in this opinion he is backed up by the critics here, who, while admitting that Shamrock has a better chance than any of the previous thirteen challengers, hold that she is not quite fast enough to wrest the victory from Enterprise. There are several factors which, in the opinion of these critics, favour the American yacht, and the chief of these is that she is equipped with numerous new mechanical devices for hoisting sails and performing various intricate operations when sailing, thus saving valuable seconds. On the other hand, Shamrock, following the custom of her forerunners, relies entirely on man power.

Another point which the Americans hold will tell in favour of the defender is that Mr. Vanderbilt is said to have so developed his crew for efficiency in drill and manœuvres that they resemble a combination of a company of Guardsmen and a Drury Lane ballet. They can execute orders faster and with a greater degree of precision than any crew in yachting history, and to gain even more efficiency they perform athletic exercises daily, under special trainers, as a part of their intensive preparation for this—the most keenly contested of all yachting races.

A POSSIBLE SURPRISE.

On the other hand, many good judges, in addition to Bill Champion, believe that Shamrock may surprise her adversary. She is a superbly constructed yacht, sailed by one of England's finest skippers and has shown astonishing performances, in light weather once sailing past the American defence candidates when they were becalmed. Moreover, yachtsmen were much impressed by her performance during her brief sail in Narragansett Bay yesterday, when, in a twenty-two knot breeze, which overheeled her until her rail was under water, she handled splendidly. The challenger's canvas, too, seems almost perfect. To all appearances she has not an ill-fitting sail.

Both yachts, in the opinion of those connected with them, are now in the best possible condition for to-morrow's race. Both were out for a short time this afternoon, not so much to keep the crews and sails in condition as to keep the vessels' bottoms clean and free from marine growths, which collect rapidly here when a vessel is lying at anchor.

POLICING THE COURSE.

The most elaborate arrangements have been made by the United States coast-guard patrol to police the course and prevent interference with the two yachts during the race by the horde of excursion steamers and miscellaneous craft which have flocked into the harbour by hundreds during the past few days.

The chances of the British challengers have been seriously affected in past years by the wash of steamers carrying sight-seers.

To-night, looking ghostly white in the moonlight, Shamrock and Enterprise rode at anchor in the Bay, surrounded by a galaxy of every conceivable kind of craft. More than a thousand boats are crowded in the narrow inlet, and still they come. Alongside ocean-going yachts owned by American millionaires are tiny yawls and cat boats, sailed by enthusiastic amateurs, in dirty white ducks, from neighbouring New England towns.

Late this evening Mr. J. P. Morgan's big black Corsair arrived bearing another complement of millionaires. Thousands have flocked here, including princes, millionaires, magnates of industry and finance, Peers of the Realm, and others to whom Broadway is the centre of the civilised universe. They have come to witness the most thrilling spectacle that international yachting can offer. Big private houses and hotels are crowded to the utmost limit. Every train, 'bus and motor car is packed. In short, it seems that the whole world of wealth and fashion is congregated to see the struggle between the finest examples of modern naval architecture under canvas in England and the United States.

HOW THE RACE WILL BE RUN.

COURSE AND CONDITIONS.

BY OUR YACHTING CORRESPONDENT.

All going well, wind and weather permitting, the first of the series of races which will decide whether Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock V., will, or will not, "lift" the America's Cup will be sailed to-day over a course of thirty miles laid out off Newport, Long Island. According to the conditions governing the race, the starting point will be defined by a mark nine nautical miles S.E. from the Brenton Reef Lightship. There will be two "get ready" signals. The first will be a warning signal (which gives the competitors the official time) ten minutes before the start; the next will be the preparatory signal (the yachts come now under the starter's control) five minutes later, and then, exactly five minutes later still, comes the actual start. In fact, the starting procedure apparently will be the same as that under the International Racing Rules at home.

THE START.

The time at which the start will be effected is specified also in the conditions—viz., as nearly as practical at 10.30 a.m. (New York time) for the warning signal. In no case shall it be after 12.30 p.m. Only in the case of fog, the crowding of the line by vessels, the fickleness or weakness of the prevailing wind, heavy weather, or serious accident shall the time for the warning signal be altered. It may be taken for certain, therefore, that the actual start of the race will be between 10.40 and 11 o'clock a.m., New York time, the equivalent Greenwich time, therefore, being 3.40 and 4 o'clock p.m.

What is desired being a race which will test the yachts, a time limit of 5½ hours has been imposed, within which the starters must finish the course, and for yachts of their class this is ample. If they took longer than that, the race would be uncommonly like a drifting match, and this or nothing like it is desired.

THE SPORTING ASPECT.

In fact, all through the preliminaries over this contest, the aim of preserving a sporting and testing match over Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth challenge is apparent. First of all, the boon which the late Earl of Dunraven craved for—that is, a race in open water and far from New York, so that there would be no or as little interference as possible from pleasure and excursion craft—was granted. In fact, the New York Yacht Club, the Cup custodians, made this change of their own volition.

A RATING RULE.

Next, there was the move of the club to place the yachts competing for the America Cup upon an equality as regards design and construction and size. It was desired to eliminate the racing machine once and for all. This was only made possible by adopting a rating rule acceptable by Lloyd's. Shamrock V., the challenger, and the four cutters built in America to defend the Cup—the Enterprise (the selected defender), the Whirlwind, Weetamoe and Yankee—were designed and built under the terms of this rating rule, which works out that a yacht must not exceed 75 feet rating.

A rating rule is a very technical affair. It works out like an equation, length on water-line, beam, sail area, etc., all count, and, in this case, must not exceed 75. If, say, a designer wants plenty of sail spread, well, then, some of the other factors in the measurements must pay for the excess. And so it is also with length on water-line, beam and so on. Three factors are all-important—viz., sail area to drive the yacht, beam to make the hull stiff enough to carry her canvas, and water-line length; for speed is proportionate to length.

ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE.

THE PROSPECTS.

AN INDIAN PRINCE'S OPTIMISM.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Friday.

His Highness the Maharaja of Patiala, Chancellor of the Chamber of Princes, who will lead the Indian Princes' Delegation at the Round Table Conference in London, is now in Paris.

Interviewed by Reuter's Special Correspondent, the Maharaja expressed optimistic views on the prospect of the forthcoming Conference, stating that both British India and Indian India had a great opportunity of arriving at a mutual understanding and making their respective positions clear to His Majesty's Government.

THE INDIA OF THE PRINCES.

So far as the India of the Princes was concerned, he said that, while the Indian States and their rulers sympathised with the British Indian desire for autonomy within the British Commonwealth, they would not consent to any weakening of the bond which united them in common loyalty to the King-Emperor.

Many of the rulers of the Indian States believed that some form of Federal scheme, in which the Indian States could play their part, offered, perhaps, the readiest road of advance towards the constitution of a greater India, with a status of equality with the King-Emperor's other Dominions, and they would not be found backward in lending their aid to the various developments which such a scheme entailed.

INDIAN RIGHTS.

But it must be realised that the Indian Princes and their people had rights of their own, rights which were entirely distinct from those of British India, and the first step towards the foundation of the greater India of future was to convince the Indian States that their rights would be satisfactorily secured.

It was difficult, he said, to see how this could be done unless the rule of law were instituted as a guiding principle in the dealings between the Indian States and any future Federal body. In order that a Federation of all India might become practicable, it was necessary that there should be established first a Supreme Federal Court, which would secure to each State unit in the Federation a proper quota of rights and duties.

HEAVY FIRING ON THE FRONTIER.

TRIBESMEN SHELLED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

SIMLA, Friday.

Reports from the North-West Frontier state that during Wednesday night, on the Peiwar front, there was heavy firing by hostile tribesmen on Utsar and on positions well within British territory. The hostile tribesmen were shelled.

An air reconnaissance reported the presence of camp fires and hostile parties along the Peiwar Ridge.

Firing continued all day on Wednesday, particularly heavy fire being directed against the Oeri Mangal militia post. The hostile tribesmen were again shelled in the evening. The firing, however, continued throughout last night. Pickets were fired on by tribesmen within the border, but the attack was not pushed home at any point. In the Kharlachi area all is quiet.

Air action is being continued against the two Chamkanni section which remain unsubdued. The Chitral relief column has arrived at Darora.

TAMMANY HALL SCANDALS.

ALLEGED CORRUPTION OF OFFICIALS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Friday.

More and more astonishing revelations are being made daily in connection with the investigations of "graft" in the administration of New York City, which is being conducted by the Federal and State authorities.

The public was shocked to learn to-day that Mr. Martin J. Healy, a prominent Tammany Hall figure, had, according to the announcement of the United States Attorney, Mr. C. A. Tuttle, received 22,000 dollars (£4,400) during the past nine years from a well-known publishing house to influence the selection of text books to be used in the elementary schools of New York. The contract between Mr. Healy and the firm has been published by Mr. Tuttle, who pointed out that at the time it was drawn up Mr. Healy was a member of the Board of Education.

THE MISSING JUDGE.

Meanwhile, a large force of detectives is scouring the country to find Mr. Justice Crater, who was last seen on August 6th. An amusing feature of this case is the way in which several chorus girls and night-club hostesses have, with true American appreciation of the value of publicity, suddenly bobbed up and claimed acquaintance with the missing judge. The late judge's friends allege that he was murdered by unknown enemies.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.

A third sensation concerns the mysterious death of a magistrate, a Scotsman named Andrew Creary, who died after a conference at the office of a well-known Tammany Hall leader. Sinister rumours of foul play have attained such wide publicity in the Press that it was announced to-day that the body would be exhumed for a post-mortem examination.

Critics of Tammany Hall assert that the magistrate was "beaten up"—and died of his injuries—for refusing to contribute to Tammany funds on his appointment to the Bench.

PILOT'S DARING FLIGHT

UNDER SUSPENSION BRIDGE.

An unknown pilot yesterday flew his aeroplane under the Clifton suspension bridge, at Bristol. He then rose into the air and disappeared. All efforts to identify him have failed. It was established, however, that he was not from the Royal Air Force base at Filton or Bristol Airport.

The bridge is 245 feet above the river, and has a span of 627 feet, and the danger of flying under it is greater because the gorge is winding.

The last pilot to do this feat was Sir Alan Cobham, in 1912, since when it has been strictly prohibited.

BRITISH PILGRIMS AT LOURDES.

IDLE SHIPPING.

AN INCREASE IN ALL COUNTRIES.

OCEAN FREIGHTS FALLING.

THE COMING OF THE MOTOR SHIP.

A decreas in ocean freights and an increase in idle tonnage as compared with a year ago are noted in the United States Department of Commerce's half-yearly shipping review, quoted by Reuter's New York Correspondent.

"The returns for idle tonnage reveal a world-wide decline in the activity of shipping," said the review, "there being at the middle of this year 2,055,000 gross tons more idle tonnage in the principal maritime countries of the world than at the middle of 1929.

UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN.

"The total for the United States was less by 280,000 tons than in 1929, but this was the result largely of the disposal of Shipping Board vessels for dismantling as privately-owned American tonnage increased during the same period.

"Great Britain, with its preponderance of the world's shipping, naturally laid up the most tonnage, its increase amounting to 823,000 tons or 1.45 per cent.

GERMAN TONNAGE.

"Another feature of these returns worthy of special note is the substantial amount of German tonnage laid up for the first time since the war. The available figures cover only Hamburg, but these show a total of 214,000 gross tons.

"The lack of balance between ships and cargoes is evidenced rather strikingly in the depression in freights. Full-cargo rates, which are more or less indicative of the market in general, again has declined to new low levels. The index numbers of these rates compiled by the Transportation Division based on six representative commodities over twelve leading trade routes stood at 85 for the first quarter of this year as contrasted with 102 for the corresponding quarter of 1921, and at 83 for the second quarter of this year, as compared with 98 for the corresponding quarter of 1929. Previously the lowest figure reached in the post-war years was 89 for the second quarter of 1926.

SHIPBUILDING.

There were 211,000 gross tons, or 7.5 per cent. more shipping under construction throughout the world on June 30th this year than a year earlier. The largest gain was in the United States, where the amount of work in hand was more than double. This gain is attributable to the stimulus of the Merchant Marine Act of 1928, which increased loan facilities and provided a comprehensive schedule of higher rates for the carriage of ocean mails to foreign countries by American ships.

"Motor ships have continued to gain in favour with shipowners, and at the middle of the year there were 488,000 gross tons more of this type of shipping under construction than at the middle of 1929. Of the total steam and motor shipping being built motor ships represented 63 per cent. as compared with 50 per cent. in 1929.

THE OVERSEAS TRADE.

"The world's oversea trade thus far this year has been unfavourable on the whole. Of particular interest is the heavy decline in traffic through both the Panama Canal and the Suez Canal so far this year, in marked contrast with the upward trend in the immediately preceding years."

UNEMPLOYMENT IN CANADA.

GOVERNMENT'S RELIEF SCHEME.

FROM A PRESS ASSOCIATION CORRESPONDENT.

OTTAWA, Friday.

Mr. R. B. Bennett, the Premier, announced in the House of Commons to-day that the order of procedure for the special session of Parliament would be as follows:—First, the Unemployment Bill; then the Amending of Customs Act, and, thirdly, the resolution preliminary to the introduction of the bill on tariff changes.

The unemployment measure, which now enters the second reading, provides for the appropriation of 20,000,000 dollars for constructing and improving public works, assisting in defraying the costs of distribution of products of the country, granting aid to the provinces and municipalities and the public work they may undertake for the relief of unemployment, and generally in any way that will assist in providing useful and suitable work for the unemployed.

The bill provides that a report will be laid before Parliament within fifteen days of the opening of the next session containing a full statement of the monies expended, and the purposes to which they have been applied.

STROMBOLI IN ERUPTION.

A TERRIFYING SPECTACLE.

RIVERS OF BURNING SAND DESTROY LIFE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
(DELAYED BY CENSOR.)

ROME, Thursday.

At 9.45 yesterday morning Stromboli broke into extraordinary activity, beginning with a tremendous explosion, accompanied by showers of flaming stones and molten matter, which started fires on the countryside.

Throughout the Lipari Islands to the north deep rumbling of the volcano was heard and some earthquake shocks were also experienced.

WARSHIPS ON THE SCENE.

In response to the urgent appeals for help from the terror-stricken inhabitants a destroyer and two torpedo boats were despatched from Messina, as also a relief ship with tents and provisions. Provincial Fascist authorities were also on board.

Five people are dead and fifteen seriously injured as a result of the eruption.

STREAM OF BURNING SAND.

This eruption of Stromboli was characterised by an unusual feature—namely, a stream of red hot sand, which poured from one of the lips of the volcano. The stream of sand was over fifty yards wide, and did great damage all along its course, which happily was not long.

The relief work, which is in the hands of officials from Messina and the neighbouring island of Lipari, is well under way. The two torpedo boats which were sent with supplies were able to return to Messina last night taking an injured woman with them. The woman was found to have a fractured leg and to be bruised and cut all over the body. Her face was also much burned.

STRUCK BY BURNING MASS.

She related that while she was trying to run away, terrified by a series of deafening explosions and a volcano of falling stones, she was struck by a burning mass which fell from a great height throwing her to the ground.

A group of five bodies was found at one spot, two of them, a mother and daughter of 16, being found clasped in each other's arms. They had evidently been trying to escape from their house when they were overcome. One old man was caught and drowned by a tidal wave which, according to the villagers, rose to a height of ten feet.

One woman, who is still missing, is believed to have met a like fate. Telegraphic communications are still much interrupted.

HOUSES AND LANDS SUFFER.

PEOPLE SLEEPING IN THE OPEN.

Little news is obtainable, says a Reuter's telegram from Rome on Friday, regarding the Stromboli eruption owing to the difficulty in communicating with the island, especially since the normal activities have been overthrown by the calamity.

One of the worst aspects of this eruption has been that rivers of burning sand flowed from the crater over the countryside below, covering in half an hour's course over fifty yards of fertile territory and damaging houses, fields and vineyards.

GRAPE HARVEST RUINED.

The damage to houses was chiefly caused by falling ashes, which reached a depth of six inches. In some places, notably Ginestra, nearly every house is damaged, the grape harvest being ruined there as elsewhere.

The relief work, which is in the hands of officials from Messina and the neighbouring island of Lipari, is well under way. The people, after their first terror, remained calm and faced their losses with remarkable fortitude.

BODIES FOUND IN LAVA.

Last night large numbers of them slept in the open or in tents provided by the relief parties, who set up kitchens and first-aid centres. The soldiers were engaged in keeping order and in performing salvage operations.

The bodies of four of the victims of the catastrophe were found this morning. Two of them had been burnt in the river of burning sand, and one had been drowned in the tidal wave caused by the eruption. It is believed that the body of the fifth victim has disappeared in the lava.

WORST SINCE 1907.

NUMBER OF VICTIMS UNKNOWN.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

ROME, Friday.

(Delayed by Censor.)

The present eruption of Stromboli is the worst since 1907, which also occurred in the late summer. The exact figures as to the number of victims and the extent of the damage are not yet known, but there can be no doubt they are considerable, as the whole island, which is one of the Aeolian group, north of Messina, is no more than five miles square.

It is almost entirely covered by luxuriant vineyards and fruit groves, and is dominated by the volcano, towering to a height of over 3,000 feet above. The volcano is in a state of almost continuous activity, and consequently little notice is usually taken when the lava bubbles up and explodes, throwing out showers of stones.

HOUSES DESTROYED.

This time, however, great red-hot rocks were thrown out, which fell on to the villages below, setting fire to the houses and creating terrible panic among the inhabitants, most of whom were working in the fields and vineyards. They rushed wildly to their homes at once, in the hope of saving their possessions.

Contrary to what has occurred in former eruptions, the lava, instead of flowing towards the sea, engulfed two villages, in both of which fires broke out destroying a large number of houses. The panic-stricken people are sleeping out of doors.

PEOPLE'S LIVELIHOOD GONE.

The whole livelihood of this island community depends on the harvests of the vineyards and the orchards. That the disaster should happen just when the fruit was about to be gathered makes it all the more calamitous.

In one fell stroke the hopes on which the peasants were building of participating in the National Grape Festival and the chance of winning a prize have been destroyed. Now there are only charred stumps sticking up from the ground where yesterday morning were luxuriant bunches of grapes and fields of waving corn.

POPULATION MOBILISED.

The authorities, fresh from the lesson of the recent earthquake in South Italy, have acted with admirable promptitude. They have sent four destroyers and torpedo boats from Messina with tents, food, clothing, medical supplies and detachments of firemen, soldiers and Fascist militia to undertake salvage work at once.

The Vice-President of Messina is in charge, and he is being assisted by other officials. The population of the island has been mobolised, and is showing remarkable

LATE NEWS.

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH "THE TIMES."

GERMANY'S CHOICE.

TO-MORROW'S CRITICAL ELECTION.

The Times to-day, in a leading article on "Germany's Choice," says:—To-morrow the German people will cast their votes in the fifth general election to the Reichstag since the adoption of the Republican Constitution by the National Assembly in 1919. The election is being watched with particular interest by the outside world, since the internal political situation is more than usually complicated, and in some respects critical. The real issue before the electorate is not so much whether this or that combination of parties shall govern, but, rather, whether the normal routine of parliamentary government shall continue. Indeed, it would scarcely be an exaggeration to state that the whole future of parliamentary government in Germany is at stake.

Herr Bruning, the Chancellor, has throughout his election campaign made an earnest and dignified appeal for a businesslike Reichstag, sufficiently stable to carry out the essential task of financial reform, which is the most urgent need of the day. But his appeal has been, to some extent, weakened by the veiled threats of dictatorship uttered by his less judicious colleague, Herr Treviranus, who has also supplied a good deal of ammunition for the Socialists by his unfortunate references to the Eastern frontier. The anxiety aroused in other countries by this untimely discursion into foreign politics has, to some extent, been dispelled by the statesmanlike speeches of Herr Curtius, who, with the Chancellor, has announced his adhesion to the straight road of the Stresemann policy, but the appeal to Nationalist feeling made by the parties of the Right during the election campaign has undoubtedly unsettled the minds of many of the public.

PROGRAMMES AND PARTIES.

Amid this welter of programmes and parties—there are no fewer than 24 of them—the German voter may well find himself a little perplexed, but the two really vital issues of the election must be clear enough to him. What Germany needs to-day is a democratic Government, strong enough to carry through the essential work of economic reconstruction, and wise enough to eschew dangerous adventures in foreign politics. Compared with these two great needs, little else matters. Once more the German people holds its destiny in its own hands. It has shown itself capable of wisdom and moderation in the past, and there is no reason to believe that it will be found wanting in these valuable qualities in the critical choice which lies before it to-morrow.

EXTRA-TERRITORIAL STATUS IN CHINA.

The Times Shanghai Correspondent wires under date September 12:—The visit of Sir Miles Lampson, the British Minister to Nanking, which, it is presumed, is for the main purpose of discussing extra-territoriality, is regarded by the British communities in China with considerable misgiving. This feeling finds expression in a blunt resolution drafted by the British Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai, and approved by all the other British Chambers of Commerce in China, which is being forwarded to him.

Briefly, the resolution expresses the opinion that, in view of present conditions in China, discussion in regard to modification of the extra-territorial status of British subjects should be deferred. The Hong Kong Chamber of Commerce, while considering the negotiations must proceed, urges that it would be andesirable for His Majesty's Government to come to any agreement on the subject now. While all the Chambers recognise that it may be impossible to avoid discussion of the question, they think it most undesirable that China should be led to hope that any modification is practicable while the affairs of the country are in such confusion.

THE NEW ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT.

QUESTION OF RECOGNITION

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Friday.

Will Great Britain or the United States be the first to recognise the new Government of the Argentine. This question is a topic of absorbing interest at present to diplomatic and official circles.

In view of the strenuous efforts that Great Britain is making to regain her old trade position in the Argentine, the opinion is expressed here that Downing street may decide by a sudden gesture to recognise the Government of General Uriburu immediately.

So far as Reuter's correspondent could learn from inquiry at the State Department, all the indications are that diplomatic relations will be resumed with the Argentine, Peru and Bolivia without undue delay, but the United States wishes to make sure of its ground, in order to avoid the embarrassment of recognising a Government which later might have difficulty in maintaining itself.

British investments in the Argentine are estimated at £400,000,000, as compared with America's £160,000,000.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AND ARGENTINE.

HEARTY WELCOME ASSURED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

BUENOS AIRES, Friday.

The new Argentine Government has given an assurance of a hearty welcome for the Prince of Wales should he attend, as arranged, the British Trade Exhibition here next year. The British Chamber of Commerce visited General Uriburu, the new President, to-day, and informed him of the plans for opening the Exhibition next year. The President promised the Exhibition his support.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Friday.

The Minister of Marine and Madame Dumesnil gave a dinner this evening in honour of Mr. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, who is now in Paris. HAILSTORMS IN FRANCE.

GREAT DAMAGE TO CROPS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT

PARIS, Friday.

It is not only in London that violent thunderstorms have been experienced. Terrific storms are sweeping Southern France with dire results.

At Montpellier immense hailstones have caused great damage to the crops. A saw-mill in a suburb of Perpignan was struck by lightning and burned down, the damage amounting to £8,000.

Further East Avignon and the whole Department of Vaucluse were swept by a succession of storms, the hail shattering the grapes which have not yet been harvested.

In the Var Department, vintage has been interrupted by the terrible weather.

A SEA LIFE.

THE PREPARATION OF IRISH BOYS.

NEW VENTURE AT ARKLOW.

MARINE SCHOOL OF NAVIGATION.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

ARKLOW, Friday.

A marine preparatory school for the training of boys who intend to follow the sea as a profession will commence its activities in Arklow on the 22nd September. The school will be the first and only one of its kind in this country, and owes its origin in great part to the initiative of Mr. H. Painting, Principal of the County Wicklow Joint Technical Committee.

"What put the idea in my head," said Mr. Painting, in the course of an interview with our representative, "was that Arklow was the foremost fishing centre in the country, with a tradition of seamanship, Arklow men being known in all ports of the world, and the thought struck me that Arklow should be made the home of a marine navigation school or college, where the training of future sailors should be part of the school curriculum. I mentioned the matter at the prize distribution of the Technical School in Arklow last February, though at the time I did not know that a Government inquiry held two or three years ago had recommended that Arklow and Galway should be made centres for the training of sailors.

GOVERNMENT HELP.

"Evidently my suggestion caught the attention of the Ministry, and the Department of Education interested itself in the matter. I have letters from both the Department of Education and the Marine Section of the Department of Industry and Commerce showing their interest. The latter Department have promised to help in securing positions for boys leaving the school, whilst the Department of Education has already made a substantial grant towards meeting the cost of the scheme."

To help in forming the scheme, the County Wicklow Technical Committee, with the approval of the Department of Education, sent Mr. Painting to England during the month of July last to visit the nautical schools at Liverpool, Grimsby, Hull and Scarborough.

IRISH BOYS IN ENGLISH SCHOOLS.

"When I was over there," said Mr. Painting, "I learned that in each of these schools there were Irish boys being trained, and it struck me as rather ridiculous that Irish boys should have to be sent over to England to be trained as sailors when they ought to be trained at home. We hope, however, that our new scheme will alter all that."

Mr. Painting added that he had received valuable assistance from the heads of the English schools that he visited, in particular from Lieutenant Heather, of Scarborough, who visited Dublin last year with a party of boys on the training ship Maisie Graham.

THE SCHEME.

The Marine preparatory course will be open to boys from 14 years of age who intend to go to sea. The aims will be (a) to continue the general education given in the National schools, and (b) to give some introduction to the main principles underlying the occupation. The boys will be trained in mathematics and navigation, seamanship, signalling and handicraft, including net-making and repairing, hitching and splicing, woodwork and metal work, caulking, and the use of sheaves and tackle.

The course will be of two years' duration, at the end of which students should go to sea and get practical experience, and when they have done four or six years at sea (according to whether they are at work on foreign or "home" ships) they can then return and take their mate's certificate.

In this connection it may be mentioned that the Board of Trade allow a certain time off "seagoing experience" if the students have attended a recognised school such as that about to be started at Arklow.

LIFEBOAT WORK.

In addition to the subjects named, Mr. Painting hopes to be able to train the students in lifeboat work and saving. This has been found to be one of the things that most aspirants for mates' certificates lack, and, as a matter of fact, many lives are lost at sea through lack of competency in the launching of lifeboats in times of emergency. In the regulations relating to examinations for mates, every candidate on presenting himself for his first certificate must produce a certificate of competency as a lifeboat man. It will be possible for the students at the Arklow Marine School to earn this certificate during their two years' course at school, and later they will be excused this portion of the examination when they are taking their mate's certificate.

Another important matter to which attention will be directed will be the teaching of knowledge about the "rule of the road" at sea. As Mr. Painting pointed out, there are very many collisions at sea due to the lack of knowledge of "rules of the road."

SCHOLARSHIPS.

In addition to the work in the Marine Preparatory School, provision is being made to hold evening classes at the Arklow Technical Schools, where sailors who wish to obtain their mate's certificates can attend classes in navigation, chart work, seamanship, signalling, etc.

In the first year the work will be more or less of an experimental nature, but if, as there is every reason to hope, success attends the work of the County Wicklow Technical Instruction Committee in their venture, it is expected that the Department of Education will found a scholarship scheme for twenty boys every year of £40 a year, which will enable boys to attend the school from all parts of the country.

At the moment provision is being made for a class of sixteen boys, and boys desirous of attending should apply to have their names entered at once. So widespread is the public interest in the scheme that Mr. Painting has received applications from the parents of boys living as far off as Westport.

School, the County Wicklow Technical Instruction Committee are also inaugurating this season a scheme for the training of ships' cooks—classes for which will be held at Wicklow and Arklow.

Classes will be held in Wicklow on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays every week, and in Arklow on Thursdays and Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Two hours will be devoted to actual cooking, a half-hour to setting out and waiting at table, and half an hour to cleaning up. Students will thus be trained, not only as ships' cooks, but as stewards. This class is also the first of its kind in the Free State, and the Board of Trade will recognise certificates of competency given to students who have satisfactorily completed the full course of training at the County Wicklow Nautical Training School for ships' cooks and passed the examination at the end of the course.

RECRUITING LABOUR IN THE UKRAINE.

THE TRAPPING OF PEASANTS.

FROM "THE TIMES" OWN CORRESPONDENT.
RIGA, Friday.

In consequence of complaints from the management of the Donetz coal mines, the Soviet Government in Ukraine and the Miners' Union, at the end of last week, summoned a joint conference to investigate the methods of recruiting labour in the Ukranian countryside for service in the mines. A representative of the Miners' Union stated that gangs, numbering 10,000 men, had already been recruited, and that the recruiting department had instructions to supply 50,000 labourers for the Donetz basin before the end of September, but the urgency and magnitude of the task had produced excesses, and the trapping of peasants by recruiting agents had become the order of the day.

After hearing a number of speeches, the conference placed on record that the reports about the trapping of labourers were regrettably true and widely practised: that the agricultural unions and the district authorities had received orders to supply contingents within a certain period, and they had collected the prescribed numbers absolutely without caring whom they recruited or how the recruits were collected; that "as a rule the agents did not tell the peasants whither they were being sent and for what reason"; that agents for the Golubovsky Mine "told the peasants that they were being sent to school and would immediately receive great supplies of industrial products on their arrival," and that agents who ran short of money induced peasants to pay for their own railway tickets, the peasants in some cases even selling their clothes to raise the necessary money.

ESCAPED PRISONER RECAPTURED.

DASH IN A STOLEN MOTOR CAR.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
ABBEVILLE, Friday.

A young man, who gave the name of Harris, and who, after having escaped from prison at Yvetot, stole a new motor car and made off in it, has now been recaptured by the police.

According to his own declaration, he is neither an American nor an Englishman, as he pretended to be, but a native of the Ardennes. The papers that he carried, establishing his identity as that of Henry Harris, were, he declared, forged.

The chase after his escape from prison was an exciting one. His petrol ran short. He filled up at a petrol station, and then started his car again before the astonished garage keeper could ask for payment. Driving his car in the direction of Abbeville, he finally abandoned it in the forest of Crecy, near the site of the famous battle.

He remained there for hours, unaware that the police were drawing a cordon round the district. He was eventually discovered and taken to Abbeville.

He refuses to make any further statement, except in the presence of counsel.

POLICEMAN AND WIFE DEAD.

DISCOVERY IN TORONTO.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
TORONTO, Friday.

The dead bodies of Police Constable Simon McIntosh, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and his wife were found to-day at the home of Mrs. McIntosh's parents here. Both bodies showed revolver wounds.

It is believed that after a quarrel McIntosh shot his wife, and then walking to the back of the house turned the revolver on himself, killing himself instantly.

CAIRO, Saturday.

Mr. Scullin, the Prime Minister of Australia, who is on his way to attend the Imperial Conference in London, is expected to arrive here by car from Suez to-morrow morning, accompanied by a party of friends.

spirit and discipline, now that the first panic is over.

THE POPE'S ANXIETY.

His Holiness the Pope was much distressed to hear the news of the eruption, and immediately offered prayers for the victims. He has asked the Secretary of State to keep him informed until a late hour to-night as to the details of the disaster and the number of victims.

It is believed that he will send Monsignor Chiapetti, who went as Papal Emissary to the earthquake zone, to enquire into the disaster and to organise spiritual and material relief.

MOUNT ASAMA ACTIVE.

THIRD ERUPTION THIS YEAR.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
TOKYO, Friday.

With a thunderous roar Mount Asama, which overlooks the popular summer resort of Karuizawa, burst into eruption at half-past nine this morning. The volcano threw out great showers of lava, pouring torrents of fire down the mountain side. The inhabitants for miles around fled in terror to safer districts. Up to the present one mountaineer is known to have been killed.

This is the third eruption of Mount Asama this summer. On the last occasion, which was on August 20, six Japanese climbers—four men and two women—were buried by the flow of lava.

THE DIFFICULTIES OF AUSTRALIA.

A LEAN TIME AHEAD.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
MELBOURNE, Friday.

The report of the Commonwealth Bank for the six months ended June 30 last says:—"Unpleasant as it may be, the fact has to be faced that Australia has in front of her a very lean time. Given the necessary effort and determination, there is no reason to anticipate the failure of Australia eventually to emancipate herself from her difficulties."

During the year ended June 30 a total amount of £26,500,000 in gold was shipped overseas; yet on June 30 the gold reserve held by the bank against its note issue amounted to 44.38 per cent.

It is expected that the directors of the bank will consider the wisdom of shipping more gold overseas at an early date for the purpose of building up its gold reserve abroad.

THE SUICIDE AT ST. PETER'S.

FUNERAL OF THE VICTIM.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
ROME, Friday.

The funeral of the man, Marcello Mitrati, who committed suicide yesterday by throwing himself from the dome of St. Peter's, took place to-day. After the remains had been blessed by the parish priest of the Vatican City they were conveyed to the Verano Cemetery, accompanied by the widow, with her three children, one of whom was an infant in arms. The woman informed the authorities that her husband had been twice in an asylum, and it was for this reason that the man was allowed Christian burial, as the interment of suicides in consecrated ground is not permitted.

ESPIONAGE SCANDAL IN BULGARIA.

LEGATION OFFICIAL INVOLVED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
VIENNA, Friday.

The Neue Freie Presse learns from Sofia that an official of the Yugoslav Legation there, as well as several Bulgarian officers and other persons, have been implicated in an espionage scandal, and that about twenty arrests have been made. The aim of the accused was, it is said, to be betray to Yugoslavia military and political secrets, including the plans of the Macedonian revolutionaries. The affair has created a great stir in the country and has embittered relations with Yugoslavia.

RIOTING IN PERU.

SIX KILLED AND MANY INJURED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
NEW YORK, Friday.

Six persons have been killed and many injured in a riot among copper miners at Cerro de Pasco, Peru, according to an Associated Press despatch from Lima.

It is reported that the rioters fired on the police when they attempted to disperse a disturbance.

Among the injured was Mr. George M. C. Quenn, a British subject, employed by the Cerro de Pasco Copper Corporation, an American concern.

Eventually order was restored by the troops.

IRAQ OIL AGREEMENT REPORT.

STATEMENT BY IRAQ PRIME MINISTER.

BAGHDAD, Friday.

With reference to the rumours current in London that an agreement had been reached between the Iraq Government and the Iraq Petroleum Company regarding the exploitation of the oilfields in the Mosul region, the Prime Minister, Nuri Pasha, to-day informed Reuter's Correspondent that the negotiations had not yet been concluded. He added: "When the final agreement is reached, it will be now on the basis of the open-door policy."

It was reported that the agreement provided for the annual payment by the company of £10,000 or £200,000, the oilfields of Iraq to be sealed for a number of years so as to keep up the standard of petrol prices.

SOVIET ACTIVITIES.

SWEDISH NEWSPAPER STATEMENTS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
STOCKHOLM, Friday.

Interesting comments are made by the evening papers here on the statements made in the legal proceedings at Helsingfors by M. Dmitriewsky, formerly Soviet Counsellor of Legation at Stockholm. He was recalled to Moscow some months ago, but refused to obey in somewhat sensational circumstances.

His statements that the Soviet commercial delegations at Stockholm and Berlin had arranged for the purchase, transport, and storing of arms for the Finnish Communists are confirmed by the Nya Dagligt Allehanda, which states that these facts had been known for some time here.

The arms, it says, were transported in the baggage of diplomatic couriers, and, consequently, it was impossible to stop them.

The Aftonbladet says that Stockholm is one of the principal points of transit for this transport of arms, many of the arms being stored for the needs of Swedish Bolsheviks in different parts of Sweden.

The paper adds that it would be a big mistake to believe that Sweden is being spared the more intense forms of "Red" propaganda.

STONES THROWN AT LEGATION.

ARRESTS IN PRAGUE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
PRAGUE, Friday.

Stones were thrown at the Italian Legation here to-day by a party of about ten young men who had spent the night in front of the building. Three of them were arrested by the police as they were running away. They declared that they were Communists.

A number of Czech Fascists held a meeting of protest last night against the executions of alleged terrorists at Trieste. After the meeting an attempt was made to hold demonstrations in the principal streets, and there was much singing and shouting.

The police dispersed the crowds, two persons being detained.

TRIAL OF SOVIET OFFICIAL.

MORE REVELATIONS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
HELSINGSFORS, Friday.

In to-day's proceedings in the trial of Erzinkian, the former Soviet commercial representative here, on a charge of having issued spurious bills, counsel for the accused read affidavits by eight former Soviet diplomats, revealing the strict control exercised by the Ogpu (secret police) over the Soviet Legations abroad.

These documents showed that the Ogpu take possession of all secret documents and of all receipts which officials receive for confidential transactions.

They also revealed extensive financial transactions for propaganda purposes in Sweden and Finland, and purchases by the Soviet trade delegations in Stockholm and Berlin of arms for the Finnish Bolsheviks.

RAISING THE SPANISH CENSORSHIP

AFTER SEVEN YEARS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
MADRID, Friday.

The decision of the Government to raise the censorship next week marks the preliminary of the opening of the electoral period, and furnishes a proof of the sincerity of the Government's desire to return to normal conditions.

The censorship has completed seven years of existence to-day, having been introduced on September 13th, 1923, on the occasion of Primo de Riviera's coup d'état.

The Prime Minister has announced that the censorship will not be replaced by any restrictive measure, but that the present law prohibiting the publication of articles of a defamatory character will be applied rigorously.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Just the life history of the individual or firm that bears it.

Look at the genuine photograph of two cheques above. Any Bank would give you a thousand pounds in exchange for one. No Bank would give you a brass farthing in exchange for the other. You have guessed the reason—the hidden names explain the difference.

Science Liquid Metal Polish bears a name which we are far too jealous to hide. We make no exaggerated claims, but the name is your guarantee for the time and thought that have gone to producing the best, and for the further time and thought that will go to maintain it.

AMERICA'S CUP RACE.

Shamrock V., evolved under this rule, and designed by Mr. C. E. Nicholson, measures 120 feet over all, 81.1 feet on water line, has 19.62 foot beam, and draws 14.66 feet of water. Her displacement is 134 tons, and she sets 7,600 square feet of canvas.

Enterprise, the defender, is the smallest of the four American built yachts. She was chosen as the all-rounder. She is reckoned to be a light weather ship. Her measurements are: Length over all 120 feet 9 inches, water line 80 feet, beam 21 feet 4 inches, draught of water 14 feet 5 inches. As to her sail area, she sets 7,580 square feet of canvas. Her displacement is 129 tons.

Comparisons between the two yachts means nothing at this stage, but it is worth noting that the challenger is slightly longer on the water line, has much less beam, and has a little more body. As regards sail area and draught, the two are nearly on an equality. In very light weather the defender should be the faster of the pair. In a breeze—well, when Shamrock V. puts her shoulder down to it, she can travel like a racehorse. We saw that in Dublin Bay at the Kingstown Regatta in June. It was in a haze off the Kish Lightship, and a puff struck her. Down she went to the rail—and couldn't she travel!

DECEPTIVE THINGS.

Still, yachts, like racehorses, are very deceptive things. They have their moods, their fancies, their likes and dislikes, and so forth. There never was a racing yacht which had not to be "tuned up" as the expression has it. Get one in her best balance, and what will she not do? Remember also that, like the case of racehorses, that races are lost and won by seconds. Had Captain Heard of Shamrock V. his will his cutter would have been sailing trials in American waters for months now instead of weeks. In this respect the defender, Enterprise, has a great pull over her, because of the exhaustive trials she has been through.

FAITH IN CHALLENGER.

Still, we have real faith in the challenger's chance. It is, we believe, a first-class one. The most confident crew, by the way, that ever the writer came across was that of Shamrock V. They had a great ship this time, they said, and they were going to win—make certain of that. This time there was going to be a contest between real sea-going racing yachts in open water, and they and their ship would take a lot of beating.

To-day should tell the tale, one way or the other. At the moment the odds are fifty-fifty. Nobody knows, or has any means of knowing, what the relative merits of the two yachts are. The first race tests two points of sailing—going to windward and running before the wind. If it be possible, they will be started on a beat. If not, the opening leg of 15 miles will be down-wind, the worst point of sailing for the Bermudan rig, which is common to both cutters. One lesson which the home trials of Shamrock V. brought out was that she was at her best on a beat to windward. Well, to-day will tell how she compares in this with Enterprise, and let us hope that she will be as good in American waters as she was on the coasts of the British Isles.

COMPARISON OF RIVAL CREWS.

PROFESSIONAL VERSUS AMATEUR.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND, Friday.

When the Shamrock meets the Enterprise it will be a case of a professional against an amateur, as far as the skippers are concerned. This will apply not only to the sailing of the yachts, but also to the navigation of them. Ten years ago, the last time the America's Cup was raced for, amateurs were at the helm of both the contesting boats. C. F. Adams, now Secretary to the Navy, skippered the Resolute, the defender, and W. P. Burton was at the wheel of the Shamrock IV. In all the previous America's Cup races the boats have been skippered by professionals. Harold S. Vanderbilt, a member of an American family, whose family name is synonymous with vast wealth and financial power, is, of course, an amateur. Against him as helmsman of the Shamrock V. will be C. E. Heard, although C. E. N. Nicholson, the designer, may have her wheel at times.

It would be a nice problem to compare the abilities of Messrs. Vanderbilt and Heard. Both started as boys on the water, and have been wind-jamming all their lives. Mr. Vanderbilt knows boats from keel up, and has had, perhaps, more actual racing experience than Mr. Heard, who went through the professional mill—a seaman's mate. In recent years, with a master's licence, Mr. Heard has made rapid strides in racing. On the Shamrock as navigator he will have Captain William Paul, who laid her course across the Atlantic. He is an experienced British sea captain. The same position in the Enterprise will be held by Starling Burgess, her designer.

TIME-KEEPING.

Keeping time aboard the ships will be two amateurs, Winthrop Waldrich (Enterprise) and Colonel D. F. Neill (Shamrock). Mr. Aldrich is the manager of the Enterprise syndicate. When not yachting he is one of the country's leading bankers. Colonel Neill, Sir Thomas Lipton's yachting representative, has sailed on all the Shamrocks, and on the challenger Thistle as far back as 1887. Herman Schoyt, one of the most experienced skippers in the country, particularly of small boats, will be on the Enterprise. His job will be to set her headsails—an all-important one on a yacht defending the Cup. Also on the Enterprise will be Charles "Bubbles" Havemeyer, relieving Mr. Vanderbilt at the wheel when the racer is in an off wind.

For the last sixty years American skippers have generally outclassed the British, both in skill and strategy. In only five races have the margins of victory been narrow, while only three single contests have been won by the challengers.

NO "PRIME DONNE."

On the British boats of the past the crews have usually been mobilised from skippers from the Clyde, Solent, and other yachting centres of Britain. They represented a wealth of experience, but when it came to team work it was a case of too many cooks or too many stars. This time Mr. Heard has gathered a different kind of crew, collected from younger men, many of whom have sailed with him in English racing yachts of late years. He is their master, and there are no prime donne among them.

The Enterprise's crew has been gathered by G. H. Monsell, of Greenport. Her professional master is probably superior to any that has sailed a Cup defender since the days when Charles Barr, the famed professional, steered two defenders to victory, three decades ago. They are a husky lot, mostly Scandinavians, who saw service as fishermen and in commercial sailing before they went yachting. They have all had a thorough experience of racing.

EVENLY MATCHED.

There is a growing belief among naval experts of this island that the two boats are so evenly matches that the strategy and tactics of the rival crews will be the factors that will determine the difference between victory and defeat. In spite of the known astuteness of Mr. Nicholson, designer of the Shamrock, and possessor of one of the greatest yachting brains that the game has known, there are many who think that the American board of strategy is superior to that of its challenger from across the seas.

HISTORY OF THE CUP IN BRIEF.

ORIGIN OF THE CONTEST.

1851—The schooner yacht America, 170 tons, wins a cup in a Royal Yacht Squadron race round the Isle of Wight, defeating seven schooners and eight cutters.

1857—The surviving owners of the yacht America presented this cup to the New York Yacht Club as a Perpetual Challenge Cup for friendly competition between the U.S.A. and the yachts of foreign nations.

1870—FIRST CHALLENGE.

Mr. James Ashbury, R. Thames Y.C., with the schooner Cambria, 193 tons.

A fleet of N.Y.Y.C. schooners, 17 in all, defended. Race was won by Mr. F. Osgood's centre-board yacht Magic. Cambria lost her foretopmast and finished tenth. The famous America was fourth.

1871—SECOND CHALLENGE.

Mr. James Ashbury, R. Harwick Y.C., with the schooner Livonia, 273 tons.

Mr. F. Osgood's c.b. schooner Columbia, 220 tons, and Mr. W. Douglas's keel schooner Sappho were named as Defenders.

First trial—Columbia beat Livonia by 27 m.
Second trial—Columbia beat Livonia by 10½ m.
Third trial—Livonia beat Columbia by 15 m.
Fourth trial—Sappho beat Livonia by 33 m.
Fifth trial—Sappho beat Livonia by 25 m. and retained the cup.

1876—THIRD CHALLENGE.

Major C. Gifford, Vice-Com., R. Canadian Y.C., with the schooner Countess of Dufferin, 140 tons.

It was agreed by the N.Y.Y.C. that one yacht Madeleine of 152 tons, owned by Mr. J. S. Dickerson, Com., Brooklyn Y.C., was chosen. The best of three races decided the issue.

First trial—Madeleine beat Countess of Dufferin by 11 m.
Second trial—Madeleine won by 27¼ m. and held the cup.

1881—FOURTH CHALLENGE.

Captain Cuthbert, Bay of Quinte (Lake Ontario) Y.C., with the Atlanta, sloop, of 84 tons.

For the first time the N.Y.Y.C. held eliminating trials to select a Defender, and eventually named Mr. J. B. Busk's centreboard sloop Mischief, of 79 tons.

First trial—Mischief won by 28½ m.
Second trial—Mischief won by nearly 39 m. and held the cup.

1885—FIFTH CHALLENGE.

Sir Richard Sutton, Bart., R. Yacht Squadron, with Genesta, cut., 85 tons.

Mr. J. M. Forbes, c.b. sloop Puritan, of 84 tons, was named as the Defender by the N.Y.Y.C.

First trial—Puritan won by 16 1-3 mins.
Second trial—Puritan won by 1 m. 38 secs. and retained the cup.

1886—SIXTH CHALLENGE.

Lieut. W. Henn, R.N., R. Northern Y.C., with the cutter Galatea, 87 tons.

The Defender was Gen. C. Paine's c.b. cutter Mayflower of 87 tons.

First trial—Mayflower won by over 12 m.
Second trial—Mayflower won by over 29 m. and held the cup.

1887—SEVENTH CHALLENGE.

Mr. James Bell, Vice-Com., R. Clyde Y.C. (and a syndicate of Scottish yatchsmen) with the cutter Thistle, of 89 tons.

The Defender was the c.b. sloop Volunteer, of 86 tons, owned by Gen. C. Paine.

First trial—Volunteer won by 19 m. 23 secs.
Second trial—Volunteer won by 11 m. 49 secs. and held the cup.

1893—EIGHTH CHALLENGE.

The Earl of Dunraven, R. Yacht Squadron, with the cutter Valkyrie II., of 93 rating.

No less than five yachts were built to defend, and, after searching trials, Messrs. Iselin and Morgan's c.b. sloop, Vigilant, of 96 rating, was named as the official champion.

First trial—Vigilant won by 5 m. 48 secs.
Second trial—Vigilant won by 10 m. 35 secs.
Third trial—Vigilant won by 40 secs.

1895—NINTH CHALLENGE.

The Earl of Dunraven, R.Y.S., with the cutter, Valkyrie III. of 101½ rating.

Only one yacht was built to defend, viz., Messrs. Iselin and Morgan's keel sloop, Defender, of 100 tons, and she was chosen as the American champion. This challenge was memorable for the heated controversies the races gave rise to.

First trial—Defender won by 8 m. 49 secs.
Second trial—Valkyrie III. won by 47 secs., but was disqualified on protest by Defender.
Third trial—Defender sailed over, Valkyrie III retiring after crossing the starting line.

1899—TENTH CHALLENGE.

Sir Thomas Lipton, Bart., R. Ulster Y.C., with Shamrock, cutter, of 102 rating.

The Columbia cutter of 102 tons was the only yacht built to defend—she was designed by W. Herreshoff, who was responsible for the lines of the Vigilant and Defender also—and was to the order of Mr. J. Pierpoint Morgan and Mr. Iselin. Tried against the old Defender she did well, and was named as the official Defender of the Cup. It was agreed that the best of five races would decide the issue.

First trial—Columbia won by 10 m. 8 secs.
Second trial—Columbia won; Shamrock carried away her topmast and did not finish.
Third trial—Columbia won by 6 m. 34 secs., and held the Cup.

1901—ELEVENTH CHALLENGE.

Sir Thomas Lipton, R. Ulster Y.C., with Shamrock II., cutter of 104 rating.

Shamrock I. had been designed by Mr. W. Fife and built by Messrs. Thorneycroft. Shamrock II. was designed by Mr. G. L. Watson, and built by Denny's of Dumbarton.

Two possible Defenders were built, viz., Constitution (Herreshoff) and Independence (Crowninshield). The latter was a failure. In the eliminating trials the relatively old Columbia proved the better ship, and, being a more consistent boat, was selected as the official Defender.

First trial—Columbia won by 1 m. 20 secs.
Second trial—Columbia won by 3 m. 35 secs.
Third trial—Columbia won by 41 secs.

1903—TWELFTH CHALLENGE.

Sir Thomas Lipton, R.U.Y.C., with Shamrock III., of 100 rating.

The challenger went back to Mr. W. Fife for the design of the third Shamrock. A syndicate with such powerful names behind it as Vanderbilt, Rockfeller and Gary, had the cutter, Reliance, of 108 tons, designed by Herreshoff as a possible Defender, and, after trials between her and Columbia, she was named as the chosen champion.

First trial—Reliance won by 7 m. 3 secs.
Second trial—Reliance won by 1 m. 19 secs.
Third trial—Reliance won and so held the Cup; Shamrock III. ran into thick fog and gave up.

1920—THIRTEENTH CHALLENGE.

Sir Thomas Lipton, R.U.Y.C., with Shamrock IV., cutter, of 93.8 rating. The challenge was issued on April, 1914.

The task of designing the new Shamrock was given to Mr. C. E. Nicholson. Three cutters were built in the United States to defend, viz., Resolute (Herreshoff), Vanitie (Gardner) and Defiance (Owen). Thirteen trials were sailed and Resolute had won 7, Vanitie 4 (the others were abortive), when the outbreak of war in Europe brought all thought of sport to a sudden ending. Shamrock IV. was on the passage across the Atlantic when hostilities had commenced, and, on arrival, she was laid up until 1920. In the latter year Resolute was chosen as the official Defender.

First trial—Shamrock IV. won; Resolute carried away her gaff and had to give up.
Second trial—Shamrock IV. won by 2 m. 26 secs.
Third trial—Resolute won by 7 m. 1 sec.
Fourth trial—Resolute won by 9 m. 58 secs.
Fifth trial—Resolute won by 19 m. 45 secs. and held the Cup.

THE CUP RACE.

The Daily Telegraph to-day, commenting on the America's Cup race, says:—It is in the nature of the contest that the Americans must hold an advantage. Nevertheless, Shamrock V. has a better chance of bringing us back the Cup than any of her predecessors. That her victory would make for keener and better sport in yacht-racing is hardly to be denied. That it would bring the two nations into closer association is obvious. That it would be a splendid and cheery reward to a veteran of good sportsmanship is not the poorest reason for desiring it.

The News Chronicle to-day says:—Sir Thomas Lipton deserves our gratitude for his patriotic resolution to vindicate British skill and resource in design and British seamanship. Our good wishes go with him in his latest, and probably his last, stern quest of the elusive prize. If Shamrock V. should take the real measure of her rival and race home first, there will be no happier man in the world than Shamrock's gloriously obstinate owner.

BRITISH GOODS IN AMERICA.

ENGLISH DEPUTATION TO PRESIDENT HOOVER.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
WASHINGTON, Friday.

Representatives of the Co-operative Wholesale Society of England informed President Hoover to-day that unless the American market for British goods was left open through moderate tariffs the American market abroad would be endangered.

The delegation was introduced to the President by Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador, and Mr. H. L. Bodman, President of New York Produce Exchange.

The visitors informed the President that of recent years an enormous political pressure had been placed on British merchants to buy Empire goods, and that this pressure might possibly affect the purchase of American produce unless a market for British manufactured products was assured.

DUTCH AIR PILOTS' STRIKE.

WORK TO BE RESUMED ON MONDAY.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
THE HAGUE, Friday.

The strike of pilots of the Royal Dutch Air Lines, which broke out at the end of last month, in connection with questions of pay and conditions of service, will come to an end on Monday next, when work is to be resumed on the conditions prevailing before the outbreak of the strike, the administration of the company having agreed to reinstate all the pilots who have been out on strike. The company has also offered satisfactory prospects concerning conditions of work and privileges. A commission is to be appointed for the purpose of elaborating a new scheme in regard to the rights and positions of pilots.

REFUSED TO GO HOME.

A RUSSIAN OFFICIAL OUTLAWED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
MOSCOW, Friday.

The Supreme Court of the U.S.S.R. has outlawed, on a charge of treason, the engineer, Vassili Delgas, who was employed in the New York office of the Soviet Chemical Construction Trust, and who refused to return to Russia.

According to the Tass Agency, Delgas was a representative of the Oil Syndicate in London from 1924 to 1928, and in the latter year was transferred to America. There, it is stated, he entered into close personal relations with American firms trading with Russia, and on August 4 last submitted his resignation in writing, adding that he was determined to remain in the United States.

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSE HEAVY.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.
NEW YORK, Friday.

Following an irregular opening, early movements were uncertain. Most leaders advanced temporarily, but the rally was used to market stocks. Professional operations later converged upon Public Utilities, several Merchandisings, Food shares and Miscellaneous Manufacturing issues, a long list advancing from 1 to 3 points. Professionals were inclined to interpret the increase in brokers' loans for the week more bullishly than otherwise, as it seemed to indicate increased public participation. The advance in Public Utilities was accompanied by renewed rumours of a big merger by Electric bond and share interests, while Merchandising stocks were helped by predictions of improved earnings during autumn and winter. August copper statistics were again unsatisfactory, while Farm Implement shares were unfavourably affected by the heaviness in wheat. In late trading realising cancelled or reduced the earlier gains. Active selling and aggressive bear attacks featured the final dealings, and the market closed heavy. U.S. Steel, General Electric, Vanadium, American Waterworks and American Power and Light sagged moderately, and Westinghouse Electric, Worthington Pump, American Telephone and Telegraph, American Can, Union Pacific, Consolidated Gas and Radio Corporation lost from 1 to 2 points. Government Bonds quiet. Railroad Bonds steady. The day's sales totalled 1,901,000 shares.

Money on call closed steady at 2½ per cent. bid and 2¾ per cent. asked. All business during the day was again concluded at 2½ per cent. Sterling exchange easy. Silver ⅝c. up at 36⅝.

WINNIPEG GRAINS.

WHEAT opened easy, 1¼c. to 1c. lower, on reports stating that the rains in Western Canada failed to interfere with harvesting operations, together with a decline on the Buenos Aires market. Further easiness developed, influenced by reports that Australia were pressing sales to Europe at low prices owing to the excellent new crop prospects there, coupled with heavy country marketings. Later a better export business in Manitoba wheats caused partial recoveries, but the closing was barely steady at losses of 1⅛c. to 1¼c. Opening options—Oct., 81; Dec., 83¾; May, 90⅛. NEW YORK COTTON.

COTTON opened steady and 3 to 2 points lower [illegible], and values early declined on less favourable Liverpool cables and Wall street and Southern selling. The small estimate of 357,000 bales for domestic consumption during August, together with liquidation of October and December old contracts further depressed the market, which closed barely steady, with old contracts 26 to 33 points and new deliveries 19 to 21 points lower. Spot quiet at 25 points loss. At New Orleans futures opened 3 to 2 points down, and closed at 20 to 23 points loss. Spot declined 20 points.

CHICAGO MARKETS

CHICAGO, Friday.

WHEAT opened easy at 1⅛c. to ⅛c. loss, and was further depressed by poor cable advices, continued aggressive hedging liquidations, and stop-loss selling. Reports of further Russian offerings afloat and a report of cheaper re-sale offerings abroad also were bearish factors; but the market recovered partially on bullish crop advices from Italy. The closing was barely steady at 1⅛c. to ⅞c. reduction.

£18,000 FRAUD CHARGE.

CORRIGAN IN THE WITNESS BOX.

The evidence for the prosecution was almost completed when the trial of Michael Dennis Corrigan (45), engineer, was resumed before Judge Gregory, K.C., at the Old Bailey, London, yesterday. Corrigan pleaded not guilty to a charge of fraudulently converting £18,000 entrusted to him to buy oil shares by Mr. Cannon, Mr. Noad, and Mrs. Harrold. It was alleged that he had posed as an "oil king," with a salary of £56,000 a year.

Mr. G. B. McClure prosecuted, and Mr. J. P. Eddy defended.

Mr. Derek Dakeyne Cannon, managing director of a company, said that he was introduced to Corrigan by Miss Harrold at a party at the Savoy Hotel in May, 1928. Corrigan said that, as Mr. Cannon was a friend of his wife, he would like to do him a service and let him have some shares at a very cheap price. At the time he thought that Corrigan was married to Miss Harrold.

Mr. Cannon said that he gave Corrigan £4,900 in all.

"A GAMBLE."

"Eventually," he said, "I saw a report of a libel action which led me to believe that Corrigan was not married to Miss Harrold. I immediately appreciated that everything was not right, and I caused a search in the Bankruptcy Court. I asked him for my money back, telling him that I considered I had got into wrong hands."

Mr. Cannon agreed, in cross-examination, that there had been an agreement between him and Corrigan that they should share in the profits, estimated at £185,000, by jointly putting up £11,000.

Mr. Eddy (defending)—For £11,000 you and Corrigan, if things went right, were to get £185,000. Is not that a gamble?

Mr. Cannon—It is more than that, if you put it that way.

BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS.

Evidence was given that Corrigan was adjudicated bankrupt in 1923 in the name of Cassidy. The bankruptcy was annulled in 1927 on the payment in full of the liabilities amounting to £21,000. In 1929 he was again adjudicated bankrupt in the name of Michael Corrigan, and had not surrendered to these proceedings.

At the conclusion of the evidence Mr. Eddy submitted that there was no evidence to go to the jury with regard to the £4,000 alleged to have been entrusted by Mr. Cannon to Corrigan.

Judge Gregory said that in due course he should tell the jury that there was not sufficient evidence in regard to that.

Opening the case for the defence, Mr. Eddy said that until that prosecution no one had ever alleged that Corrigan had ever done anything dishonest. Corrigan was an Irishman, an illegitimate son, formerly known as Cassidy. His mother's name was Corrigan. He was in Mexico off and on from 1905 until 1914. In 1912 he, in association with four other men, discovered valuable oil-yielding properties in Yucatan. He had a real interest in these properties, and throughout he had, in fact, something to sell.

CORRIGAN'S EVIDENCE.

Corrigan, in the witness box, said that from 1905 to 1914 he was in Mexico. He and four other men named Kelly, Rorke, O'Shaughnessy and Moss were engaged in prospecting, mining and political activities. They discovered in Yucatan an oil-bearing area and deposits of pitch-blende. He estimated the value of the Yucatan properties at about thirty million dollars. In 1925 they succeeded in getting documents conferring rights to work the properties, and they then tried to raise capital to get machinery into Yucatan. He approached Mr. Rogers of the Standard Oil Co., and it was agreed that if reports were satisfactory a new company should be formed, of which he (Corrigan) was to be managing director or president. Mr. Rogers told him that if the engineers' reports were "O.K." they were to receive something in the vicinity of thirty million dollars.

"He gave me two sums of five thousand and one sum of ten thousand dollars at various times," said Corrigan.

WORRIED OVER BILLS.

Corrigan denied that he told Mrs. Harrold that he was with the Standard Oil Company and had an income of £56,000 a year. He told her that he was in the oil business and owned racehorses. He obtained loans from Mrs. Harrold because his horses had been losing, and he was worried over different bills. There was no question of buying shares. He told her she would get a substantial profit, and she replied that that suited her. While in Cannes in 1928 he paid forty thousand to fifty thousand francs on behalf of Mrs. Harrold.

Corrigan had not finished his evidence in chief when the trial was adjourned until Monday.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE

BROWN JACK'S CUP.

A RUN OF LUCK.

BURGEE WINS AT 10 TO 1.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.

DONCASTER, Friday Night.

The last day of the Doncaster Meeting is always a quiet one, and this afternoon was no exception to the rule. The weather was fairly good, and though there were a few drops no rain to speak of fell. In all this season I have not seen such an ovation given to a horse as that which fell to Sir Harold Wernher's Brown Jack when he won the Doncaster Cup by five lengths from Lady Helen McCalmont's Empire Builder, with Lord Rosebery's Annis two lengths behind, third. Seeing that he was carrying 9st. 11lb., and that the going was very dead, it was a fine performance, not so much in point of what he actually did, but in the attractive style in which he did it.

Ivor Anthony had also entered Lady Zia Wernher's Mail Fist, whose task, as in the Goodwood Cup, was that of pacemaker. Again he did his job excellently well. He went along at a good pace, Brown Jack always lying up second to him. In the straight Mail Fist quietly faded away, and then Brown Jack went on. Neither Empire Builder nor anything else could make the slightest impression on him, and he won without having had the semblance of a hard race.

So much has been written in this column from time to time about Brown Jack that there is nothing fresh to say. The opinion was expressed here some time ago that this son of Jackdaw is the best all-round horse in the world, and there is nothing to withdraw from that. A full sister to him was offered this week here, but she was not sold, and she has been leased to Mr. D. Macnee, the Lambourn trainer.

A FAVOURITE WINS.

The first race of the afternoon, the Danum Selling Nursery, was won by the favourite, Sir William Cooke's colt by Papyrus out of Ulster Queen. He beat Silver Sound by a length and a half, and was then sold for 560 gns. to Lord Allendale.

Lord Glanely's run of luck was continued when he won the Park Hill Stakes with Glorious Devon. This filly was not quite so good a favourite as Quinine, who failed to stay the course. Wedding Favour made the pace a very strong one. She led the field all the way, and was still well clear as they entered the straight. Three furlongs from home the others began to close with her. Good stayer as she is, she has only the one pace, and Glorious Devon came on and beat her by a length and a half. Silver Mount was third a length away, but she only just beat the Sansovino filly, Micmac, out of a place.

LORD GLANELY'S SUCCESSES.

There has been no stopping Lord Glanely and his trainer, Captain Hogg, at this meeting, and the stable proceeded to win the last race, the Town Moor Handicap, with Burgee, who beat Umslopagaas by a length. Burgee was hurdling last winter, and in the course of the spring and summer he won four races in succession, making light of his penalties. This son of Blue Ensign was a 10 to 1 chance here, and he won with a bit in hand. Barrack Law finished third, beaten two lengths by Umslopagaas.

Major Moloney's stable won the Prince of Wales's Nursery with St. Koscie, a gelding. For upwards of six furlongs there was nothing much between him and Mister Isaacs. The latter appeared to be holding a narrow lead, but he began to tire some way from home, and the principal source of danger at the finish was Lord Beatty's Pomme D'Argent, who ran the winner to a neck. Pinchin was third, beaten by three-parts of a length, and Poor Dolly was fourth. Lady Haine, who was a hot favourite, seemed to fail to stay out the mile in the severe going.

There were only three runners for the last race of the meeting, the Doncaster Stakes. Pommame made all the running, and withstood a late challenge from Termite by a neck.

SELECTIONS.

The racing to-morrow is of minor importance. At Alexandra Park, the Hampstead Nursery may be won by HUSSY. PICTORALAS, who has run well on the course before, should take the September Handicap, and CAP-A-PIE may win the Muswell Plate. At Ripon, FIREAWAY should win the Curfew Plate, and CARDINAL may be good enough to take the Wakeman Nursery.

PHŒNIX PARK TO-DAY.

GOOD FIELD FOR MAHER PLATE.

SWILLY ROCK'S CHANCE.

To-day's meeting at the Phœnix Park is the second last of the season at this conveniently situated venue. Despite the rumours of the various ailments from which horses at the Curragh and at other training quarters are suffering, the declared runners point to there being good-sized fields for the majority of races.

The Maher Plate for two-year-olds is the centrepiece of the programme, and the eleven runners include some of the best of our first season horses. The reappearance of Swilly Rock, after an absence from the track since the spring, will be of exceptional interest. Mr. J. W. Fullerton's filly started off the season by winning in most convincing style the first two-year-old race of the season at the Naas March meeting, beating on that occasion many subsequent winners, such as Betty Fay, Film Fan, Ca-Too-Sa, Pappa Parts, Marlhill's Star, Rosaleen's Lyric and Lass of Rheims. She will meet strong opposition to-day from such as Broadway Joe, Carey Denis, Cravat, Glass Gift and Watch On, but if she can reproduce her form of the early part of the season she should win this race. The selection is and for a place investment Broadway Joe is suggested. Selections for other races:—

Santry Handicap—Knockmark.
Slane Handicap—River Thames.

ALEXANDRA PARK TO-DAY:

OLD HERKIE MAY WIN.

AUCTION POOL FOR MUSWELL PLATE.

An enjoyable afternoon's sport is promised at Alexandra Park to-day, where fields will be of good strength. The September Handicap is the feature of the card, and for this O'Curry has been sent. His form does not give him much of a chance, but it should be remembered that he was third in the Two Thousand Guineas two years ago, and thus has some pretensions to class. Pictoralis has top weight, but is sure to run well, and a repetition of his York form may be good enough. Friar Wile has not had a race this season, but is reported to be very well just now, while favourable mention may also be made, of Yutrill, who is a winner over the course. Carl's Caress is running into form, and Financier was not disgraced when beaten at Catterick Bridge last month. Garnock, Miss Linn, Old Herkie and Observer comprise a likely group to provide the winner, and most of my news is in favour of Old Herkie. He found Hindustan and Princess Galahad too good for him at Hurst Park, but now has a chance to make amends. Garnock and Miss Linn both have to concede him weight, but Observer has a pull of 11lb. and will be difficult to beat. I shall, however, rely on Old Herkie.

The Muswell Plate is not easy to deal with, although the field will not be big. Frank Butters has Cap-a-Pie and Halloween engaged, and M. Hartigan can choose between Law Suit and Saint Reynard. I should hesitate before opposing either Law Suit or Cap-a-Pie if I knew they were certain runners, but in the circumstances the best policy may be to vote for Auction Pool.

The Hampstead Nursery will attract only moderate animals, of whom Roubinky filly is well spoken of. Pretty Missie gelding has winning form, and Careful Sailor ran well enough last time out to have a reasonable chance of success here. If Monday takes his chance he must be my selection, and only in his absence would I take sides with Hussy.

POLO.

BRITISH PLAYERS IN THE AMERICAN "OPEN."

NEW YORK, Friday.

Although defeated in their quest of the Westchester Cup, the British polo players are not abandoning their struggle for American polo honours, and are all participating in the American Open Championship, which begins at Meadow Brook to-morrow. The Anglo-Argentine player, Lewis Lacey, riding at No. 3, will head a combination known as Templeton, with the brothers Raymond and Winston Guest No. 1 and No. 2 respectively, and H. P. Guinness at back.

Eric Pedley, who scored nine goals in the second match against the British team, Captain C. T. I. Roark, and Bobby Strawbridge will play for Laddie Sanford's Hurricanes. Roark, of course, is at No. 3.

The opening game in the championship will be between Lacey's team and the Greentree four, composed of Pete Bostwick, Elmer Boesske, Tommy Hitchcock, and John H. Whitney.

The British string of ponies, numbering eighty-four all told, will be sold at a public auction to-day and to-morrow, also thirty-five of the American mounts. Among the British ponies to be sold are Lacey's prized mount, Lady Luck, and White Slave, which carried Captain Roark so successfully in the Cup matches.

ALL-IRELAND CLUB.

The A.I.P.C. will to-day bring the season to a close with the following match for the Social Clubs' Cup at 4.30:—

Dublin Clubs—Major Kirkwood, Mr. J. J. Durack, Mr. M. Arnott, Mr. F. J. Lillis.

A.I.P.C.—Mr. C. Balding, Mr. J. P. A. Larminie, Mr. R. H. Usher, Mr. J. Magrath.

Practice to follow.

ATHLETICS.

MUNSTER INTER-COUNTY CONTEST AT ENNIS.

The most important sports fixture in the South of Ireland will be staged at Ennis to-morrow, when athletes and cyclists from Counties Cork, Tipperary, Clare, Kerry and Limerick will compete for the handsome Duhallow Cup, presented through the Cork County Board to the Munster Council N.A. and C.A. by the late Mr. William Lenehan, of Belvelly and New York, as a perpetual challenge cup for annual competition between Munster county teams. The cup was presented as a compliment to Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan on winning the Olympic hammer-throwing event, and most appropriately was first won in the contests at Killarney last year by the County Cork team, captained by Dr. O'Callaghan.

The Cork team scored 28 points, being hard pressed by Tipperary with 27 points, Clare with 24 points, and Kerry with 21 points. Limerick and Waterford teams also took part. This year Waterford is not represented, but all other five counties have entered strong teams. The teams include holders of twelve or more of the 1930 National Championships and four of the 1929 and previous years. A special train leaves Kingsbridge at 9.15 a.m. on the morning of the contests, and special train services have also been arranged from Limerick and West Clare stations.

RUGBY.

PRACTICE GAMES TO-DAY.

The season 1930-31 opens this afternoon with the usual club practice games, and, judging from accounts to hand from club secretaries, there will be no shortage of players, but of what calibre we are left to form our own conclusions. There were indications last season that the majority of our international players had just come to the end of their football careers, and but for the fact that we had no young players to fill their places they would have been dropped. What last season taught is that, with the exception of the eight or ten forwards who represented the country, many of whom were just beyond their prime, the standard of forwards was distinctly moderate. It was also apparent that we were still without a worthy successor to W. E. Crawford at full back. So it is with hope more than with confidence we enter on the season now about to open, and certain it is that it is in a younger brigade of players that we must pin our faith in the coming international games.

The practice games which start to-day may bring into the limelight some new talent. Not all the clubs will be ready for a beginning, but by next Saturday all will be in full swing. At Lansdowne road both Wanderers and Lansdowne hope to have big musters. Bective Rangers and Palmerston also start to-day, and Dublin University will have two practices in the College Park, one for seniors and one for juniors, for which teams have been selected. The Old Belvedere Club has been restarted, and, with a ground at Ballymun, will, for the first season at any rate, remain in the junior ranks.

RIPON.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS

For the Autumn Handicap at Ripon to-day F. Armstrong, who has scratched Pilgrim's Belle, can be represented by Maplebeck. Lanson, I understand, has been sent on from Doncaster, but, with the exception of Laird, he has to give away a stone all round, and his task appears too difficult. If Bucks Maiden is sent she would probably be good enough, while another Newmarket-trained animal in Flying Call would not lack support. Cyzara, Abelard and Petard seem the best of the others, but my vote goes to Halalie, whose recent form will bear inspection.

Old Friend appears to have an easy task in the Curfew Plate, and in the Wakeman Nursery I give Motor Boat a slight preference over Rocketter and Sharia.

BOXING.

McLARNIN'S DEFEAT OF AL SINGER.

NEW YORK, Thursday.

McLarnin's triumph over Al Singer, the world's light-weight champion, here last night was complete, in that he fought a well-conditioned and clever boxer, and won decisively, whereas Singer's recent triumph over Mandell for the title was not so satisfactory, because it is the general belief that Mandell was not in the pink of condition.

The first round went to Singer. The pace never slackened in the second round, which was much more even, McLarnin frequently sending Singer against the ropes with a terrific onslaught of lefts and rights. The round ended with both fighters going hammer and tongs in the centre of the ring.

HOW THE END CAME.

At the bell both commenced a furious onslaught in which the champion unquestionably landed many more effective blows than McLarnin. The pace was fast and furious, and never for a moment did the fight lack action. McLarnin put everything he knew into his attack, forcing Singer to protect himself and back away repeatedly.

At length McLarnin got Singer in a neutral corner in the third round, and fired a battery of stinging blows at his head. He staggered him with a terrific left, followed by a volley of punches which sent the champion to the floor. Singer rolled over and held his head as he struggled to regain his senses while the timekeeper tolled nine.

The crowd screamed to Singer to get up, and others were dancing with excitement at McLarnin's unexpected success. Singer struggled to his feet while McLarnin, believing that he had already won, turned two cartwheels and pranced about until the referee ordered him to proceed with the bout.

McLarnin then sailed into the champion, driving him across the ring, bombarding him with blows. Singer dropped, not to rise.

Singer weighed 9st. 9½lb. and McLarnin 10st.

JEFF DICKSON'S PLANS.

FIGHTS FOR CARNERA, KID BERG AND AL BROWN.

PARIS, Friday.

Mr. Jeff Dickson, who has been impressed by the progress that Carnera has made in the United States, has signed the Italian for two fights in Europe during the forthcoming season. The first will take place in Italy against an opponent not yet named, and the second will be staged in either London or Paris, probably with Paolino Uzcudun as the Italian's challenger.

Mr. Dickson has also arranged for Al Brown, the recognised holder of the world's bantam-weight title, to meet the Frenchman, Eugen Huat, in Paris on October 4, in a title contest, and he has booked Kid Berg to fight Al Foreman in London early in November, to be followed by Berg's appearance in Paris a fortnight later.

CUB-HUNTING.

SEASON OPENED IN KILKENNY.

The Kilkenny Hunt, of which Major Dermot McCalmont, Mount Juliet, Thomastown, is Master, has opened the cub-hunting season. Cub-hunting will be continued on four days of each week until November 3, when the hunting season proper opens. Foxes are plentiful, and there are welcome indications that the approaching season will be one of the most successful in the history of the Kilkenny Hunt.

SUTTON WINS THE FINAL.

A GOOD MATCH WON BY 4 AND 3.

COSTLY MISTAKES BY FIDDIAN.

The thirty-six holes final for the Irish Open Amateur Championship resulted, yesterday, at Portmarnock, in a victory for William Sutton, of the Timperley Club, Manchester, Douglas Fiddian, of Stourbridge, being beaten by 4 and 3.

Fiddian lost the match at the first two holes in the morning by taking five for the first and six for the second. Had he not received such a bad shaking to begin with, he might have won the title, but whatever chance he had after finishing the round 2 down he lost by losing the first hole of the second round and being almost stymied at the eleventh.

As the match was played, however, the championship went to the more finished golfer. Sutton is not a player of exceptional length from the tees, but he is not short with the wood, and is a finished iron player. His short shots were also much better judged than those of Fiddian, whose chipping from just off the green left something to be desired, while, at several holes, his high pitches with a deep-faced mashie left him often short.

Sutton, with his typical Hoylake swing, was rarely off the fairway, and his shots to the green being of lower trajectory than those of his opponent more often than not placed him within holing distance, while his putting was remarkably sound. As a matter of fact, accurate putting by both featured the match, and it was well for Fiddian that he was on such good terms with his putter.

Perhaps, it was a fortunate circumstance for Sutton that the wind was not strong and that he did not have too much of it blowing from the right. He plays all his strokes with a decided "cut," and, while he gained the advantage when the breeze came across from the left, he lost distance when it was from the other direction. But, taken on the whole, his golf was the more convincing, and he won the match well and on his merits.

EXCELLENT PUTTING SAVES FIDDIAN.

For a final, the golf all round was not at all bad. Sutton was round in the forenoon in 79, against 80. In the evening he reached the turn in 39, Fiddian taking the same number; and, for the last six holes they were 25 each.

Fiddian made very few putting mistakes; but, if he did fail with an occasional holeable one, he made up for it by ramming down a number of lengthy ones. After losing the first two holes and following a stymie at the third, he required three on the fourth green, but he got down an eight-yarder at the eleventh (he turned 2 down) for the hole, and, playing the fifteenth, was but one behind.

His tee shot there dropped on the hill, on the far right-hand side, and though he played a good shot to the green he left himself too much to do with the other man not far beyond the hole from the drive. He thus lost the hole to stand two down. The three following holes were halved, but, though Fiddian played a good shot from the bunker to the right of the seventeenth, he was extremely fortunate to halve the hole by means of a stymie, which he laid with his putt.

They went to lunch with Sutton leading by two holes, an advantage which he improved on at the first on the second round, Fiddian pushing his second into the rough. From that to the ninth it was a fine match, Fiddian holing long distance putts for halves at the third, fourth, fifth and sixth; but he was too strong at the seventh with his chip from the edge of the green, and became four down.

Playing a lovely running approach up to the flag at the eighth, he won the hole in three, and a great putt to the ninth made further inroads on the other's lead. But just when it seemed to be going in his favour he hooked his drive to the tenth. Sutton also found the rough just over the bank, but they played splendid pitches, to halve the hole in fours.

Fiddian was almost stymied at the eleventh, and did not get his putt for the half in four, and, following divides at the twelfth and thirteenth, Fiddian clean topped his drive to the fourteenth, and, though he played a magnificent brassey to the green for his third, he lost the hole to a four, and Sutton became dormy four, the match finishing on the fifteenth green.

The prizes were presented by the Governor-General of the Free State, who said that it was almost thirty years since he realised what an excellent place Portmarnock was to play thoroughly bad golf at. It was a great pleasure to him to accept the invitation to present the prizes, and to help in assuring the competitors, especially those from the other countries, that Portmarnock was a place to which sportsmen would always be welcome.

FINAL (36 HOLES).

W. Sutton (Timperley) beat D. A. Fiddian (Stourbridge)—4 and 3.

TITLE FOR IRISH GIRL.

MISS DORAN'S SUCCESS ON THE NINETEENTH GREEN.

The Girls' Championship was yesterday won by Miss Pauline Doran (North Surrey), who in the final at Stoke Poges beat Miss Wilkins (Chigwell) on the nineteenth green.

The new champion is an Irish girl, daughter of a well-known Irish medical man, with an extensive practice in the Horsley district.

There was little in the match until Miss Doran won the 7th to square. From that stage she was generally on top. She became 1 up at the 8th, and led by 2 holes at the 12th. Miss Wilkins, however, was not finished. She won the 14th and 15th holes to get on terms, Miss Doran being bunkered at each. It was not long, however, before Miss Doran was in the lead again. She was dormie 1, and had the match within her grasp when faced with a short putt on the last green for the game. Her ball lipped the hole, and Miss Wilkins won the hole to square. The end came at the 19th. Miss Wilkins's run-up was woefully weak, and then she missed the next putt. Miss Doran easily won the hole, and thus the match and championship.

Special Law put up a good performance in winning the Munster Plate of 600 yards, while Our Bill and Bankrupt Stock jumped well in winning their respective hurdle events. Details:—

R. AND S.P.U. SPORTS.

Under the presidency of Mr. J. M. Irwin, Irish Traffic Manager of the L.M. and S.R. Company, the annual sports of the Railway and Steam Packet Union will be held at Park avenue, Sandymount, to-day, commencing at 2.30 p.m. As in previous years, the chief event will be the great international railway relay race. A. Rose Taylor, ex-English champion half-mile and quarter, will be in the London team. He will be opposed by H. H. Hedges, Manchester team, straight from his participation in the Empire Games at Ontario. Another prominent man is J. G. Griffiths, North Wales (mile and half-mile champion). Included in the Irish team we have E. Hale (ex-half-mile Irish champion), R. T. Bryan, and I. Holden, the latter having performed the "hat trick" at the last Tramway Sports. There will be an Army gymnastic display, under the direction of Major Doogan.

At the conclusion of the sports a dance will be held in the pavilion, and Miss Peggy Tisdall's Band will supply the music.

DONCASTER SALES.

WEEK'S TOTAL 183,715 GNS.

4,100 GUINEAS FOR TETRATEMA COLT.

CONCLUDING DAY.

The Doncaster yearling sales were concluded yesterday, and came to a satisfactory end, the morning's lots realising 29,070 guineas. The grand total for the week was 183,715 guineas, compared with 288,705 guineas last year. This drop, though big, should not be taken as a slump. As a member of the firm of Tattersall told our representative, the few years previous, when big prices were realised, were boom years, and it is not the right perspective to take them as a guide. It was simply a case of returning to normal.

The first to cause any interest was one of Mr. L. Ward's lots. This was a neatly-made Blandford colt, dam by Spearmint, for which Major Sneyd went to 820 guineas. Major Beatty took a Spion Kop filly, from Dormouse, at 660 guineas. In Mr. H. S. Carroll's contingent was an attractive filly by Yutoi or Stratford out of Canossa, which Mr. A. B. Holland bought for 450 guineas. The following lot was a colt by Tetratema out of Argil, and Mr. P. W. Carr obtained possession at 1,500 guineas.

When the Cloghran Stud batch came up Mr. M. Vasey bought a Prince Galahad colt from Canvey at 400 guineas, at which figure the Anglo-Irish Bloodstock Agency took the Stratford colt out of Vesington Comet.

There was more animation when Mr. E. Bellany's Irish-bred yearlings were offered. A sharp and neatly-made colt by Buchan out of Mellowness tempted Mrs. Fitzgerald to go to 1,750 guineas, and at 50 guineas less Captain Boyd-Rochfort purchased the Tetratema filly from White Folly. The last of the batch, a colt by Buchan out of Mother Superior, was knocked down to Basil Jarvis for 580 guineas.

KEEN COMPETITION.

The Yeomanstown Stud batch brought many prospective buyers into competition, and J. Jarvis had to go to 1,800 guineas before taking the colt by Spion Kop out of Laragh. The bidding was much keener for the succeeding lot, a good-looking colt by Blandford from Orofast. The auctioneer had no difficulty in getting bids, and Major Sneyd had to go to 2,000 guineas to beat off the opposition.

Among the Knockany Stud group was a shapely colt by Beresford from Punkah, tracing to Land League, which, at 500 guineas, went to Mr. H. S. Persse. There was general interest in the Bulger filly out of Portree, dam of the Champagne Stakes winner, Portlaw. G. Hartigan secured her for 1,500 guineas.

The first of the Confey Stud contingent was a grand-looking colt by Buchan out of Confey by Polymelus, and Mr. H. S. Persse secured him at 1,350 guineas. A Spion Kop colt from Dorval fell to Captain Montagu for 830 guineas, but the next, a colt by Tetratema out of Rathcarron by Lemberg, caused a much bigger flutter before F. Darling obtained him for 4,100 guineas.

The last lots to be submitted were those belonging to Mr. E. F. Barry, for the first of which, a colt by Sherwood Starr out of Queenstown, Sir E. Hanmer paid 1,350 guineas. The next and last to find a buyer was a colt by Ethnarch out of Chicken Pie, for whom M. Vasey paid 900 guineas.

CHESS.

THE IRISH CHAMPIONSHIP.

Our Chess Correspondent writes:—This year's contest for the championship of Ireland was considered at a meeting this week, and October 8 was selected as the opening date, subject to the convenience of the Munster representative. Ulster will be represented by Mr. J. J. O'Hanlon and Leinster by Mr. J. T. Gerrard, the present Leinster champion. Mr. J. Creevey will be the most formidable competitor from Munster.

ARMSTRONG CUP.

Several expressions of impatience have reached me in regard to the backward state of last season's Armstrong contest. The final match in the junior section is not yet completed, and no date has been fixed for its resumption. The winner in this has afterwards to meet University College, and not until this further contest has been decided will it be possible to know what clubs will compose the junior and the senior section in the coming competition. All these arrears have got to be cleared away before the programme for 1930-31 can be drawn up.

AUSTRALIANS' TOUR ENDS.

LATER BATSMEN COLLAPSE.

RHODES AND PARKER IN FORM.

The Australians brought their tour to an end at Scarborough yesterday, when they drew their match with Leveson-Gower's XI. The tourists entered upon the concluding stage of their final match in a very strong position, but in the second over Kippax was bowled. His partnership with Bradman had produced 113 runs. Kippax played a delightful innings, which included a drive for 6 and six 4's. Bradman and McCabe put on 48 in thirty-five minutes, but following Bradman's departure at 214, Rhodes and Parker bowled to such purpose that the next five wickets went down in thirty-five minutes for 24 runs, and with Oldfield, owing to a damaged finger, unable to bat, the innings was all over in four hours for 238.

Yesterday seven batsmen were dismissed in seventy-five minutes for 75 runs, Rhodes getting three wickets for 27 and Parker three for 34. Bradman, fourth out at 214, batted for two hours and a half, hitting seven 4's, and narrowly missed what would have been his twelfth hundred. While much of his cricket was excellent, he might have been out first ball. He gave two chances on Thursday, and yesterday experienced the luckiest of escapes from being run out. Playing a ball towards short leg, he dashed half way down the pitch, and should have been out many yards. Sandham, however, was slow and did not field cleanly, while, to cap matters, Duckworth ran towards Sandham, and so was not at the wicket to take what would have been the easiest of chances. Australia's lead amounted to only 20, and play subsequently rather lacked importance. Leveson-Gower's team batted for two hours and forty minutes and put together a score of 247. Earlier in the day McCabe had completed his 1,000 runs.

In all matches P. M. Hornibrook has taken 103 wickets.

RHODES RETIRES.

CAREER OF THE FAMOUS ALL-ROUNDER.

Yesterday marked the last appearance of Wilfred Rhodes in first class cricket. The famous Yorkshire all-rounder announced his retirement from the game some months ago when accepting a post as coach at Harrow School. Thus ends a wonderful career, which has extended over 32 years, during which time Rhodes has scored nearly 40,000 runs, and taken about 4,200 wickets. He has been to Australia four times, and taken part in 41 test matches against Australia, while, with Hobbs, he shares in a test match record for England's first wicket against Australia—323—at Melbourne in 1911-12. Curiously enough, Rhodes also holds with R. E. Foster the last wicket record in this series of matches—130 at Sydney in 1903-04.

Rhodes first earned fame in 1898 as a slow left-hand bowler, but developed his batting to such an extent that he rose from No. 11 in the batting list to No. 1. He holds the record of having accomplished the "cricketer's double of 1,000 runs and 100 wickets in a season sixteen times, and has 58 three-figure innings to his credit.

Successive leaders of the Yorkshire eleven have often sought the advice of Rhodes on the field of play, and recognition of his great knowledge of the game came in 1926 when he was co-opted on the Test Match Selection Committee—an honour that was continued last season.

Rhodes has had ample experience in coaching, and during the past four winters fulfilled an engagement of this nature in India with the Maharajah of Patiala. Born at Kirkheaton on October 29, 1877, he is in 53rd year.

DRAW AT FOLKESTONE.

The Folkestone festival ended dismally yesterday, not a ball being bowled owing to rain, and the match between Gentlemen and Players had to be left drawn, the Players with one wicket to fall being 116 runs ahead. The abandonment of cricket robbed Boyes of his opportunity of making his first hundred in first-class cricket. All things considered his 93 not out was the best innings played on Thursday.

GAELIC GAMES.

VISIT OF LONDON IRISH TEAMS.

Between the first and fourth Sundays in September—when the hurling and football senior finals are played—intervening dates are occupied with Junior and Minor fixtures. Increasing interest amongst Irish circles in Britain was reflected in the good football which beat Armagh in last year's semi-final. The London-Irish team failed before Westmeath in the final; yet their progress continued, and strong teams travel this evening to meet Mayo and Galway at Croke Park. Last year Lancashire were best in hurling. They had called up Liverpool and Manchester Irishmen, making a useful group of hurlers. Against Cork's second string they put up such a good struggle that their victors—London—this year travel with confidence. They meet Galway in the first Interprovincial series. Latest information leads me to suggest a good game at Croke Park to-morrow afternoon.

London meet Mayo in football. Mayo won against Leitrim and Roscommon, but London may create a surprise once more.

An effort will be made to bring the Junior and Minor championships to a finish before winter sets in. The National League programme, broken by the championship matches, will carry interest on to the new year, though it is feared that pitches will be difficult before either competition is closed. Croke Park teams:—

LAWN TENNIS.

DEFEAT OF TILDEN.

IN SEMI-FINAL OF U.S. SINGLES.

THE VETERAN UNLUCKY.

FOREST HILLS, Friday.

A good crowd assembled here this afternoon to see the last four Americans, which included the great "Bill" Tilden, do battle in the semi-finals for the men's singles championships.

A surprise was in store; for Tilden suffered defeat at the hands of John Doeg, who took the first two sets, lost the third, and, after a terrific battle in the fourth set, won it at 12-10.

This is the second occasion on which Tilden has been beaten in America since his return from Europe.

Tilden's defeat came after a gruelling battle, which was fraught with misfortune for the veteran. Early in the match "Big Bill" slipped and fell flat on his face. When he got up he was limping and rubbing his leg, obviously in pain. It was amid scenes of the wildest excitement that the long reign of Tilden, who has been seven times champion, ended before the all-conquering racquet of the brawny giant, with a service even more formidable than his own.

Yesterday Tilden was concerned in an unfortunate incident, when he had an exchange of words with one of the officials. Instead of being ready to take the courts at the scheduled hour, Tilden was discovered sitting in the stand watching the Doeg-Hunter battle. When requested to change in order to take the courts, he refused till the Doeg match was over, and only changed his mind when told to change or default.

SEMI-FINAL RESULTS.

Frank X. Shields (U.S.) beat Sidney S. Wood (U.S.)—6-2, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

John Doeg (U.S.) beat W. T. Tilden (U.S.)—10-8, 6-3, 3-6, 12-10.

CALLAN TOURNAMENT FINALS.

Men's Doubles—Colonel W. M. Butler and T. Hughes beat H. Burden and A. J. Burden.

Mixed Doubles—G. C. Clery and Miss L. O'Kelly-Lynch beat H. Burden and Miss E. Bennett.

Ladies' Doubles—The Misses Heffernan beat Mrs. R. W. Pilsworth and Miss S. McEvoy.

POISONED SWEETS MYSTERY.

POLICE AND BOX OF POWDER.

A box containing about half a hundredweight of powder was taken charge of yesterday afternoon by the police, who are investigating The Potteries poisoned sweets mystery. The premises from which the powder was taken had been used for industrial purposes.

Samples of the powder were taken and analysed by Dr. Allan Wortherspoon, Medical Officer of Health, Stoke-on-Trent. Dr. Wortherspoon would not disclose the result of his examination.

"I may be able to tell you something to-morrow," he told a Press Association reporter last night. "Most of the twenty-nine bottles of sweets which were still unaccounted for have been traced. Only about half a dozen are still outstanding, and, by to-morrow, we shall either have got all of them in or, at least, notified the people concerned. What we did was to notify first thing this morning the medical officers of the districts where the sweets were sent.

"We have discovered that in some districts, curiously enough, the sweets have been entirely consumed without their being any mishap.

THE NEW BRIGHTON REPORT.

"I am doubtful about the New Brighton outbreak. There, you see, of twenty-four children who ate the sweets only nineteen were taken ill; and, in other outbreaks, if one child was ill, all of them were."

The St. Barnabas Home children are expected to be well enough to attend school on Monday. The sweets were given to them by Mr. Hugh Winstanley, of Knutsford, Cheshire, who is a member of the Committee of the Home.

Mr. Winstanley took the sweets to the Home on Wednesday. He states that he bought them at a refreshment room at Liverpool. It was his custom to take sweets to the children, and the ones which he bought on Wednesday were boiled and sugar-coated. All the children affected were girls, and they were all taken ill within the space of a quarter of an hour.

CASE AT SHREWSBURY.

The Stoke-on-Trent Health Department was informed yesterday afternoon of a case of illness, at Shrewsbury, attributed to eating sweets supplied by a Burslem factory on August 22nd.

The Press Association's Hanley Correspondent says that it is possible that inquiries will be made in America before the origin of the arsenic is cleared up.

WRECKED SHIP DRAMA.

CREW CLINGING TO THE RIGGING.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

HONG KONG, Friday.

A tragic drama is taking place in the Hainan Straits, where the eighteen members of the crew of a Japanese fishing trawler, the Ibukimaru, which struck a reef yesterday, have taken to the rigging in a desperate attempt to save their lives. A French coasting steamer picked up their S.O.S. and rushed to the scene, but was unable to take off the crew owing to the very rough weather. Two Japanese trawlers are proceeding to the place at full speed from Hong Kong.

A later message states that the Ibukimaru is breaking up, and that huge waves are breaking over the trawler, and that all hope of saving the crew has been abandoned.

FAMOUS CRICKETER'S DEATH.

INQUEST ON BODY OF MAJOR FAULKNER.

STORY OF DEPRESSION AND ILLNESS.

The inquest was opened at Fulham yesterday on the body of Major G. Aubrey Faulkner, D.S.O., the South African cricketer, who was found dead on Wednesday at his cricketing school in Farm lane, Walham Green, S.W. The verdict was "Suicide while of unsound mind."

Major Faulkner, who was 48 years of age, was one of the best all-round cricketers South Africa has ever produced, and, in addition, was regarded as one of the most capable coaches of the present time. He had played against both England and Australia in the Test matches. For some years he had resided in this country. He first conducted his cricket coaching school at Richmond, but later removed to Walham Green.

MILITARY SERVICE.

The widow, Mrs. Alice Faulkner, said that her husband was formerly a Major in the Worcestershire Regiment. At the time of his death he was managing director of the Faulkner School of Cricket, Farm road. He was a healthy man until last year, when he had an illness due to overwork, and two operations at the end of the year left him very depressed.

The Coroner (Mr. H. R. Oswald)—Was he a highly-strung and nervous man?—Yes. He was very temperamental.

Is it not rather unusual for a good cricketer to be like that?—Yes, very. When a man faces a crowd of people in a championship match he must have very strong nerves, I should think.

Was he always temperamental?—Yes. The operations left him in rather a morbid state of mind. He suffered from fits of depression.

Did you ever hear of him threatening to take his life?—Yes, I have heard him say that.

More than once?—Only once definitely.

Did he ever indicate in what way he would do it?—Yes, in exactly the same way as he did do it—by gas.

When the Coroner mentioned Major Faulkner's financial position the widow said that, apart from his ill-health and depression consequent on the operation—from which he had never really recovered—and his temperamental nature, she did not think he was in any difficulties. He was very run down, and might have taken things too seriously, feeling rather worried. He had no personal debts.

COMPANY PROSPEROUS.

At this point Mr. Leonard Hubbard, a solicitor representing the cricket school company, said that, as far as they knew at the moment, everything seemed to be in order. Mr. Hubbard added that Major Faulkner had taken sole responsibility for the company. The other directors had helped when legally necessary. Major Faulkner had, perhaps, become depressed. This had been added to by the close season coming on.

Mr. Oswald—The company was prospering?—Well, fairly. He had co-directors, Mr. Leveson-Gower and Colonel Philip Trevor. They are still directors.

Mrs. Faulkner said that she last saw her husband alive on Tuesday. She was assisting him with his office work, and he seemed fairly well. She was attending to some correspondence, and her husband went out about eleven o'clock in the morning. She did not think anything about it. He just went out and did not say anything. She left the office about 12.30. Her husband generally came home about seven o'clock in the evening, but when he did not return home for dinner she was not specially alarmed, as he often came in late. When he did not return all night she did not begin to get alarmed unduly. He had been out before when he had fits of depression; he liked to be alone. He would go out and would then get all right again. The fits came on suddenly. It was no use doing anything; he had to be alone. "I could not do anything," explained Mrs. Faulkner.

A LETTER AND A CHEQUE.

Mr. Ronald Mackenzie, the secretary of the school, said that Major Faulkner was a teetotaler, but a man of peculiar temperament, and used to have fits of depression. Witness thought that the Major was overworked, though, as far as he knew, there was no financial worry. He was quite cheerful when he last saw him at the office on Tuesday morning. On Wednesday morning about nine o'clock Mr. Mackenzie said, he went to his office, and found on the desk a note in Major Faulkner's handwriting and a cheque. The note, which was written on a sheet of paper torn from a writing pad, was handed to Mr. Mackenzie, who identified the signature.

Mr. Oswald, after going through the note, said that he would read only part of it. He then read:—"Dear Mackenzie,—I am off to another sphere via the small bat-drying room. Better call in a policeman to do the investigating." Mr. Oswald added—There are a few words attached about private matters, and it is signed "G. A. Faulkner."

GAS FIRE FULL ON.

Mr. Mackenzie said that, after finding the note, he went to the bat-drying room, and found Major Faulkner's body on the floor. The gas fire was turned fully on. Major Faulkner was lying face downwards.

Constable Horace Scott said that Major Faulkner's mouth was over one of the jets of the radiator. A cheque was found attached to the note in the office.

The Coroner—It is a cheque for £200. It was quite clear, he added, that Major Faulkner had killed himself. He (the Coroner) thought at first that the Major's action might have been due to financial worry; but the affairs of the company seemed to be quite flourishing, and, evidently, that was not what was troubling him. Major Faulkner was subject to fits of depression, and his mind seemed to have been unbalanced. His work was an additional strain on him. The verdict was as stated.

TONE AND COMMENT.

DUBLIN MARKET NEGLECTED.

GUINNESS BETTER.

The week-end market was largely devoid of orders or dealing yesterday, with the brokers reporting a continuance of stagnant conditions and no general disposition indicated for commitments to be extended at an early date. Government National 5 p.c. Loans were again favoured, while the 4½ p.c. Loan still shows a small premium at the current ex dividend quotation. Dublin Corporation 5 p.c. Loan further rose ¼ to 101. Banking securities were quiet. Bank Stock fell back further, and Nationals were sellers for choice at recent enhanced level. Royals were firm on the recent dividend statement. Munsters were rather harder at 6 1/32 bid. Considerable support was available for Guinness Ordinary and Preference Shares at higher prices in both cases. John Jameson and Son Debs. are still being absorbed, but only small lots change hands owing to the paucity of the supply. British and Irish Steam Pref. remain round 15s. 3d., and Grand Canal Ord. are still not on offer under a considerable advance on last business done level. Rails were largely stagnant. Great Southern Debs. were less firm, and the other issues appeared on sale also. Great Northern closed steady, but the Pref. was on offer. Dublin United Trams Shares were also supported at recent levels, while the "B" 3½ p.c. Debentures, although bid for at 54, the last marking, did not offer under 58. According to the terms of issue, this stock is set down as redeemable at par in 1939, or a little more than eight years hence. Last markings were bid for all classes of Parent Trust Shares. Alliance Gas Shares further hardened on the half-yearly report. Johnston Bakery Shares were wanted at higher levels. Arnott Pref., last marked 66s. 11d. x.d., were not on offer under 74s. Tobaccos were quiet. Coats and Courtaulds scarcely moved. Dunlop Rubbers did not hold the earlier rise brought about by the chairman's circular letter on the trade. Goulding Ord. were less firm, but the other issues of the company closed buyers. Dublin Artisans' Dwellings did not hold the recent smart advance. Irish-American Oil Pref. were good, and improved to 23s. 6d., a rise of 1s. a share. Newspaper Shares closed firm to strong. J. G. Mooney Pref. and Unilevers were buyers at higher prices.

LONDON IRREGULAR.

METROPOLITAN RAILS' SHARP RISE.

Interest remained on an extremely small scale in the majority of directions in the London Stock market, there being no inducement to increase commitments over the week-end, and, generally speaking, price movements made an irregular showing. Metropolitan Railway Consolidated Stock provided an outstanding feature of strength, and at the close showed an advance of no less than £5, as a result of buying on reports that some agreement is likely to be reached shortly with the Underground Railway. Amalgamation is suggested as likely between the two groups. Rubber shares were another firm market, and fresh substantial recoveries were effected, whilst South African gold shares attracted further support from the Cape.

Extremely quiet conditions characterised the gilt-edged market, and prices displayed an easier tendency. Foreign Government Stocks also experienced an extremely idle session, though, apart from Peruvian Corporations, which slipped back the turn, the final values were held at Thursday's levels. Apart from Metropolitan Consolidated, which are mentioned above, Home Rails remained quiet and without material alteration. Colonial and Foreign Rails strengthened the turn here and there, but generally the overnight quotations were repeated.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

CHAMBERLAIN, KING, AND JONES.—Interim dividend of 2½ per cent. on the Ordinary. (Same.)

ELECTRICAL FINANCE AND SECURITIES.—Interim dividend of 5 per cent., less tax, on the Ordinary Shares; against 4 per cent.

GODFREY PHILLIPS.—Interim dividend for the year ending 31st December, 1930, at the rate of 10 per cent. (5 per cent actual), less tax, on the Ord. shares, payable on 1st October, 1930. (Same.)

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORPORATION — Regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share.

KING LINE.—The directors of the King Line, of which Lord Kylsant is chairman, have decided, in view of the continued depression in the shipping industry, to defer the payment of a dividend on account of the year 1930, until the results of the full year's trading are available. For many years past the company has paid an interim dividend of 3 per cent, and a final of a similar amount. The issued capital is £500,000.

MOUNT MORGAN GOLD MINING CO. (in liquidation).—A fourth and final liquidation distribution of 10½d. per share, less exchange at £5 8 9 per cent., equals 9.929d. per share net.

PETROLEUM CORPORATION OF AMERICA.—Regular quarterly dividend of 37½ cents per share on capital stock.

OIL PRODUCTION.

Mexican Eagle Oil Company.—Production for the week ended 6th September, 1930, 226,000 barrels.

Official returns of 40 of the principal municipal tramway and omnibus undertakings in the United Kingdom, as compiled by "The Tramway and Railway World," for the week ended August 23rd give total receipts of £418,336, or £2,368 more than in the corresponding week of last year. The aggregate receipts for 21 weeks amounted to £8,869,976, an increase of £119,802 over the corresponding period of last year.

INDUSTRIAL MARKET.

DUNLOPS ACTIVE.

COLUMBIA "GRAPHS" SUPPORTED.

Week-end influences were apparent in the Industrial Market yesterday, where few outstanding movements were noticeable, although quotations were for the most part well maintained, having regard to the limited volume of trading. The official statement issued by the Dunlop Rubber Company regarding the present position of the plantation industry from the company's viewpoint was welcomed by dealers as evidence of the efficiency of the Dunlop organisation at a critical period, but the rally that at first took place was followed by renewed selling, and a loss of 4½d. was shown at the close.

Hydro-Electrics attracted moderate support among Internationals, and the shares were finally fractionally better at 39⅞. International Nickels slipped back ¼, as did Brazilian Tractions. Radio Corporation also lacked support, and receded a point to 43.

Among Cable Stocks, the Pref. were held at 81, while the "A" Ords. improved slightly to 29⅞, and the "B" to 16.

"Colgraphs" proved a firm market, and the shares finished ⅛ to the good at 3 13/16. Vocalions changed hands above 13s. at one time, and finished 1s. 1½d. higher on the day at 12s. 3d.

Electrical Equipments strengthened the turn, but the Supply shares showed little change. Quieter conditions characterised Motor Shares, but slightly firmer values resulted in several directions.

Among Iron and Steel, Babcock Wilcox hardened further to 55s. 9d., and Swan Hunters put on 6d. to 20s. 9d. Lamberts and Thornycrofts eased slightly.

Godfrey Phillips £1 Ord. finished with a gain of 6d. at 24s. 3d., and Carreras "A" and "B" came into request, the former stiffening to 7 3/16, while the latter hardened to 18s. 6d. "Bats" were finally without change, while "Imps" sagged to 4 13/16.

Guinness units found purchasers, and moved up 1s. to 102s. 6d., with Hoare Ords. firm at 65s. 9d., as were Brewers, of Vancouver at 5s. 3d. Bass, Ratcliff, however, were scaled down 1s. 3d. to 68s. 9d., with Ind Coopes levelled to 64s.

Home and Colonials and International Teas received supporting orders, both being eventually the turn better at 13s. 10½d. and 21s. 4½d., respectively, and Lovell and Christmas recovered 7½d. to 15s. Tate and Lyles at 42s. 6d., left off 6d. to the good. Unilevers proved quietly firm around the overnight levels.

Textiles and Rayons had a neglected appearance. Fine Spinners stiffened to 21s. 9d., and Celanese of America put on a modest fraction to 2⅞, but British Celanese eased to 8s. 9d.

King Line Ord. shares were a nominal market at 10s. to 15s., on the passing of the interim dividend. P. and O. Defd. were levelled to 45s., and Furness Withys lost 6d. to 33s. 6d. Insurance and Banks showed little movement.

In the Land and Investment group, Sudan Plantations came back 1/16 to 2 3/16. Among Cements, Associated Portlands moved up 6d. to 25s. 6d., and British Portlands 1/32.

In the Miscellaneous section, Imperial Chemicals came back 4½d. to 22s. 4½d., and the Defd. sagged to 6s. 7½d., other moderate recessions including Spillers at 21s. 9d., and United Molasses at 1 11/16. Kreuger and Toll at 27½, and Swedish Match at 15 3/16, both closed fractionally lower on the day.

RECENT ISSUE DEALINGS.

No quotable variations occurred in this section, where quiet absorption of Courage, Edmundson's Electricity Corporation, and Marks and Spencer Debs. was noticeable. Unilever new were maintained at 33s. 9d.

OIL SHARES QUIET.

Although a satisfactory tendency prevailed among the principal Oil shares for the greater part of yesterday dealers again reported a small volume of business. Shortly before the close an easier tendency developed, but prices hardened again in the "street," New York coming in a buyer of Royal Dutch and Shells. Paris was doing very little in the shares usually favoured by that centre. Consequently Mexican Eagles remained a quiet market. Canadian Eagles, however, were in fair demand, although they failed to hold an initial gain. Firmness continued to be displayed by Anglo-Ecuadorians, which were the best spot among Miscellaneous issues, a further advance resulting from the day's business.

RUBBER SHARES FIRMER.

Although the volume of business put through in the Rubber share market remained on an exceedingly small scale, firmer conditions again ruled, and at the end of the day some further substantial recoveries were recorded. Anglo-Dutch put on 1s. 3d. to 22s. 6d., and Grand Central closed 1s. harder to 11s. Rubber Trusts at 23s. were 1s. 9d. to the good. There were a number of other improvements of smaller denomination, whilst in only a couple or so instances were lower values returned as a result of the day's business. In the commodity market spot opened at 4 1/16d., but eased and finished at only 4d. per lb. October went from 4⅛d. to 4 1/16d. per lb., and other positions moved in similar fashion.

LONDON MINING MARKET IDLE.

TONE REMAINS VERY STEADY.

As was to be expected, owing to the approach of the week-end, business in the Mining Market yesterday was on a reduced scale, but considering the paucity of inquiries the tone kept very steady. Changes on balance showed a certain amount of irregularity, but in few cases were movements worthy of special comment. The Cape continued to support one or two shares, but to a less extent than formerly, and the Paris demand was also on a smaller scale. Price movements, however, favoured holders in the majority of instances. Dealers in the Northern Rhodesian section described yesterday as the quietest day for many months and as a consequence values at the close showed but little alteration. Diamonds were quiet, but quotations were well maintained. The price of tin fell to £134 5s. per ton. The share market remained in the doldrums, and price changes were few, and of an irregular character. The price of spelter weakened 1s. 3d. to £15 18s. 9d. per ton, and that for lead kept at £18 3s. 9d. per ton. Barriers presented a steady appearance, and a small inquiry for North Broken Hill was sufficient to cause a rise in the quotation. The downward trend in the price of copper reasserted itself, the quotation being 6s. 3d. down at £47 2s. 6d. per ton. The share values, however, were well held. In other directions silver shares were inclined to harden, as a result of a rise in the price of the metal. Buyers of 'Friscos also came forward, but no variation was recorded in the shares. El Oro were still being picked up, following the improved August return, and continued buying of Indian gold shares was reflected in the prices of Mysore and Nundydroog.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

KAFFIRS.

This week has witnessed a firmer market for South African gold shares, some of which have been bought on Cape account, favourable influences having been the Johannesburg consolidated report and the record gold output for August. Market dealers are prepared to see the rise in prices go further, especially in the case of some of the low-grade propositions. Yesterday there was a demand for Village Deep up to over 4s., as compared with business on Thursday at 3s. 6½d. This company sold its under-mining rights to the Robinson Deep for £337,500, and in connection with this arrangement 6s. per share in cash was returned to the shareholders. The present price, therefore, is for a share of 14s. nominal. It retained all its other assets, including freehold property and a large accumulation of dumps. It is thought the latter may prove to be valuable, especially if there is anything in the claims made on behalf of a new process for extracting gold from very low-grade ore. Because of this the shares are regarded as having possibilities. Luipaard's Vlei is another share that is favourably mentioned, and upon this property recent developments, as mentioned at the last annual meeting, have been encouraging. The shares are of 2s. each, and are at present quoted about 3s. 9d.

DUNHILL'S INTERIM.

The second interim dividend for the current year on the Ordinary shares of Alfred Dunhill, Ltd., pipe manufacturers and tobacco blenders, is again 10 per cent., free of tax, for the current year. For the whole of 1929 the distribution was 20 per cent., free of tax, and, assuming that this is repeated for 1930, the shares are an attractive investment at the current price of 1 13/16. This figure includes the interim payment just declared, allowing for which the yield is 10½ per cent. net, equal to fully 13½ per cent., less tax. For 1928 the net profit showed a reduction from about £73,300 to £48,200, but for the following year, 1929, there was a recovery to £50,690. During last year the shares at one time were quoted at a little over 3½, and even in 1930 the price has been 2 11/16.

BIG GOLD INFLUX.

No information is available as to the origin of the surplus of gold holding of £820,000 shown in the last Bank return, but it is believed in usually well-informed quarters that it was paid in by one of the clearing banks. On several previous occasions large amounts of sovereigns gradually collected by their branches were paid in to the Bank. The announcement made in the semi-annual report of the Commonwealth Bank of Australia as to the shipment of larger amounts of gold has created much interest in the market. It is believed that the amount to be shipped will be about £5,000,000. The weak trend in sterling continued yesterday, the dollar rate declining below 4.86. The franc moved sharply against us, and most other gold exchanges were also lower.

PRICES, TAILORS.

Prices, Tailors (1928), Ltd., who own a factory at Leeds and retail branches in London and throughout the country, record a further increase in earnings for the year to June 30 last. Trading profits for the period amounted to £106,450 as against £92,148, and the net figure of £63,575 compares with £34,881, after the allocation of £13,914 to the vendors under the terms of the sale agreement. For 1928/29 the Ordinary dividend was 7½ per cent. The rate for the past year has not been announced, but will be decided by the directors next week.

DALMUIR SHIPYARD.

It is learned officially that the closing down of William Beardmore and Co.'s Dalmuir shipyard does not in any way affect the business carried on at their Liverpool and Bootle establishments. These will be carried on as hitherto without any change whatever.

CABLES AND WIRELESS.

One of the best known firms in the London market has issued a booklet giving an exhaustive survey of Cables and Wireless, Ltd. Brokers can obtain copies for their clients in the usual manner.

GIALDINI TRIAL.

The trial of John Gialdini, who is accused of complicity in the Hatry frauds, is not expected to take place before some months. Judicial inquiry into the case is still proceeding in private in Milan. Gialdini has been in prison nearly six months.

PARANA'S RAILWAY.

It is announced by Parana Plantations that £375,000 out of the £400,000 6 per cent. Cumulative Participating Debentures, recently offered to shareholders at par, have been subscribed for and allotted, and that the company is therefore taking immediate steps to proceed with the extension of the railway to the Tibagy River on the lines indicated in the company's circular to shareholders of August 18.

TIN COMPANY CLOSING DOWN.

Owing to the depressed state of the Tin Metal market and the low prices obtainable for ore, the directors of Taiping Tin Dredging have decided to cease mining operations and close down the plant for six months. The Board considers it is necessary to conserve the company's assets, and stop producing tin at a loss or with little or no profit.

AIRCRAFT COMPANY'S BIG CONTRACT.

Orders for the supply of aeroplanes, at a total cost of £70,000, have been received by the De Havilland Aircraft Co., Ltd. All the machines will be Moths, and will be used by the British R.A.F. and the New Zealand and Chinese Air Forces for training and general service purposes. Eighty-three of the machines are for the R.A.F., eight, including one seaplane, for New Zealand, and ten for China. Chinese military and civil pilots are trained

SWEDISH MATCH.

The agreement granting to the Swedish Match Company the monopoly for the sale, manufacture, import and export of matches and lighters for a period of 30 years in the Republic of Guatemala, signed July 12, was duly approved by the Congress of Guatemala on August 19. In connection with this agreement the Government of Guatemala will make a bond issue of $2,500,000, carrying an interest of 7 per cent., to be amortised by means of a sinking fund during 30 years, and to be taken over by the Swedish Match Company or one of its affiliated companies at 90 per cent. of par. This issue is secured by the proceeds of the Guatemala real estate tax, and may be redeemed by the Government wholly or in part after the lapse of ten years.

THE MONEY MARKET

TREASURY BILL RATE UNCHANGED.

There was an abundance of credit seeking employment in Lombard street yesterday, as usual at the week-end. At the opening short loans were offered at 1½ per cent., and towards the close lenders found it difficult to place balances at 1¼ down to 1 per cent. Most of the old day-to-day money was renewed at 1½ per cent., and the seven-day loans went on at 2 per cent.

In the discount market business was quiet, and the tendency was not too firm, owing to the ease in money. The adverse movements in the exchanges had little effect. The general quotation for fine three months' bank bills was 2 1/16 to 2 3/32 per cent., while the "Hot" Treasuries were offered at 2 1/32 per cent. The banks took a few November bills at 2 1/16 per cent.

Applications were received at the Bank of England yesterday for £35,000,000 Treasury bills. Tenders dated Monday to Saturday next at £99 9s. 6d. get about 40 per cent. above in full. The average rate indicated is about 2 1/16 per cent.

Silver rose ⅛d. to 16⅞d. per ounce for both spot and forward delivery on Eastern buying. Gold was quoted ½d. higher at 85s. 0⅛d. per ounce fine.

At the Bank of England £19 in foreign gold coins was bought, and £250,000 in sovereigns previously set aside was released. On the other hand, £29,603 in bar gold was sold and £5,000 in sovereigns taken for export.

A small quantity—believed to be about £25,000—of Brazilian gold was available, and was taken for shipment to France. This gold represented the unrefined portion of Wednesday's arrival.

The outstanding feature of the Foreign Exchange market yesterday was the sharp appreciation of the dollar. The New York exchange, after touching 4.85 15/32, reacted, and the final rate was a fraction under 4.85 31/32. Canadian dollars were also firmer, the closing rate being 4.85¼, as compared with Thursday's close of 4.85½. Movements among the Continental exchanges were similarly adverse to sterling. The franc appreciated sharply by 5¼c. to 123.75½. The reichsmark closed at 20.40⅜ against 20.40¾, and the Dutch florin at 12.07½ against 12.07⅝. Argentine pesos reacted considerably, closing at 41 7/16 against 41⅝, but Rio was unchanged at 4 15/16.

KENTUCKY MILLIONS.

NEW MOVE BY LONDON CLAIMANTS.

"The Kentucky millions." These words spell magic in the ears of sixty-four men and women in England and America—men and women who claim that there is land in Kentucky worth millions of pounds which is theirs by right of birth.

Those of the claimants who live in England have deputed Mr. Alfred S. Williams, the head of the Williams' Press, Ltd. of New-Port (Mon.), who is taking an impersonal interest in their claim, to go over to Kentucky and investigate their position. Yesterday the London claimants—six women and two old men—met at the American Consulate in Cavendish square, to give a power of attorney authorising Mr. Williams to go to Kentucky on their behalf.

Mr. Williams told the story of the Kentucky millions while the claimants signed their names.

"Many years ago one Thomas Duckham left England to make his fortune in a foreign land. He died in Kentucky in 1853 with his ambition achieved, and left behind him brothers and sisters, whose descendants the present claimants say they are.

"Thomas Duckham acquired land in Kentucky and sold it, reserving the mineral rights, which have since become very valuable. It is said that the land is now worth something like £7,000,000.

"Up to now there are sixty-four claimants in America and this country, and the Kentucky Government have asked me to supply them with the names of the claimants."

LIVERPOOL.—WHEAT—The decline in Winnipeg and Chicago had already been discounted here, and forward deliveries of wheat showed a fair advance at the outset for distant months; then fluctuated moderately, but with a renewal of Russian offers prices gave way sharply under general liquidation, with moderate fluctuations, finishing at a heavy loss on the day, especially for October, late afternoon cables being discouraging. C.i.f. parcels wheat inactive, and prices more or less nominal, No. 2 Manitoba afloat selling at 31/3 per quarter being the only business reported. PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL.—BACON—In the weekly revision of prices at London Danish was reduced 8/- to 9/- and Swedish 8/- to 10/-, while at Manchester Danish showed 9/- decline and Swedish and Dutch 6/- to 7/- per cwt., past week's killings being slightly in excess of previous week. Continental price in consequence, showed a similar reduction. Danish quoted 82/- to 86/-, Swedish 76/- to 80/-, Dutch 74/- to 78/-, Irish 87/- to 91/-, and Canadian (bales) 78/- to 82/- per cwt., buyers operating cautiously. American, however, generally steady, though light-weights of bellies favour buyers, prices now ranging from 88/- to 93/- per cwt. HAMS quiet and easier at 88/- to 95/- for [illegible] cut and 105/- to 110/- for extra skinless. LARD on the spot partially 6d. dearer, American refined now 63/- to 64/-, and fairly active thereat. LONDON.—BUTTER—A better demand was experienced during the past week, and general tone of the market steadier, a certain amount of stock which was pressed for sale being cleared; Continental markets are firmer, Germany purchasing larger quantities of Danish, due probably to the expected increase in import duty later in the autumn. European production continues to decline, which should result in a better demand for Colonial descriptions, though stocks here are still rather heavy. SHOW OF SHEEP AT ATHENRY.

IMPROVEMENT IN QUALITY.

GALWAY, Friday.

The seventh annual Show of the Galway Sheepbreeders' Association, held at Athenry to-day, showed a considerable falling-off in the number of exhibits, there being in all 39 exhibits this year as compared with 79 last year. The quality of the animals was an improvement on previous years. The judges—Messrs. McCarthy, Department of Agriculture, Dublin, and Colohan, Ballyeither, Ballinasloe, as well as the auctioneer, Mr. O'Toole, Loughrea—were unanimous that there was a very noticeable improvement in the quality and breeding of the sheep, and that the Association was now well established. In this respect this year there was an innovation by the offering for sale of ewes, but the sales were slow and disappointing, few of the bids reaching the reserved price.

PRINCIPAL SALES.

The sales were rather slow and disappointing. Mr. O'Toole, auctioneer, Loughrea, sold a prize-winning ram for Mr. Taylor to the Agricultural Department, Athenry, for £12 15/-, and another to the Secretary of the Sheep Society Association, Mr. Crowe, for £7 5/-. The first-prize winning ram, in the wool section, the property of Mr. Taylor, also was sold to Mr. Rishwoorth, Ballymote, Tuam, for £9 15/-.

Other sales were:—Three years old ram, the property of Mr. Sice, to Mr. C. Kearns, Oranmore, for £6 15/-. Hogget ram from Department of Agriculture to Mr. C. C. Dignan, Sheriff, Ballinagard, Roscommon, for £7 5/-. Pen of ewes or hoggets for Department of Agriculture, £3 each, to Mr. John Heneghan, Derrydonnell. Other bids did not reach the reserve price.

A BORROWED LICENCE.

BRAY COURT SEQUEL TO A MOTOR COLLISION.

In the Bray District Court yesterday, Thomas J. Macken, "Seabank," Sandycove, County Dublin, was charged with driving a motor car recklessly, negligently, and to the danger of the public, whereby he collided with a horse-drawn vehicle owned by Mr. Roberts, Bray, and with fradulently using the driver's licence of James Fagan, Lower Drumcondra road, Dublin. Fagan was charged with fraudulently lending his driver's licence to Macken.

As there had been no charge against him up to this time, Macken was allowed off with a fine of £2 2s. and £1 costs, £1 for negligent driving, a further fine of £1 being imposed in respect of the matter of the licence. The case against Fagan was dismissed.
